FULLY FIFTY HURT IN CRASH OF TRAINS NEAR CLEVELAND

Second Section of New York Central Flyer Plunges Into First at Amherst, Ohio,

Crashes Into Wreckage a Few Minutes Later

Twenty-five Bodies Taken Out and More Known to Be in the Debris--Injured Rushed to Hospitals--Horror in Early Morning, Surpassing Even Mentor Wreck, Held Due to Dense Fog.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 29.—At least thirty persons were killed—the exact total may not be known until nightfall—and more than forty injured in the wreck early today of three of the New York Central's crack passenger trains, a mile west of Amherst, thirty-five miles west of Cleveland.

Twenty-five bodies had been taken out at noon and five more were known to be in the debris.

When the total of dead and injured is finally ascertained, the wreck will surpass, in its cost of life and limb, even the wreck of the Twentieth century limited at Mentor, in 1904 when the famous train piled into a freight on its second trip on the New York Chicago Twenty hour run.

Fog Obscures Signal.
Dense fog obscured the signal set by the first section of the east-bound Pittsburgh-Baltimore-Buffalo limited, causing another section of that train to crash into it. A short time later, before signal men could flag it the fast Twentieth Century limited, westbound, crashed into the wreckage which had piled upon the west-bound track.

Darkness Hampers Rescue.
Daylight had not yet appeared when the three trains piled up together. Farmers and villagers rushed to the assistance of the stricken passengers. The work of rescuing those pinned under the wreckage was hampered by the darkness, which was accentuated by the fog.

Ambulances, automobiles and all kinds of vehicles were rushed from Elyria and other points to the scene of the wreck. The little morgue at Amherst was soon filled with bodies of the dead. Most of the injured were conveyed to hospitals in Elyria.

The Twentieth Century proceeded on its way to Chicago. None of the passengers on this train was injured. All of the dead and injured were on train No. 86.

First Identified Body.
The first body taken from the wreckage to be identified was that of Rev. Gustav Walz, pastor of the First Hungarian Evangelical Lutheran church, Detroit. Rev. Walz lived at 53 Addison street, Detroit. Other identified dead are:

Walter B. Easton, 1200 Kirdum street, Philadelphia.

Frank Gallagher, 40 Hart street, Brooklyn.

Dora Rosenberg, 51 Egnes street, Toronto.

A. R. Habeltai, Hungarian theatrical manager, Cleveland.

B. E. Ash, mail transfer clerk, Olmstead Falls, Ohio.

J. H. Henry, Gallipolis, Ohio.

Malcolm Bennett, 3150 Beech street, Indiana Harbor, Ind.

Gyorgy Ojancs, Indianapolis.

Rosenwald, Indianapolis.

Injured in Hospital.

The following persons injured in the Amherst wreck, were at Memorial hospital, Elyria:

Louis Letkovitz, Cleveland.

Jacob Joseph, 415 Eighth street, Detroit.

Wilbur Mahoney, 1830 Fifth street, Toledo.

Alfred Tarca, 837 Leland avenue, Detroit.

Albert Keller, 5090 Lincoln avenue, Chicago.

Adolf Lawrence, Gary, Ind.

S. H. Don, Haverhill, Mass., left leg and face hurt.

John Kosmosh, 35, Homestead, Pa., leg broken.

Robert Wright, Imperial, Pa., back and head hurt.

R. D. Turner, Clark street, Elyria, fireman on section two of train No. 86; arm hurt.

H. Grounce, 733 North Aborn street, Chicago, marine engineer, bruised and cut about the body and legs.

W. A. Mann, 701 Brighton avenue, Toledo, face burned, right arm hurt and back ached.

G. Wessell, 1238 Jackson boulevard, Chicago, arms and legs hurt.

Abe Osman, Cleveland, bruised and hurt internally.

S. H. Bishop, 1537 West 63rd street, Chicago, fireman, legs hurt.

An unidentified woman, with her leg cut off, with initials "J. W. H." on her watch.

Four other unidentified women.

Pyrmmer.

Kubic.

Casmer.

Patterson.

Mrs. Jennie Haddas, Cleveland, died at Elyria Memorial hospital.

Ship First Shelled, Then Torpedoed, Say Affidavits

Washington, March 29.—The British horse ship Englishman was first shelled and then torpedoed by a German submarine according to affidavits made to representatives of the state department at Liverpool by three American survivors. Following the receipt of this information today officials said it seemed clear that the Englishman had been operating within the law in shelling and torpedoing the Englishman, if the vessel was fleeing to escape capture as is inferred by officials here from the dispatch.

The German government has been asked whether any of its submarines was concerned in the sinking of the Englishman or the damaging of the British channel steamer Sussex while that ship was carrying twenty-five American passengers. While it is indicated that the case of the Englishman may not lead to difficulties between the United States and Germany, if it is proved she was escaping, overnight dispatches to the state department from Dover seem, officials said, to bear out previous allegations that the Sussex was torpedoed. American consular representatives, it was said in the dispatches had secured from various survivors at Dover affidavits confirming those by survivors in France. The contents of the dispatches was not disclosed here but it was said that the affidavits were being forwarded by the officials who had gathered them.

The state department expects to receive from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin some time today or tonight the result of his inquiry at the German foreign office into the circumstances surrounding the sinking of the Sussex and the sinking of the Englishman. Upon the information contained in the ambassador's reply probably will depend the next step to be taken by the United States.

MEAGER WORD FROM PURSUIT

Pershing Gives Little Detail of the Chase for Bandit Villa.

TROOPERS MAY BE PRESSING CLOSELY

Carranza Forces Appear to Have Lost All Trace of Fleeing Brigand.

El Paso, Texas, March 29.—The hunt for Francisco Villa by the flying columns of the American cavalry continued relentlessly today, but from the meagerness of the official dispatches from Gen. Pershing's advanced base it was impossible to learn the position of the American troops and how far they were in the rear of the fleeing bandits.

Villa was last heard of heading southward toward the Tarahumara mountain country, his command driving their Mexican ponies at full speed and being closely pressed by the American troopers.

Carranza Men Lose Trace.
Commanders of the Carranza troops now in the Chihuahua region apparently have lost trace of Villa and his men. No report has been received by Mexican officials here for some time concerning the bandits' whereabouts.

Armed bands of Villa forces are reported in various parts of Chihuahua and in some numbers around Torreon, but they are operating independently of the main Villa command.

Plans Marauding Campaign.
Carranza officials in Juarez express their belief that Villa will try to establish a main base at some point after he has thrown the American cavalry off his trail and then recruit his command to one of large proportions from the bands roving about the southern Chihuahua district. Villa, the Carranza officials think, will then engage in a marauding campaign that would give the American and Carranza forces no end of trouble.

Army officers here do not believe Villa will ever make a stand and fight the American cavalry, but will continue in flight until he escapes or is cornered.

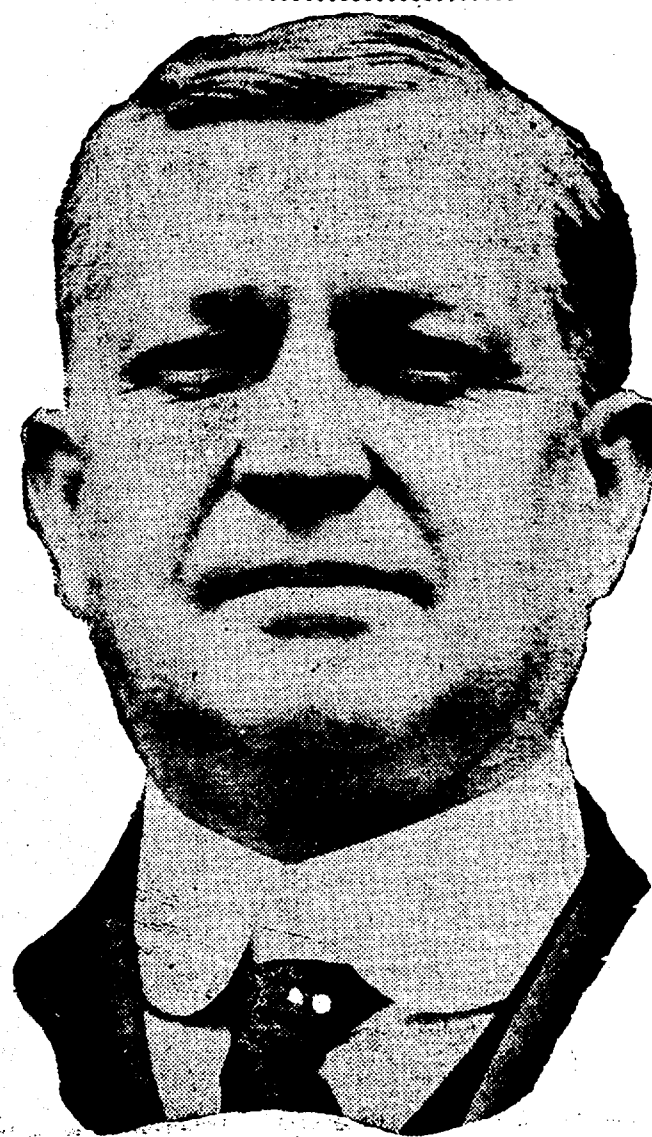

In the absence of any official news of the chase, the border has settled down to speculation, based on such slim facts as are brought back to the United States by American mining men and ranchers, who straggle in here.

Under Tremendous Handicap.
Americans familiar with Mexico are almost unanimous in their opinion that the troopers of the north, operating in an unfamiliar country and riding the corn fed horses on the plains are tremendously handicapped against the Mexican bandits on their mountain bred ponies. It is not a question of nerve or courage. It is a problem of climatic, topographic and other natural conditions against which the stoutest heart and strongest muscles are practically helpless.

An American rancher who is familiar with the country through which Villa is retreating, expressed the following view of the situation today: "I have known Francisco Villa for twenty years," he said. "For many years I

ROTARIANS SUBSCRIBE $6,500 FOR CENTENNIAL

The members of the Fort Wayne Rotary club at their regular weekly luncheon Wednesday noon subscribed $6,500 to the Centennial fund. This is the largest subscription that has been made so far by any organization. A. B. Barry, president of the Fort Wayne Box company, addressed the meeting, using as his subject the Rotary slogan, "He profits most who serves best." It was announced that at the monthly meeting to be held at the Anthony hotel next Wednesday evening Frank Herring, of South Bend, head of a big publishing business, will be the principal speaker, and twenty-five South Bend Rotarians will accompany him here.

RECRUITING STATION ACCEPTS FIFTH MAN

The fifth man was accepted at the local army recruiting station since its opening here in this city a week ago Wednesday morning. William R. Durbin, of Fort Wayne, applied a few days ago and was accepted this morning when Captain John J. Miller, of Toledo, came to this city to inspect the new recruit. Durbin had been in active service before.

He was given transportation to Columbus over the Ohio Electric Wednesday afternoon. Thus far there have been nineteen applications at the local station since its opening.

LAST MINUTE NEWS

CARRANZA WILL PERMIT
U. S. TO USE RAILWAY

Washington, March 29.—General Carranza has decided to permit the United States army to use the Mexico Northwestern railroad for transportation in the pursuit of the Villa bandits. The use of the railway will facilitate the movements of troops and supplies so much that the punitive expedition in Mexico will be greatly shortened.

GERMANS MAKE FURTHER GAIN

Storms French Positions on More Than Mile Front at Malancourt.

GERMANS FAIL IN COUNTER ATTACK

Twenty Killed in German Aeroplane Raid at Saloniki.

Today's War News
Given in Summary

The French at Verdun turned to the aggressive last night, launching a heavy attack on the German lines in the Avocourt woods northwest of the fortress from which the crown prince's troops had made vain attempt to advance.

There was force enough in the attack to drive the Germans from a part of their position in the woods, Paris reports today, the French carrying a portion of the works which the Teutons had constructed. The latter promptly made a counter attack but suffered a check, being driven back with heavy losses, the Paris bulletin declares.

There has been desperate fighting also on the Austro-Italian front and Rome reports the Italians victors in a forty-hour battle.

Sunday night the Austrians, after a furious bombardment of entrenchments at Grafenberg, on the heights northwest of Gorizia, advanced with important forces and although the Italian flanks held under the heavy pressure, one of the center battalions was pushed back some four hundred yards.

The Italians counter attacked the next evening, after the artillery had prepared the way during the day, and by repeated charges succeeded in recapturing the lost positions, taking some 300 prisoners and two machine guns, according to the Rome headquarters staff report.

London, March 29.—The Germans have made another notable gain in their drive against Verdun, according to today's official announcement from Berlin, storming the French positions north of Malancourt to the depth of several lines along a front of 2,000 metres, or more than a mile. Malancourt lies about ten and one-half miles northwest of Verdun and some two and one-half miles northeast of the southern tip of the Avocourt wood.

WILSON LAUDED BY MAINE DEMOCRATS

Foreign Policy and Record of Congress Praised by Chairman.

Bangor, Me., March 29.—Democrats of Maine met here today to choose delegates to the national convention, nominate presidential electors and adopt a platform.

The foreign policy of President Wilson and the record of congress under democratic control were praised by United States Senator Charles F. Johnson, in his address as chairman.

"The country will understand," said Senator Johnson, "that those who criticize the president's foreign policy do not do so so much because they feel the honor of this nation has been in any way tarnished, but because the president by his true Americanism and his staunch defense of international law has brought to his support the patriotic citizens of all parties."

"He inherited from a former administration a most difficult situation in Mexico."

"But now when a leader of a band of marauders has invaded our soil and murdered our citizens on a occasion has arisen which justified in the eyes of all the sending of an armed force into Mexico to arrest and punish the perpetrators of this crime. Our flag is now in Mexico, where it will be carried with honor and the courage which have always distinguished the American soldier. Let us hope that when it returns law and order will have been established in our distressed sister republic."

"The president has accomplished without the shedding of a drop of American blood all that we could have hoped to have accomplished by war with either Germany or Austria."

BROKEN ANKLE MAY BE RESULT OF FALL

While alighting from a Broadway and South Wayne car at Taylor street and Broadway at 4:40 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. H. W. Harmon, of Huntington, who is here on a visit, stepped into a hole in the street pavement and was painfully injured. It is thought that she is suffering from a broken ankle and an X-ray picture was to be taken Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital where she was removed Wednesday morning.

The street car had stopped to take on and discharge passengers. Mrs. Harmon was one of the first to step off the car and while alighting she stepped in the hole. Her ankle turned and she fell on it with the entire weight of her body. She was carried to the home of her mother, Mrs. C. Franke, 1019 Taylor street, by the conductor on the car and a passenger. Medical aid was summoned at once.

This is the second accident of the same nature which has occurred at the same place. On the afternoon of January 30 Charles Reuben alighted from the car, stepped in the same hole in the pavement and suffered a similar injury. According to officials of the traction company the hole is twenty-one inches from the company's tracks.

GARRETT PREPARES TO CELEBRATE ON MAY 5.

Garrett, Ind., March 29.—Garrett is on the map and is to demonstrate that fact by a national celebration on May 5 with a pageant, music and other things necessary to boom the city and make all participants enjoy a splendid day. This was decided at a meeting held in the city hall on Tuesday evening when a number of committees were appointed.

Dr. Cleveland, Richard Heinlin and Monte Green constitute the finance committee and they with Prof. Renkenberger and Miss Mary Deane make up the executive committee. Harris Carroll was made chairman of the pageant and Capt. Dennison is to be marshal of the day.

A big attraction of the celebration will be the gathering of seven bands who are to play in a tournament. A committee of critics will pass judgment as to the fine qualities of each band and these opinions will be sent in sealed envelopes to those in charge of the music.

RIVER AT STANDSTILL; REGISTERS 18.2 FEET

With the river gauge registering 18.2 feet at noon Wednesday and the water practically at a standstill, there is no more flood danger unless there should be more rains within twenty-four hours. Although rain is expected Thursday afternoon there is little danger of its causing more flood.

Holy Communion is Admin-

F. McDowell.

On page 11 of The Sentinel today will be found a revised list of the conference delegates and the Fort Wayne homes to which they were assigned for entertainment.

The selection of officers, confirmation of committees, reports of three of the six district superintendents and the administering of holy communion by Bishop Wm. F. McDowell, D. D., were features of the opening session of the North Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday.

Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States and prominently mentioned for the republican presidential nomination, will be in attendance at the conference Thursday afternoon and will speak from 2 to 2:30 o'clock. Hon. W. T. Durbine, ex-governor of Indiana, and A. B. Cline, of Bluffton, were on the program for addresses late Wednesday afternoon.

The session Wednesday afternoon consisted of a meeting and organization of conference committees; anniversary of the Methodist hospital, with Rev. Sherman Powell, a former Fort Wayne pastor, presiding, and the anniversary of the Methodist Memorial Home for the Aged, with Rev. E. L. Jones presiding. Deputies President to Preside.

Dr. George R. Grose, president of DePaul university, will preside at the conference lecture hour at 4 o'clock, at which time Prof. Lynn Harold Hough, D. D., will speak on "Religious Leadership."

The session Wednesday evening includes the anniversary of the board of home missions and church extension, with Rev. J. C. White, presiding, and an address by Rev. Charles M. Boswell, D. D., on "An Awakened America."

Bishop Conducts Communion.
The most impressive ceremony in connection with the opening of probably the largest religious body in the state, was the administering of the holy communion by Bishop McDowell, assisted by the district superintendents. About six hundred ministers and their wives and others who desired participated in the communion services.

"It is a great thing to forget everything else in the world and fix our thoughts on Jesus Christ," Bishop McDowell said. "Remember Him daily for a moment for that will avail all of your lives. If I believed the Lord is coming again, and I do, I think I would want to try to get the world ready for Him."

The communion prayer was offered by the bishop. "We present to Thee, ourselves, our souls and our bodies. Though we be unworthy we beseech Thee to accept us, pardoning our offenses through the Lord Jesus Christ. Thou who takest away the sins of the earth have mercy upon us."

Three of the district superintendents made their annual reports, showing

wonderful progress and remarkable growth in membership.

Report of Logansport District.
B. S. Hollopeter, of Kokomo, superintendent of the Logansport district, was first called upon. He reported eighty-three churches and forty-one parsonages in his district and that plans are being made for the erection of several new churches during the coming year. Fourteen churches have cleared themselves of all indebtedness, sixteen churches have increased the salaries of their pastors, the total increase amounting to $3,500, and ten young men have been licensed to preach. There has been a substantial increase in membership. His statement that Rev. W. B. Freeman, pastor at Kokomo, had demonstrated that some men can be successful pastors after serving as superintendents, brought forth much laughter.

Report of Richmond District.
"We have met the situation and it is ours," reported Rev. Somerville Light, superintendent of the Richmond district. Of the thirty-four pastors in this district, thirty-one have remained with their charges throughout the entire year. There are seventy-eight Sunday schools with a total membership of 10,826. The total church valuation amounts to $24,670, while $22,700 has been spent in improvement during the year, and $13,014 of indebtedness has been paid. During the year there has been a gain of $5,324 in all benevolences and fifteen pastors have received increases in salary. The Methodist church in the district has made a net gain of ten percent in membership. There have been 1,115 converts. The pastors have made a total of 30,000 calls.

Report of Wabash District.
Rev. M. S. Marble, of Marion, superintendent of the Wabash district, reported four churches in the district have decreased in membership, while thirty-two churches report substantial increases. A total of $30,991 has been paid on old indebtedness and there has been an increase of $4,275 in pastoral support.

Bishop McDowell complimented the superintendents upon the progress that is being made in their respective districts, declaring it to be very gratifying to him.

Six Deaths.
Six deaths have occurred among the members of the conference during the year as follows: W. L. Elkhart, C. King, New Haven; H. J. Norris, Winchester; H. W. Bennett, Warsaw; C. E. Davis, Bartlettville, Okla.; F. A. Reichelderfer, Harlan. A short service was held in memory of them, a beautiful prayer being offered by Bishop McDowell.

Peru Delegation Coming.
A committee of men representing the Methodist church at Peru will come to Fort Wayne this week to attend the conference and to confer with the bishop concerning the return of Rev. C. H. Smith to the pastorate of the church at that place for another year. The committee will be composed of the following: Mayor W. A. Hammond, Henry Meinhardt, Dr. W. B. Meeker, Charles W. Beecher, and Prof. John W. Kendall. The delegation is expected Friday.

Conference Officers Named.
Both Dorie W. Williams, of Alexandria, as secretary, and David S. Jones, of Muncie, as treasurer, were re-elected by unanimous vote of the conference. John C. White, of Elkhart, was elected statistical or statistical secretary to fill the vacancy created by the death of Francis A. Reichelderfer, of Harlan. The list of conference committees as appears in the program was confirmed with only a few changes.

The list of officers and their assistants are as follows:

Officers elected were:
Secretary—Dorie W. Williams, Alexandria. Assistants—V. A. Grist, Logansport; Frank S. Hickman, Greensburg; W. E. Pittinger, Boston Theological school.

Treasurer—David S. Jones, Muncie. Assistants—C. B. Dougherty, Gaston; Silas Cates, Greenfield; G. F. Hubbard, Pierceton; C. B. Crossell, Redkey; F. E. Fribley, Muncie; W. E. Hamilton, Windfall.

Statistician—John C. White, Elkhart. Assistants—P. H. Walters, Jolietville; E. E. DeWitt, DeSoto; E. C. Hallman, Lynn; J. C. Valentine, Spencerville; Leroy Kemper, Fremont; R. H. Carlson, Elkhart; J. A. Sprague, Kokomo.

Tuesday Evening's Session.
Rev. J. A. Beatty, superintendent of the Fort Wayne district, was in charge of the opening service Tuesday evening. Prof. F. M. Price, president of the Men's Christian League of Fort Wayne, delivered the address of welcome, which was in part as follows:

"I am very glad to be present at this great meeting and to have the pleasant duty of extending to this great body of great men a most cordial welcome to our city. We are indeed grateful that our city has been signally honored by this great conference of the North Indiana M. E. church. To have our city singled out for this meeting is an honor of no small moment and we are exceedingly glad to extend to you the hospitality of our homes and to eat with you around our tables and to break bread with such godly men.

"If we evince an undue pride in having the honor of your presence among us, we crave your indulgence. While we are aware that pride is not a particularly meritorious state of mind, nevertheless, we believe that there are occasions upon which its manifestation is pardonable, if not wholly justifiable. Do you remember the time you received your first pair of copper-toed, red-topped boots. Do you remember how your heart was gladdened and how inordinately proud you were—do you remember how circumspectly that pride made you walk? You remember that, don't you? Can you find it in your heart to condemn that boyish pride of yesterday? We believe not. Gentlemen, we Methodist of Fort Wayne feel tonight something of those copper-toed, red-topped boots, although there is probably a slight tendency toward this latter condition to be observed. But we are proud of you and proud that you are ours for the week; we are proud of you because of what you are and for the way you stand for, and for the ideals you bring."

Prof. Price spoke at some length and concluded: "And now with our very best wishes for a happy and profitable week among us, I wish, on behalf of the people of Fort Wayne, to tender you the hospitality of our city."

Bishop Is Delayed.
Announcement was made by Rev. Beatty that Bishop McDowell would not reach the city before 9 o'clock and for that reason would be unable to deliver the response as indicated on the program. Rev. Beatty said, however, that he had a good substitute in the person of Fred B. Fisher, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary association.

Mr. Fisher made a most favorable impression and kept his audience in a continuous uproar. He said that he had just come from Mexico and was glad that he did. He told of other receptions that he had received, one time being taken for secretary of the bartenders' association in a hotel lobby at Indianapolis. Mr. Fisher is of good size, which probably accounted for the mistake.

"Many cities invite conventions, but they many times expect returns on the investment in the way of commercial returns," he continued. "This return aspect in this case looks rather doubtful. Our entertainment is free, we are not expected to pay to eat—don't even have to register or sign our names to anything." Mr. Fisher here related several amusing dialect stories among which was one relating to a negro who held a certificate of deposit on a bank which had failed. A friend asked him whether he had never heard of banks failing before and he answered: "Sho' I has, but dis am de first time I evah had one bust right in my face."

In a sober vein he said that the ministers here assembled bring to Fort Wayne a challenge to world conquest for Christ and for courageous leadership and quoted Cromwell:

"I raised me such men as had the fear of God before them; men who made some conscience of what they did; and from that day forward we were never beaten."

Temperance Society Anniversary.
Following the response by Mr. Fisher, Rev. A. S. Preston, of Portland, took charge and presided at the anniversary of the temperance society. Rev. Preston declared that he believed temperance was sweeping over the entire world. He expressed the hope that the time is not far distant when Fort Wayne would go dry, and told of the change in sentiment that had come about since he was pastor of the Wayne Street church some years ago.

Dr. Parr Speaks.
Dr. W. D. Parr, of Kokomo, delivered the temperance address in the absence of Rev. Harry G. McCain, extension secretary.

"We are now on the rising crest of almost, if not altogether, the greatest moral revolution this world has ever known," he said. "The revolt is in every country where people are capable of thinking." The speaker told of the wave of temperance that is now sweeping over England, France, Germany and Russia.

He dwelt at length upon the temperance movement in this country, declaring that people are demanding the abolishment of the liquor business, not so much from a sentimental point of view as from an economic viewpoint.

"Indiana is now prohibitory if the politicians would only give the people an opportunity to speak," he said. This statement brought forth tremendous applause.

He declared that nation-wide prohibition is coming.

Would Enlarge Cabinet.
A memorial will be presented to the conference seeking to enlarge the cabinet by adding one ministerial and one lay member for each district one year in advance. The memorial seeks to have the method of appointment to be done by the majority vote of the cabinet, which it is contended would give each man equal authority and make the cabinet an effective unit. The cabinet will thus include the district superintendents, one minister from each district and one layman for every district in the conference.

Comment by Christian Advocate.
The Christian Advocate, published in New York city, February 24, 1916, speaking of the memorial, says by way of comment upon the subject: "The method of election shall be as follows: The ministers shall be elected annually by their respective districts, one minister for each district. They shall be elected one year in advance; those to serve in 1917, shall be elected at the annual conference in 1916 and so on through the quadrennium. The laymen shall be elected in like manner by the Lay association one year in advance, one member for every district in the conference. Women shall not be eligible for election."

"The method of appointment shall be the majority vote of the cabinet. In other words the final authority shall be the majority vote of the cabinet. This will give each minister equal authority and make the cabinet an effective unit. The superintendent shall make his recommendations the same as he is doing now, and where they are satisfactory no action will be required, but where there are problems, disputes and hard cases the method of settling these problems and stationing these brethren shall be by majority vote of the cabinet. We legislate for the state by majority vote, we transact our conference business by a majority vote and the same senseless should apply to the making of appointments. At present the cabinet is too exclusive and one-sided. This method would give the ministers the same as a representative body they do not now have and it would make the office of district superintendent more effective and satisfactory. The church would welcome a change. Witness the districting of bishops and the demand for fewer district superintendents. It would bring the laymen into the cabinet so that the churches may feel that they are duly represented. What is needed is a greater responsibility and obligation to the ministry. The churches play fast and loose with the preacher and ask for changes in the most trifling matters. The minister is made to change, the laymen changed too easily; some disagreeable member may blight and ruin a minister for life. The prejudices and preferences of a district superintendent will do the same thing. At present ministers have no redress against a wrong that may be done them by an overbearing and officious district superintendent."

The above article taken from "The Christian Advocate" is not the complete letter, but is sufficient to give one some idea for the purpose of the memorial. The lay conference will have an opportunity to take some action as well as the ministers at the conference.

Some Politics.
The political end of the conference is one of the most interesting features of the meeting, although there will be very little of it in evidence until the arrival of the lay delegates and representatives from various churches who will be sent here to insist on keeping the pastor from their sockets. When the last certain pastor they may have "spotted."

Muncie Is After Rev. Travis.
It is understood that the First Methodist church of Muncie has not given up its fight for Rev. C. Claud Travis, pastor of the Wayne Street Methodist church. Rev. Travis will remain at the Wayne street church, however, unless the unexpected happens, which is not anticipated. Rev. W. W. Martin, pastor of the Muncie church, has asked to be changed, it is stated on good authority, and would not be adverse to accepting a district superintendency. He has his eye on the Fort Wayne district.

D. H. Guild, pastor of the First Methodist church, is frequently mentioned for appointment as district superintendent, and inasmuch as Rev. C. E. Line, superintendent of the Muncie district for the past six years, the limit under the rules of the church, will ask for a pastorate, and consequently will not be transferred to the Fort Wayne district to take the place of Rev. J. A. Beatty, who has also served this district as superintendent for six years, it is not at all improbable that Rev. Guild will be named. However, there is no telling what the bishop is liable to do.

It is almost certain that both Rev. T. M. Hill, pastor of the Trinity church, and Rev. F. H. Creman, pastor of St. Paul church, will be transferred. The re-appointment of Rev. H. L. Overdeer, as pastor the Simpson M. E. church, is believed to be a certainty.

Want Rev. Powell Returned.
The congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church at New Haven has asked for the return of Rev. H. C. Powell, who went to that church early in December, shortly after the death of Rev. Chauncy King. During the short time he has been there he has done much to increase its membership, which now numbers two hundred. The congregation has also increased. The salary from $700 to $1,000 and will this summer, erect for him a new parsonage.

May Quit Ministry.
Dr. J. E. Williams, of Pendleton, intimated Tuesday that owing to his failing health he may retire from the ministry at this conference. Dr. Williams is one of the most interesting pastors in attendance at the meeting. He has been pastor of the Pendleton church for the past seven years, but prior to that time was a member of the Puget Sound conference and for a number of years was president of the Puget Sound college, Tacoma, Washington. He has been in the ministry for the past thirty-five years and is a member of the board of examiners at this conference. He has been ill for the past winter and only recently resumed his work.

Four ministers are in attendance at the conference whose sons are also ministers in the Methodist church. They are Rev. F. M. Stone, Dr. Wade, Rev. S. M. Stone, Dr. Wade, Rev. S. M. Stone, Dr. Wade, Rev. S. M. Stone, Dr. Wade.

FULLY FIFTY HURT IN CRASH OF TRAINS

R. Thomas, Fairmont avenue, Philadelphia.

Few Yet Identified.
Of the dead it was said only four had been identified up to 9 o'clock and that many of the bodies were mangled probably beyond recognition. All of the dead and injured were on train No. 86.

The death list in the wreck, previously believed to have been seventeen, was increased to twenty-one when four additional bodies were taken from the wreckage shortly after 9 o'clock.

The list of injured as compiled up to that time included names of twenty-seven persons, some of them seriously, perhaps fatally hurt.

Three Trains in the Crash.
The second section of the Chicago-Buffalo flyer crashed into the first coach of the second first section stopped for water.

The Twentieth Century, westbound, plowed through the wreckage of train 86 which had been hurled to the westbound track, before flagmen could be sent out to stop it. Train 86 was due at Cleveland at 4:35 a. m.

Most of the dead were in the rear coaches of the Chicago-Buffalo flyer.

Some dead were found in the rear coaches of the second flyer which buckled over onto the Twentieth Century's right of way and was splintered by that train.

Dead Mostly Foreigners.
Most of the dead are said to be foreigners who were traveling in the rear coach of the first section of the Chicago-Buffalo flyer.

There are no dead among the passengers of the Twentieth Century limited, though a number of passengers were badly hurt on this train. Two coaches of the Twentieth Century were overturned. The low casualties on the Twentieth Century are attributed to the fact that the palace train was proceeding slowly because of the heavy fog.

The second section of the flyer was going at a high rate of speed when it struck the first section.

May Never Be Identified.
Many of the dead probably will go to their graves unidentified.

Some of the men were asleep in the rear day coach of first train 86 at the time of the crash and they had removed wraps and coats and other articles of identifying clothing.

The bodies of many of these scantily clad victims are so horribly mangled that identification, without the guidance of the clothing they wore, will be impossible.

Some Were Decapitated.
Some of the victims were decapitated. Arms, legs and portions of human bodies were scattered thickly through the wreckage. Relief parties collected the remains of three bodies—those of a woman and two men—and piled them, indiscriminately, in one basket. They probably will be buried together.

Survivors Describe Horror.
Alfred Fritze, Cleveland, salesman for a fire extinguisher company, was in the Toledo sleeper of the first section and escaped injury. He helped in the rescue and then came to Cleveland.

Aaron Derry, Pittsburgh, who came through with Fritze, said he was catapulted from his berth into one occupied by a woman across the aisle when the crash came. Derry was uninjured.

A. Comenaky, Pittsburgh, coming from Chicago, said he saw a woman die in the wreckage before he could extricate her. Another woman he saw was badly injured and a man had his arms torn from their sockets. When the last named three left, only thirteen of the forty occupants of the day coach were accounted for. They placed the number of dead at between twenty-five and thirty.

According to Fritze and Derry the first section stopped five minutes after it left Amherst and was just picking up speed again when the first crash came. Two minutes later they said the second occurred.

The Wrecked Trains.
Train 86 was known as the Pittsburgh-Baltimore-Buffalo limited, a flyer, which made the trip from Chicago to Baltimore in 13 hours and 35 minutes. It was due in Cleveland at 4:05 this morning.

The train carried sleeping coaches from Chicago to Pittsburgh and Buffalo and took on a sleeper at Cleveland for Buffalo.

It carried a diner from Chicago to Pittsburgh and was known as one of the finest trains on the New York Central lines. The flyer was split into two sections today because of unusually heavy traffic and this splitting of the train indirectly caused the wreck.

General Manager's Statement.
D. C. Moon, general manager of the New York Central lines in Cleveland, gave this story of the wreck as it was given him from his subordinates on the road at 9 o'clock:

"Train No. 86, eastbound, was traveling in two sections.

"The engine of the first section was stopped at Amherst by a signal—'don't know just how far.'"

"The second section of number 86 should have stopped because of the automatic signal, or by the signal of a flagman on the first section."

"The second section ran into the end coach of the first section."

"The wreckage from both sections went over on to the westbound high speed track."

"The rear car of the first section was a coach from Chicago to Pittsburgh."

"It had forty passengers, four of whom were killed. I don't know how many were injured."

"The next car ahead of the coach was a club Pullman car. There was nobody in this car but a porter and a man cook."

"The two men are missing. The cars ahead of the coach and club car were sleepers."

"The Twentieth Century was derailed but nobody on it was injured."

"I have ordered an investigation."

"I don't think any of the crew was hurt, but so far we have not got tracks of the engineer of the second section."

"Dress-up week" is making a hit

IF ANYONE ever had the idea that men aren't interested in new fashions (for themselves) we'd like that man to spend an hour in this store.

He would be astonished at the way men of all ages have been calling on us for the new Spring Suits and Overcoats from Hart Schaffner & Marx.

The beautiful fabrics and very smart models shown in their Suits and Overcoats are giving our customers just what they want.

We're glad to see so much interest in the "dress-up" idea, and we're proud of having just the right things to satisfy everyone.

ESCAPE BEING VICTIMS.
State Railway Inspectors Take Later Train and Reach Spot Early.

Columbus, Ohio, March 28.—Two railway inspectors of the state public utilities commission who are usually rushed to scenes of wrecks narrowly escaped being victims of today's wreck near Cleveland. M. J. Heffernan and W. F. Packard had expected to leave Toledo for Cleveland during the night on the Chicago-Buffalo train, which was in the first crash, it was said at the offices of the utilities commission. They delayed their departure, however, and are believed to have taken the next train, arriving at the wreck before they received official orders to visit the scene.

Victor C. Noonan, state safety first commissioner, happened to be in Cleveland today and was ordered to the wreck by the state industrial commission to make a complete investigation.

was the only white man in the country in which he lived. I know his habits, his processes of mind and the Tarahumara Indians, among whom he is at present. It is not probable that the American cavalry can ever catch him now that he has, presumably fifty or more miles start of them. Villa and his men, mounted on their Mexican ponies, can travel forty miles a day with ease and fifty miles, if pressed.

"All his men need is a little dried beef and some corn meal. With this and a blanket strapped behind their saddles, they can travel indefinitely. Compare this with the equipment of an American trooper who makes thirty-five miles a day at best."

Will Not Aid Americans.
"The Tarahumara Indians will not give the slightest assistance to the Americans, but they dig up their last grain of corn or wheat for Villa. More than that, they will give him speedier information about his pursuers than the fastest horseman could give. There is no horse that could keep pace with these Indians in that country. I have often sent one of them from my ranch to Minaca, a distance of 82 miles. He could start in the evening and reach Minaca the next morning. It is almost impossible to tire them and all they need for subsistence is a little ball of dried meat they carry with them."

"Another difficulty is that there is practically no water in that country now and what little there is is practically dried up or soon will be. There may be a few showers in May, but there will be nothing like what is needed for a large body of troops until after June 20, the date when the real rain begins."

Discounts the Aeroplane.
The rancher was asked what difference he thought the introduction of aeroplanes in the chase was going to make. "I hardly think they will prove of any great assistance," he said. "In the first place the aviators will be starting from an altitude of 8,000 to 10,000 feet. They will then be flying over the country of rugged little granite split in a thousand ways by gullies, ravines and great canyons. There are numerous valleys, of course, which are broad and fairly level, but to descend into one of these would be a matter of great danger. On the hottest and calmest days of summer you can climb from a valley where not a breath of air is stirring and encounter a wind on the top of the hills which would take a strong man off his feet. The hot air rushes up the slopes and turns into a small hurricane when it reaches the colder levels."

The one issue that is engrossing the people here is the question as to whether Gen. Carranza intends to permit the American expeditionary force to use the Mexican railroads for the forwarding of supplies.

PERSHING WITH ADVANCE.
San Antonio, Tex., March 28.—Francisco Villa was moving towards Santa Catarina, in the Santa Maria valley, four days ago, according to information obtained by Col. Budd Sunday, and forwarded to Gen. Pershing today by Gen. Pershing.

Gen. Pershing reported that the residents of the valley appeared friendly to Villa, adding that it was with great difficulty that the scouts with the American troops had learned anything from them regarding his movements.

Gen. Pershing was known to be with one of the advance columns today.

Robert Smith, 15, Fatally Shot When Old Revolver is Discharged by Companion at Silver Lake.

Warsaw, Ind., March 29.—A "wild west" frolic of three school boys at Silver Lake, this county, Tuesday afternoon, resulted in the death of Robert Smith, aged 13, by a bullet from a 38-caliber revolver in the hands of Clyde Budd, another lad. The boys named Donald Thacker had gone after school to the barn on the premises of John Fitton and there were playing "Indian," using old revolvers to add realism to their sport. The boys had replaced the broken mainspring of the 38-caliber weapon with a rubber band. Robert Smith could not work it properly and passed it to Clyde Budd, who aimed the revolver at young Smith and pulled the trigger. There was a flash and a report and Smith fell to the ground. He arose, ran to the house and told Mrs. Fitton he had been shot. He fell to the floor and soon expired. The bullet had entered his left breast just below the heart and death ensued within half an hour after the accident. The dead lad was a son of Earl Smith, who resides in Wabash. His mother, who is separated from her husband, lives in Elkhart. Young Smith had been making his home with an aunt, Mrs. L. D. Underhill, in Silver Lake.

LITTLE GIRL KICKED BY HORSE.

Hartford City, Ind., March 29.—Miss Velva McFarren, little daughter of Alonzo McFarren, living two and one-half miles southeast of this city, is in a critical condition at the home of her parents as the result of injuries received when she was kicked several times in the head and abdomen, by a horse. The child had been playing about the barn lot when she walked into the stall behind one of the horses. The animal started to kick, the first several blows striking the child over the left eye, cutting two holes through both tables of the skull to the brain.

KOSCIUSKO LADIES PICKED ON.

Piercetown Girl Latest to Be Attacked by Tramps.

Warsaw, Ind., March 29.—Piercetown, in endeavoring to keep pace with the "wild-west" hold-ups, which are now being staged almost regularly in this vicinity, had a hold-up of her own when Miss May Mickey, aged 18, was stopped by a burly tramp and ordered to throw up her hands, with a demand to hand over her money. The young woman did not hesitate to comply with the orders given her, but immediately took to her heels and rushed into her home, terribly frightened. She stated that her assailant pursued her for a short distance but soon gave up the chase. Upon arriving at her home the girl was a nervous wreck and became hysterical. Her condition finally became such that it was necessary to summon a physician to the home. Miss Mickey is employed at the overall factory at that place and had left the factory shortly after 9 o'clock. Residents of Piercetown are inclined to believe that the deed was committed by the same person who entered the Stout home, east of this city, Monday afternoon, and after being refused money, forced Mrs. Stout to take a green powder.

PAIR OF RURAL AFFINITIES

Huntington Farmer, Sued by Wife, Has Married Lady Friend.

Huntington, Ind., March 29.—Burning love notes alleged to have been written by her husband to other women and "darling" letters alleged to have been received by him are made the basis of a sensational divorce suit filed in circuit court by Mrs. Mary E. Johnson, of Union township, against James E. Johnson. They were married January 27, 1879 and lived together until January 16, 1916. In the second paragraph Mrs. Johnson accuses her husband of failing to support her and said she was obliged to keep him and to manage the eighty-acre farm. In the third paragraph she asserts he obtained a loan on property to which he had no real title, and that he bought "finger rings," jewelry, clothing and wearing apparel for other women. She also states that he took poultry from their farm, dressed it and sent it to a woman in Cleveland, Ohio, and that this same woman sent him a pair of gloves belonging to her husband. The letters alleged to have been written by Mr. Johnson are filed with the complaint. The general tendency to doubt the strength of the winter wheat crop. According to the farmers, the warm weather opened the wheat up for growth, and the quickly succeeding frozes killed it, completely or partly. Noah Brumbaugh, the captain of a large threshing ring in Huntington and Lancaster townships, when asked about the effect of the weather conditions on the winter wheat said: "My wheat was completely ruined by freezing and I shall cultivate and re-plant in oats. I know of only one member in the ring who will not have to do the same, and his wheat is low and near the river."

TO PLANT WHEAT FIELDS IN OATS

Huntington, Ind., March 29.—Reports from over Huntington county show a general tendency to doubt the strength of the winter wheat crop. According to the farmers, the warm weather opened the wheat up for growth, and the quickly succeeding frozes killed it, completely or partly. Noah Brumbaugh, the captain of a large threshing ring in Huntington and Lancaster townships, when asked about the effect of the weather conditions on the winter wheat said: "My wheat was completely ruined by freezing and I shall cultivate and re-plant in oats. I know of only one member in the ring who will not have to do the same, and his wheat is low and near the river."

BURGLAR CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Portland, Ind., March 29.—Otto Dunmoyer, 24, of near Blaine, was sent to jail here in default of bond in the sum of $200. Dunmoyer was "nabbed" by Policeman Ed Wingate at midnight as he swung out of a window at the rear of the Hotel Adair annex. He had entered the place through the window, but a few minutes before, bent on burglarizing the establishment.

WIFE LOVED ANOTHER; DIVORCED

Auburn, Ind., March 29.—James A. Donaldson, of Auburn, appeared before Judge Link Tuesday afternoon and was granted a divorce from his wife, Helen Donaldson. He was married to the defendant November 16, 1910. He was a baker at the time of his marriage and both of them were 19 years old when they became husband and wife. She went away with another man on January 17, this year, and was gone for four days, he testified. He said she told him that she loved the other man the best and when the plaintiff came home on January 24, he found a note on the table telling him she had left him for good and she never returned. He has learned that she is working in the knitting mills in Fort Wayne and he has a letter from her saying that she had made a great mistake, but said nothing about wanting to return.

VAN WERT BUSINESS MAN DIES.

Van Wert, Ind., March 29.—W. G. Edwards, one of the best known business men of Van Wert, died suddenly of heart trouble this morning at the family home on West Jackson street. Mr. Edwards was indisposed since Saturday, but his condition gave no sign of the approach of the dissolution. He arose this morning, dressed and shortly afterward sought repose on a couch, where he expired unexpectedly. Mr. Edwards was born in Upper Canada, February 13, 1845, and came here in 1869. He was a member of the board of trustees of Pleasant township. He was a member of the different Masonic bodies of Van Wert, and Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He retired from active business a few years ago.

AGED LADY OF MONROE DIES.

Decatur, Ind., March 29.—Mrs. Mary Badders, one of the old and well known ladies of Monroe, passed away Tuesday, after a two-months' illness from organic heart trouble.

Mrs. Badders was a widow, her husband having passed away at Monroe several years ago. Mrs. Badders, formerly Miss Mary Kohn, was born in Ohio, on January 1, 1847, and at death was 69 years, 2 months and 27 days old. She is survived by two sons, John and William Badders. Funeral services will be held at Monroe Thursday at 10 o'clock but the place of the services has not been determined upon as yet. Interment will be in the Ray cemetery, one and one-half miles west of Monroe.

BLUFFTON'S STREET FAIR.

Bluffton, Ind., March 29.—Bluffton will have a street fair again next fall, and the motto, as in years past, will be "Bigger and Better Than Ever Before." It has been tentatively understood that there would be a fair again this year, but the positive announcement was not authorized until after a meeting of business men, held Monday evening, and unanimously for a 1916 fair. The exact date was not adopted at the meeting Monday evening, but it was the general opinion that probably the best dates would be the last week in September, which would be September 28th to 30th.

TRYING TO SAVE AN EYE.

Columbia City, Ind., March 29.—Aaa Riddle, who was taken to a hospital in Fort Wayne last Friday to have his eye treated with the hope of preventing the removal of it is not improving to any great extent, although the doctors still have hope that the irritation can be eliminated and the eye saved. Riddle, as will be recalled, came near losing his life about six weeks ago when a buzz saw burst and a segment of it struck him in the forehead and cut a gash across it, exposing the brain. The left eye was hurt but the sight of it was not destroyed.

BLUFFTON WOMAN A BRIDE.

Bluffton, Ind., March 29.—Much surprise has just been created here by the announcement that Mrs. Daisy Nelting, of this city, was married last week at Columbus, Ohio, to Hans Widler, who has been an acquaintance and friend of his new bride and her family for some time. Mrs. Nelting went to Columbus a week ago to visit her brother, Howard, and her friends here had no knowledge that she intended to be married. Mrs. Widler is a daughter of Lemuel Stout, chief of the Bluffton fire department.

WILL TEST SUNDAY CLOSING.

Hartford City, Ind., March 29.—"My place of business will be open every Sunday from now on, at least during the pendency of this case against me," declared William Badt, proprietor of the Badt cigar store, Tuesday afternoon, following a charge brought against him in the circuit court for desecration of the Sabbath. Mr. Badt had his cigar store open for a time Sunday afternoon, contrary to the edict issued some time ago by Prosecutor Sprague. The outcome of this suit will, it is believed, determine the future of the Sunday closing movement here.

ASKS PEOPLE TO PROTECT ROADS

Huntington, Ind., March 29.—An appeal to the people to desist from using the roads while the bad weather lasts was made last night by William Skinner, superintendent of several roads leading out of Huntington. "If the public will remain off the roads now it will save a lot of money," he said. "It will cost a great deal to repair the roads; anyway, but if they are cut more the cost will be far greater. Heavy vehicles, automobiles and wagons should remain off the roads until the rain and thawing ceases. I would advise everyone to read section 419 of the Indiana highway laws."

WILL QUIT SALE OF LIQUOR

Goshen, Ind., March 29.—After two sessions of the Indiana state board of pharmacy came here and gathered what they declare was ample evidence to prosecute Cyril L. E. Wilson, a Goshen druggist, on a charge of liquor law violation, a compromise was reached between Wilson and a committee of the Civic league, a local organization for law enforcement. Under the contract Wilson agrees not to keep intoxicants of any description in his store.

OLD WILL CASE IS SETTLED.

Bluffton, Ind., March 29.—Filed July 10, 1902, the celebrated Catherine Taylor will contest suit, has been settled in the Jay circuit court at Portland, where it was taken on a change of venue. The objectors to the probate of the will dismissed their objections and Judge Denny ordered the will admitted to probate. Thomas Taylor, now deceased, and other heirs now mentioned in the will, began the contest.

WILL ESCAPE OPERATION

Montpelier, Ind., March 29.—"Mary is improving, will not operate today," was the telegram received by Mrs. L. W. Hoy from her husband, who with Dr. Taylor, of this city, left Saturday in response to a summons from Goshen.

THESE WOMEN KEEP BUSY WHILE THEY'RE LOOKING FOR WORK.

Scene in women's employment office in the Spokane city hall. The women keep busy at sewing, knitting and various jobs while waiting for work.

Spokane, Wash., March 29.—Women looking for work in Spokane see no reason for being idle while in pursuit of the elusive job. When the new city hall was built here a few years ago, the wise city fathers established a women's employment agency in one room.

The scenes in this agency, over which Miss Alice Travers has jurisdiction, are vastly different from the men's employment agency in another room. The women looking for jobs keep busy at a variety of useful work while waiting for remunerative employment. They crochet, they embroider, they darn socks. There is a sewing machine in the room for their benefit. Miss Travers is now trying to induce city officials to install a free day nursery for women who have to leave their children somewhere while they look for work.

Explains Why Coffee Hurts Many

Dr. W. A. Evans, prominent Chicago physician, who edits the "How to Keep Well" columns of the Chicago Tribune, said in that publication, under date of March 7, 1915:—

"Coffee is a drug. Those who are addicted to its use are drug addicts." "From the standpoint of public hygiene the coffee question is worth while. It is the most widespread form of drug addiction."

Some coffee drinkers go on for years without seeming harm, but with others the telltale effects of the drug, caffeine, in coffee, show in various ills and discomforts, such as headache, biliousness, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness and heart disturbance.

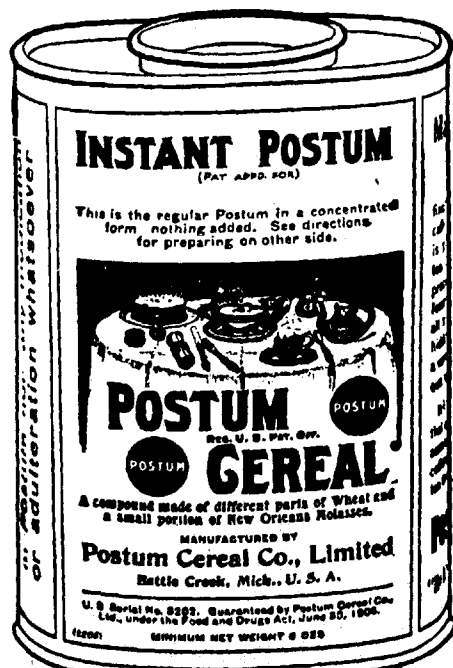

When the health of a coffee-drinker begins to suffer it's high time to quit the coffee. The change to is easy and pleasant. Better health usually follows, and a ten days' trial proves.

Postum comes in two forms. The original Postum Cereal—must be well boiled—15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—a soluble powder—is made in the cup. No boiling required. 30c and 50c tins.

The two forms of Postum are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING

Revelation 22:1-12.

1 And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him.

4 And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

Taking Orders from the Chief.

Whether the president "bosses" congress or whether congress "bosses" the president, it is essential to have a pretty fair degree of unified action between the legislative and the executive branches of the government if any sort of progress is to be made in the despatch of public business. The occasional experience of the country with a deadlock between the white house and the capitol by reason of opposed political or personal views has made that fact very clear. Along this line it is interesting to note some things in the recent trend of events at Washington that leave no doubt that congress is disposed to take—a bit complainingly, sometimes, but to take nevertheless—orders from President Wilson.

The one late instance in which this stands out most strongly is in the test vote in the two houses on the resolution which warned Americans to stay off the ships of belligerent countries. It met a decisive defeat in both houses, and it is worthy of note that not only the democratic members, but a number of republicans as well are inclined to line up behind the president. Within the past week or two there has been a manifest attempt to "speed up" congress in order to make possible an early adjournment. Strange to say, too, it promises definite results. Congress is ordinarily so self-satisfied that it will not permit itself to be hurried. It can invent endless pretexts for delay and perfectly plausible explanations for its deliberateness, and do it so impressively that to question the soundness of its course seems to smack of lese majesty. No disposition of that sort is now manifest. Instead there is plainly a disposition to allow the president to direct and to give him the legislation for which he is asking.

Some of the big things yet to be disposed of include the preparedness program, the problem of additional revenues, the tariff commission idea and the ship purchase legislation. All these, of course, are quite apart from the problems forced upon us by the Mexican trouble and the European war. It is difficult to define the precise length to which a president may go without unduly encroaching upon the province of the law-makers. Overdone, this is invariably provocative of bitter resentment, but we do not think there is ever serious objection to any working arrangement under which it is possible to get the business of the country done efficiently and expeditiously. To that end the persuasive powers of the president may be safely exercised with congress, for it is the president, after all, who must assume responsibility for what is done and for what has failed of the doing.

Complaints continue to reach the police of the operation of fake meter testers and meter readers who attempt to make their way into homes about the city with the undoubted purpose of thievery or to pave the way for subsequent visits with that end in view. Public service concerns have provided their accredited readers and testers with badges attesting their authority to act for the company. Householders should invariably insist on inspecting the badges when unfamiliar faces appear on missions of this character. A little precaution will save later losses.

The general public has been watching with no inconsiderable interest the fight which has been made by certain distinguished members of the legal profession against the confirmation of Louis D. Brandeis as a member of the United States supreme court, and it now reads with more or less shock the astounding charge that Mr. Brandeis has "violated the canons of professional ethics of the American Bar association." But somehow the aforesaid general public has not been able to gather exactly what Mr. Brandeis has done to stir up the storm of indignation amid his professional brethren.

With fine chivalric impulse, Vice President Marshall has asked that his name be withdrawn as a candidate for the vice presidency in the Nebraska primaries because Nebraska has a candidate for the place and he does not desire to make a contest in states having aspirants for the preferential vote. But then, you know, the vice president can be renominated without the vote of Nebraska.

There has been no declaration of a car strike at Toledo, but with the street railway lines all tied up and the cars housed in the barns as the result of a disagreement between the company and its employees, the Toledo population which is forced to walk is having some difficulty in distinguishing between the distinction and the difference.

Well, it has been certain from the outset that some section of Fort Wayne was going to be called upon to accept with such grace as it could summon for the occasion the priceless boon of the location of the new garbage incinerator in its midst.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

(From the St. Louis Times.)

The President of the United States:—Dear Sir:—Appreciating the sincere ringing in your letter to Senator Stone regarding the rights and duties of our country, we, the undersigned, nevertheless believe that in reality you are yielding American rights and disowning American duties.

In allowing and defending the sale of munitions you have forever surrendered the American right and duty of protest and action, when in a future war the world will be supplying our enemies with death-dealing weapons against our own sons and daughters.

When in the Lusitania case you demanded unlimited freedom for American citizens to travel in the war zones on vessels of the allies, laden with war material to be used against the central powers, you have disclaimed forever the American right and duty of protecting our own people against a cargo which, though meaning death to thousands of our citizens, is made immune by a neutral passenger.

And when you insist, as you have done in your letter to Senator Stone, that in the present war Americans shall enjoy the privilege of traveling also on armed vessels of commerce, in reality you are also in this case, not defending but disowning the sacred American right and duty of properly safeguarding ourselves and our submarines against merchantmen, armed but made immune by neutral passengers.

Thus in upholding privileges, in claiming which you may appear to be technically in the right, you in reality are yielding inalienable American rights and disowning duties which must remain forever sacred to every patriotic American.

In submitting these sentiments to your Excellency we do not wish to appear as critics; but as discharging what we consider a patriotic duty.

(Indianapolis News.)
Banks in both states and national institutions are awaiting with some impatience further action on the Kern amendment to the Clayton act, which affects interlocking directorates. This amendment would permit interlocking directors in two or more banks which are not "substantially" in competition, provided the consent of the Federal reserve board is first obtained. Mr. Kern's bill, introduced the middle of February, at last report was still before the senate committee on banking and currency. Section 8 of the Clayton law, which is the part affected, does not go into effect until October 15 next, seven months hence. Banks generally have protested against this provision, and it is to meet this objection that the Kern bill is being pressed.

The Clayton law contains some features which are objected to. One covering interlocking directorates, it is feared, would deprive many national banks of some of their ablest men. The national banks have insisted that non-competing banks should have a right to utilize the services of men who are also officials in other institutions.

Senator Owen, who was one of the framers of the existing banking legislation, not long ago requested the federal reserve board to consider an amendment in regard to interlocking directorates. His idea was that a person might be a director in more than one bank, provided that it be shown that the institutions were not in "strict" competition. Banks are inclined to favor the Owen plan. The word "strict," they point out, probably means active competition, whereas "substantial" includes banks with which competition is a possibility. However, it seems that they will accept the Kern amendment. Another amendment, similar to Mr. Kern's, with the exception that it confers freedom on banks without the formality of approval from the reserve board, is before the house. The latter is extremely doubtful, for the reserve board, if it is to be a board of any authority, surely ought to have the power to act in determining the wisdom of interlocking directorates.

MINER INVENTS "WAR GAS"
Charles Royce, of Danville, Ill., Sells Method of Firm in Chicago.

Danville, Ill., March 29.—Charles Royce, a Danville miner, has invented a "war gas" that he asserts to be far superior to any of the gases used in the European war. Mr. Royce has sold the invention to a Chicago firm, which will try to dispose of it to the United States government. The inventor says his gas will overcome, but will not kill, thus being more humane than the gases now in use by European armies.

Rid of the Torment of Rheumatism

"Send me Foley Kidney Pills. I am badly done up with rheumatism and they are the only thing that will help me." A. J. Walsh, Sheffield, Colo.
Rheumatism is stubborn as a mule and hangs on like a leech—wears out your strength—torments you with pain—drains on your vitality—depresses your mind—affects your health! Don't let it hold you up! Don't overlook Foley Kidney Pills! For they work directly on the kidneys—tone up and strengthen them to the perfect action that keeps uric acid out of the blood, and clears away the cause of rheumatism, lumbago and stiff, swollen, aching joints. Begin now, today, and soon you will again be active and free from pain. Mr. Walsh winds up his letter to us by saying: "I consider Foley Kidney Pills the best I have ever used, and I have tried several different remedies." Your druggist sells them.

FINED FOR HAULING A LOAD TOO HEAVY

The first prosecution in Allen county
under the Indiana statute making it
an offense punishable by a fine to haul
on the highways, during soft weather, loads of greater weight than those the
law prescribes for tires of certain width,
was completed in the court of Justice
M. J. Tancey, Wednesday, when Henry
Wiehe, of Lake township, was fined $5
and costs for violating this law. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Worley Waters, deputy road superintendent,
acting under instructions from County
Highway Superintendent William
Tonkel. Wiehe brought a load of
hay that weighed at the city scales 4-180 pounds above the weight of the wagon and driver, to Fort Wayne Tuesday. He was seen on the Leesburg road
by Deputy Waters, who warned him.
Wiehe spoke defiantly and drove on into the city. His tires were only three inches wide, whereas the law requires more than that prescribed for five-inch tires. Wiehe's father appeared for him, entered a plea of guilty and paid the fine. Similar offenses will be prosecuted by Superintendent Tonkel if the evidence can be obtained.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than
to cure, states a well-known authority.
We are advised to dress warmly; keep
the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.
Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly
cold weather the skin pores are closed
thus forcing the kidneys to do double
work, they become weak and sluggish
and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four cucumbers of Ad Salts, put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week.
This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.
Ad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and
is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is especially to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

SHE MERELY A WIFE; OTHER SWEETHEART

Mrs. Wilhelm Says Hus-

to Other Woman.

Complaining that her husband deserted her a month ago and fled to Flint, Mich., taking with him their infant, born January 3, this year, and is now living in Flint, where he has married to, or at least had, a child by a woman who has recently had a child by him, and that he calls the plaintiff his wife, while he calls the other lady sweetheart, Sophie Wilhelm has begun action in the superior court against John Wilhelm for divorce and custody
of her babe. She says they were married April 17, last year, that their child
was born January 3, this year, and that on February 27, last, her husband deserted her, fleeing with the tender infant and leaving her no means of support. It is charged that the defendant said he would no longer live with her or give her support and called her vile names. Emrick & Emrick are the wife's attorneys.

Went Back Home; Took Him Along.
Herschell Coby says that his wife,
Henrietta Coby, refused to live in the home he provided for her, compelled him
to dispose of their household effects and took him with her to reside with her parents. He says she goes out nights,
leaving her baby with neighbors and
has told him she did not care for him
and did not want to marry him. He wants custody of the child. Emrick & Emrick appear for the plaintiff in the superior court. The couple were married last June and but recently separated.

Curtis Spreer, John and Jesse Smith and Howard Criswell, the four young men who robbed August Roussey, a Jefferson township farmer, of a considerable sum of money in New Haven the night of January 24, were found guilty in the circuit court, Wednesday, under the second count of an affidavit for grand larceny,
and were sentenced to from one to fourteen years in the Jeffersonville reformatory, fined $10 and costs and disfranchised for three years. The sentences were suspended during good behavior in
the cases of Jesse Smith and Criswell,
who were shown to have no hand in the actual hold-up, but had shared in the spoils.

The circuit court on Wednesday disposed of other criminal cases as follows:
William Johnson, colored, petit larceny,
trial April 7; Walter Widley, colored,
selling liquor without license, trial April 10; Francis Plummer, indecent exposure, trial April 7; Gustave Eisenstadt, accused and battery, trial April 7; Morris
Martin, surety of peace, trial April 8;
Frank Denmack, carrying concealed weapons, trial April 8; Obadiah Lang-
ford, obstructing highway, trial April 8;
Mary Obeska, provoke, dismissed on motion of the prosecutor.
Forrest Steele has begun suit in the superior court against Jacob Funk for $500 for breach of contract. The plaintiff alleges he contracted with the defendant for the brick in an old house
that was to be razed and that before
he got to the work the house was sold to a man who took it down with delay. The plaintiff says he had paid
$10 to bind the bargain. Glenn A.
Smiley appears for the plaintiff.

Says He Was Cruel.
Sophie Hoppe has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from Henry Hoppe, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, whereas the husband is given the complaint. They were married in 1880 and separated a few days ago. The plaintiff asks the custody of a daughter 19 years old. O'Rourke & Lucke appear for the plaintiff.
Notes of the Courts.
The will of the late Charles Hoendz, just died for probate, leaves his entire estate to his wife, Mary Hoendz, who is also named executrix.
The will of the late John M. Fleischmann, filed for probate, leaves his estate to the wife, Mary Fleischmann, and names her executrix.
In the superior court in the suit of One D. Snider vs. Ella D. Hieks, the plaintiff represents that the motion of
the defendant for a change of venue
from the county is for delay only and files a counter motion that the application for a change be stricken from the docket.

WEALTHY LUMBERMAN ACQUITTED BY COURT

Mann Act Case Against St.
Paul Man Ends by Judge
Anderson's Order.

Chicago, March 29.—The case against William Rufus Edwards, a wealthy lumberman of St. Paul, Minn., on trial charged with violation of the Mann act, was taken from the jury today. At the court's direction the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and Judge Anderson
entered an order discharging the defend-
ant. Edwards was charged with transporting Miss Ada Cox from Chicago to Minneapolis, Milwaukee and other cities.
The sudden end of the case came after several days' sensational testimony in which Miss Cox described in detail several alleged meetings with the defendant.
One of these, which was alleged to have occurred in St. Paul, Miss Cox referred to as her first escapade. The defense placed on the stand witnesses who testified to previous intimacy with Miss Cox.

SCHOOL CHILDREN CONTRIBUTE TO POOR

Most liberal donations have been made by a number of schools in the city to the Relief union for distribution among the poor. The contributions were as follows:
South Wayne school, 25 cents; Hoagland school, room 12, 25 cents, and room 2, 25
cents; Hamilton school, 5 cents; Miner school, $1.10, 174 cases of canned fruits and vegetables, 32 glasses of jelly, 10 packages of beans, 14 packages of cereals, 4
bushels of potatoes, one bushel of apples,
53 bundles of bread, 7 packages of rice,
3 loaves of bread, one-half package of onions, 4 bags of meal, 3 bags of pancake
flour, 2 packages of macaroni, one package of dried apples, 3 packages of sugar
and other useful articles. The Brown Trucking company donated one of its large trucks to deliver the various articles
contributed to the home of Mrs. L. E.
Parrett, 1118 Hanna street, president of the Relief union.

into which the Germans pushed on their recent great drive west of the Meuse.
Apparently the German assault was on the western side of the salient, where Paris last night reported a heavy attack
by the Germans, declaring, however, that it had been repulsed.

FRENCH HURL ATTACK.

Paris, March 29.—(1:29 p. m.)—French troops made an attack last night on Avescourt wood, west of the Meuse, where the German assault was made yesterday. The official statement today says the French carried part of the works which the Germans had constructed. The Germans made a fierce counter attack, but were driven back with heavy losses. They made no other effort to recover the lost ground.

The recent German attack upon Ma-laincourt was made with a fresh division,
which was thrown back with large losses.
Twenty persons were killed, between thirty and forty wounded and two German aeroplanes were destroyed in the aerial raid over Salonki on Monday, says an official statement issued here
this afternoon.

A squadron of seven German aeroplanes attempted to make a raid on Salonki Monday. Their purpose was to reach the warships anchored in the harbor, but they were obliged to give this
up by the fire of the French artillery.
Pursued by French aviators two of the German aeroplanes were destroyed.
Bombs thrown down by the German aviators caused the death of three persons and brought wounds to thirty or forty others.

STORM FRENCH POSITIONS.

Berlin, March 29.—French positions
north of Malancourt, several lines deep along a front of 2,000 metres, have been stormed by German troops, the German headquarters staff announced today.

DUTCH STEAMSHIP SUNK.
London, March 29.—Another Dutch
steamship, the Duivdual, has been sunk.
All the crew were saved.

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN OUT.

Rome, March 29.—(Via London, 12:12
p. m.)—Italian infantry has ejected the Austrians from positions on the heights northwest of Gorizia, which were lost to the Austrians on Sunday, the war office
announced today.

The Italians captured 302 Austrians,

SOCIETY

In honor of the natal anniversary of her son Paul, Mrs. John Peters, of 1006

Miss Belle Overdeer has returned from a visit of several weeks in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Ellis, of Van Wert, Ohio, is visiting Miss Ola Marks, of South Harrison street.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fox are expected to arrive home this week from a trip to Honolulu.

Mrs. Emerson Brenizer has returned from a ten days' visit in Crestline and Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. J. H. Lemper, of 2515 Smith street, went to Chicago to visit her sister, Mrs. E. Poulson.

Miss Mazie Evans, of 1513 West Wayne street, has gone to Bluffton for a visit of two weeks.

Mrs. Abraham Weil, of West Wayne street, has gone to Chicago for a few days' visit with friends.

Mrs. D. S. Austin, of Huntington, is visiting Mrs. Ella Majors and family, of 2721 South Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nide and family, of Bay City, Tex., are planning to move to Wyoming, on a ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Opatz, of Harmer street, are entertaining Mrs. R. Lear and son, Paul, of Cumberland, Md.

Miss Mildred Bailey, of Angola, who has been visiting the Misses Hoopfinger, of Park avenue, has returned home.

Mrs. Roland Studvyn, of Toledo, O., has arrived in the city for a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tait.

Mrs. Newton W. Gilbert, of Manila, P. I., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert, of Hoagland avenue, for a few days, on her way to New York city.

Mrs. C. A. Strayer and daughter, Betty Jane, of Los Angeles, are coming the second week in April for a visit of some weeks with her mother, Mrs. Kitty Long.

Mrs. Moses Kann, of Webster street, is expecting visits soon from her mother and brother, who will be en route home from Hot Springs, Ark., to their residence city, Erie, Pa.

Brown Cooper renewed a college acquaintance with Walter H. Golde, accompanist to Mischa Elman, when he appeared in this city on Friday evening. The men were classmates at Dartmouth.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Banke are expected to come home this week from Battle Creek, Mich., where they have been for some weeks. Dr. and Mrs. Banke are considering a sojourn in California on account of the health of Dr. Banke.

Mrs. B. F. Sarver, who went south with Mr. Sarver to Florida and Cuba points, is now in Macon, Ga., for a two weeks' visit with friends. Mrs. Sarver returned home on Monday. Mrs. Sarver remains south with the hope of further improvement in health.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Scher entertained the members of the E. E. N. club at a progressive party on Sunday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. E. Boyle, J. Vondran, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wolford, Mrs. B. Boyle and A. Hosier. Other members of the club are Mrs. R. Hosier, Mrs. J. Vondran, B. Boyle, Ed Boyle and the hosts of the evening. A fine lunch was served after the game. Mr. and Mrs. Vondran will entertain the club the next time.

Master George Niezer, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Niezer, of Washington boulevard west, was five years old on Tuesday and celebrated the afternoon with a few of his small neighborhood playmates. There were games and good things to eat, including a birthday cake. The boys who spent this happy time with Master George were Billy Hunting, Billy Crane, Jack Olds, Jack Kitch, George Crane Bond, Robert Gilmartin, Junior Kelker and Clark Leips.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Allendorph, of Greenville, Ill., are visiting their son, L. H. Allendorph, and family, 825 Walnut street. The visitors are of unusual interest because of their ages and the length of time they have been married, fifty-nine years. Mr. Allendorph is 81 years of age and his wife has passed her 70th birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Allendorph are planning a much longer trip than the one they made to come to Fort Wayne, as they have a daughter in Pittsburgh they are going to visit and they expect to go to Troy, N. Y., as their home was formerly near that city. The matter of years is apparently of no concern to this bright and interesting couple.

Brown-Esterline.

Mrs. Bessie L. Esterline and Mr. Harley E. Brown were married by Rev. J. B. Bair at his residence, corner of Oliver and Pontiac streets, at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. A number of the bride's friends witnessed the ceremony. Miss Irma Velie played the wedding march. Congratulations and good wishes for long years of happiness were extended to the bride and groom, who are to go at once to housekeeping in Oliver street, near Pontiac.

Jeffries-Howe.

Rev. E. E. Howe officiated at the marriage of his daughter, Miss L. Irene Howe, to Mr. Guy W. Jeffries, on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, which took place in the presence of a few intimate friends. Miss Charlotte Bates and Mr. Edward L. Howe, a brother to the bride, were the bridesmaid and groomsmen. Mr. Jeffries is a printer.

Equal Franchise League.

At a meeting of the Equal Franchise league held on Tuesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A., Miss Sibley, president of the league, presided and Mrs. Richard Blossom presided as secretary. Mrs. C. S. Ridenour made the address of the afternoon on the subject of temperance laws in Indiana. Mrs. Ridenour declared that these laws are not properly enforced and gave a number of instances to prove her contention. The league moved to have its secretary write to the judiciary committee urging them to pass the Hobson bill. There was a social hour following the business.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Who's Who in "Daddy Long Legs"—Here Friday and Saturday.

Henry Miller brought together last night for "Daddy Long Legs" which includes many well known players. Three hundred or more applicants applied for each of the twenty-odd parts after the success of the fascinating comedy at the New York Gaiety theater made it evident that more than one company would play it. In the organization to be seen at the Majestic for two nights when "Daddy Long Legs" comes for its engagement on Friday, will be Frances Carson, who plays "Judy" and George Allison, who will be "Jervis Pendleton." Both are players of wide experience. Bessie Lea Lottina and Nina Saville have been with Mr. Miller's various organizations for many seasons. Fred Rivers, Kate Blanche, Marion Cooke and Viola Cain have appeared in the companies of many prominent producing managers. Frank J. Kirk, Donald Foster, G. Harrison Carter and Frank L. Davis are equally well-known, while the children in the cast include: Grace Dorr, Helen Sheedy, Anette Stein, Mary Cook and Billie Robinson. The engagement includes a matinee on Saturday.

"Nobody Home" Coming Next Week With Big Cast and Chorus.

After all there is nothing new under the sun and we are not half as original as we think we are—even if our slang is quoted as quite the hippest and latest thing all over the world. The latest to disturb us is the fact that the expression "Nobody Home" does not belong to us, is not our own creation, but was originally foisted upon an unsuspecting public no less than two hundred years ago. In fact from its association it is a classic. Probably nothing, however, has done so much to familiarize the use in America as its application to the title of John P. Slocum's new musical comedy, "Nobody Home," which is to be seen at the Majestic Wednesday matinee and night, April 5th. In this instance it refers to an Englishman of the "silly ass" type who blunders into an awkward situation and gets a lady in a very embarrassing position, and who eventually turns out—but then that would be telling another story which is much better seen and heard, than read.

MUSICAL COMEDY CLOSES TONIGHT

Five iVolin Beauties and Others at Palace Tomorrow.

The musical comedy gem, the Cabaret Girl, with Harry Angel, Clarence Marks, Madelon Lear, the King Sisters, Jura Silvio and others, closes this evening at the New Palace, as will Roubie Sim's nut cartoonist, in his lightning caricatures and laughable banter. The Cabaret Girl is a charming little diversion with an unusual wealth of lively, happy music and a group of clever comedy specialties.

New Bill Tomorrow.

Back to straight vaudeville for three days, the New Palace tomorrow afternoon will present an entirely new bill headlined by the fetching little musical conception, The Five iVolin Beauties. On this same program are Princeton and Yale, the fun makers, in their out of railway, Sixty Miles from Nowhere, Parks, Rome and France, the trio of songs, smiles and stuff; the Three Leightons in the skit, "Party of the Second Part;" The Gaudsmiths, the acrobatic clown and the Spanish poodle, and the Guzman trio in their globe rolling and head balancing novelty notion. This bill will run the remainder of the week.

AT THE ORPHEUM

FORT WAYNE LIKES 'EM.

New Singers at Orpheum Score Hit—Petrova in Films.

That Fort Wayne has unequivocally taken the newly organized Orpheum quartet to its heart is a fact that is being substantiated at this playhouse ever since this peppery bunch of vocalists made their initial appearance three days ago. Barring several big concert singers, no artists who have been seen here this season have gained so much applause as this quartet following the rendition of their program, which included several dynamic ragtime numbers, and a yodeling specialty by Mr. Saxton; one of the new members.

The films have a very attractive offering in "The Soul Market," five reels Metro play, starring the ravishingly beautiful Olga Petrova, and featuring Arthur Hoops, Wilmoth Merkyl and Fritz De Lint. This fascinating drama of stage life gives us some delightfully intimate peeps behind the scenes in a playhouse where a big musical comedy is running. The story abounds in tense situations, and a distinct surprise is afforded the audience in the startling denouement which comes just before the end of the story.

SPECIAL LADIES' SHOW.

Lingerie and Corset Display Thursday Afternoon.

The management of the Temple theater announces a novel matinee for ladies at the popular playhouse Thursday afternoon of this week. A large and beautiful exhibit of corsets and lingerie will be displayed by a model and the latest styles in these lines will be explained in detail. This will be a part of the style show which is being held throughout this week at the Temple theater and the Thursday matinee will positively be for ladies only.

The fashion show at the Temple theater is held in connection with every regular performance at this playhouse as a part of the dress-up week observance and it is attracting unusual attention. The very latest and most beautiful offerings of the various merchants of the city are displayed by models. The fashion show follows each performance. "Cost of Living" Next.

Tonight's show closes the run of "The Alien" and "The Cost of Living" opens Thursday afternoon and will continue throughout the remainder of the week.

MR. KERR PLEASES AUDIENCE.

Gives Unusual Program in St. Paul's Auditorium.

Several hundreds of people interested in good singing and also desirous of lending some assistance to the Waltham league of St. Paul's Lutheran church, under whose auspices the concert was given, heard with very apparent delight and approval a song recital by Ulysses S. Kerr, formerly of Minneapolis, and a basso-cantante who was recognized at once as deserving of much of the fine praise that had been given to him in other cities. At the piano was A. W. Burgemeister. Mr. Kerr has a voice of very lovely quality, good range and evident cultivation. During the first part of his program Mr. Kerr displayed a tendency to the use of the tremolo, though never with any variation in pitch, and later in his program that disappeared entirely. In his opening numbers Mr. Kerr displayed his liquid and musical tones in three languages. He sang the Italian "La Calluna" from Rossini's "Il Barbiere Sengila" to excellent advantage while the two following selections of the group, the Massenet elegie and a Norwegian composition, "Kamrat" by Korling, were equally pleasing and satisfactory. Better examples of Mr. Kerr's dramatic ability of expression were displayed in "Daguer's Anrede" from "Die Meistersinger" and the Toreador song from "Carmen," both of which were finely sung. Ten more songs of appealing quality that were delightful were sung, as in "Mendelssohn's 'O Wert Thou in the Clouds'" and the Irish air, "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms." "The Rosary" was sung as a final encore. For some of the audience the accompaniments to many of Mr. Kerr's songs were too intrusive because of their loudness, or a certain hardness of tone, as in the inspiration of the music led the performer to forget that his part was not the solo work. The fault may have been more apparent in some parts of the hall than it was in others. As a soloist Mr. Burgemeister displayed a mastery of technique and a brilliancy in performance. He played the Liszt rhapsodie No. 12 and responded to an encore with a Grieg selection.

WOLF & DESSAUER'S SPRING OPENING A FEATURE OF DRESS-UP WEEK.

Springtime and gladness summer were everywhere manifest last night at Wolf & Dessauer's opening and fashion show. Dress Up week had in the box for everyone was there in her best bib and tucker to see what the styles for the coming season are. The big store was crowded to the doors during the opening hours, from 7:30 to 10. Every one was in gala dress, gay with decorations of flowers and palms, but the first and second floors were crowded with points of interest, for here the living models posed in the hand-some costumes and millinery and Miss Larimore and several of her pupils gave a number of fancy dances. A score of young women of the store acted as models, showing the coats, suits, dresses and hats to splendid advantage. Little girls, too, were there, for "luxe" clothes now, always are of as much importance as their mothers, and the little tots were cunning in dainty spring things. A June bride, with her attendants, flower girls, bridesmaids and maid of honor, was a fitting climax to the fashion parade and was a delightful feature of the evening. As usual with events of this kind, it was a wonderful success. The Elks' band gave a concert of popular airs throughout the evening. The entire program will be repeated this evening.

MADAME CATHERINE'S CHATS

"I see by the papers that this Dress Up week is to be a pretty big affair," said one of Madame Catherine's customers, as she stepped into the corset shop at 113 West Wayne a street yesterday.

"Well, to begin with," stated the customer, "I really need a good corset and this night I will buy one this spring, so it will have to be well now. But aren't you rather crowded for display space to show all of the latest models for Dress Up week?" questioned the customer.

"Yes, but we have very nicely gotten around that. You see, there will be a display of our latest spring arrivals in corsets and accessories at the Temple theater next Thursday afternoon. It will be a display for ladies only and I'm sure it will be quite a good thing for all of the ladies who are at all interested in the new spring corset styles and who can afford the short time permitted to see the exhibition."

"Well, that really is a fine thing, Madame, and I'm sure that it will be as interesting enough for me to attend the display."

FINANCE COMMITTEE IS STILL AT IT

Centennial Hustlers Could

Not Finish Their Work

Yesterday.

The finance committee of the Centennial association made splendid headway yesterday in securing signatures to the agreement to guarantee a fund to put on the big show, but the work was not finished, and will go forward until all who wish to help in the big project have been visited.

Louis F. Curdes, chairman of the committee, states that while $20,000 and over were subscribed yesterday, the work went slowly for the reason that many who were visited had gained the impression that they were subscribing to furnish a certain amount to pay the centennial expenses. It was found necessary to go into details to explain that the subscriber is simply putting his name to an agreement to help make up a guarantee fund to meet any possible deficiency.

Mr. Curdes makes the plan perfectly clear in the following explanation which he hopes will be read by all who have not been visited by the committee so that the work of the solicitors may go along more rapidly than can be possible when it is necessary to explain the plan in detail to the prospects:

Mr. Curdes' Statement.

The finance committee of the Centennial celebration is meeting with very creditable success in its undertaking, but owing to the fact that some of the citizens of Fort Wayne are not fully acquainted with the plan to assure the credit of the general committee, a great deal of time must necessarily be spent in explaining the plan to the prospective subscribers.

Not Asking for Money.

"The committee is especially desirous of impressing upon those who would subscribe that no present payment of money or absolute promise of future payment is required. The situation is this: The maximum probable cost of the pageant and celebration, according to the careful estimates of the committee, substantiated by experts, is placed at $22,000. The committee has every reason to believe that $20,000 will be subscribed. Should the expense of producing the show exceed the estimate of the committee by $3,000, an expenditure of $25,000 would be necessary. Further, should the committee fail to take in one cent of the revenue from the sale of seats and concessions, the persons who obligated themselves by signing the subscriptions would be called upon to pay 50 per cent, or one-half of the amount to which they subscribed.

"Such a state of affairs could hardly come to pass, for the following reasons: There will be at least three performances at Reservoir park. There will be 14,000 seats available at each performance. The seats will average one dollar each and if only two-thirds of the seats were disposed of the receipts would be at least $3,000 in excess of the cost. It should be borne in mind that the sale of seats will commence at once. Mr. Sam Wolf, who is in charge of the seat sale, is confident that every seat will be sold by the 15th of May, and that at least $40,000 will be in hand at that time.

"In addition to this the association will sell many concessions, from which an income of at least $10,000 is expected.

"The promoters, instead of anticipating a deficit, are confident that the receipts will far exceed the expenses and leave a neat fund as a starter toward a great celebration hall.

Weather Cannot Interfere.

"Should weather conditions prove unfavorable on the dates selected for the celebration, the delayed performance will be announced for a future date without regard to weather conditions.

In other words, the pageant will be presented on at least three evenings, and the indications now point to a fourth performance to care for the crowds which will come to see it.

"It is hoped, therefore, that those who have not already signed will not delay the committee in their visits, but take prompt action so the work may go forward with rapidity."

The Centennial association has engaged Robert B. Garmire as the official stenographer of the association. With the assistance of a stenographer, Mr. Garmire will take up his office in the Centennial headquarters at the Commercial club next Monday, April 3.

E. W. Puckett's committee on arrangements has about completed the task of "lining up" the big events of the four days' celebration, and their plans will be ready for announcement in a few days.

At a meeting of the cabinet held last evening, P. A. McHugh, of Chicago, presented a plan whereby he assumed entire charge of the seating of the amphitheater for the pageant.

Judging the Posters.

General Chairman E. C. Miller has selected a special committee which is today giving careful study to the vast number of suggestions for an official poster design of the designated ideas to decorate the walls of headquarters, which are made to resemble an amateur art exhibit.

Three Days Only THURSDAY—FRIDAY—SATURDAY March 30, 31 and April 1st

What Is a One-Cent Sale?

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustration: The standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You buy a tube at this price and by paying 1c more, or 26c, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices, and have sold you for years.

A New Way of Advertising

This sale is an advertising plan which enables you to purchase a full sized package of high class merchandise for 1c and convince yourself of the merit of the goods.

Unless otherwise advertised, we will take orders for goods that run out and fill just as soon as new merchandise arrives. We want to get these goods in your home. Check this list carefully and if two items are too many, have your friend or neighbor buy with you.

BRICK SUSPENDED ON TROLLEY WIRE

Another Attempt Made to Interfere With Car Traffic.

Patrolman Walter Patten reported to police headquarters late Tuesday night that a brick had been found suspended from the trolley wire of the city street car lines on Pontiac street, between Barr and Lafayette streets. It was hanging just low enough to fairly strike the plate glass in the front end of the car, where the motorman stands. The obstruction was discovered by a motorman in time to prevent an accident. The officer spent an hour in the vicinity in the hope that the perpetrator of the deed might be found lurking about to observe the result of his attempt, but no one was seen who aroused suspicion.

IN THE CITY COURT.

Couple Charged With Adulterous Relations Continued for Trial.

Charles Thacker and Ada Hollow, arrested at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning in a residence at Michigan avenue and Nelson street, were in the city court a few hours later charged with living in adultery. The hearing was continued until Thursday morning because the attorney for the couple was unable to be in court. Their bonds were fixed at $100 each. Thacker says he has been in Fort Wayne only since Saturday, having then arrived here from Michigan. Both man and woman are middle-aged.

Edward Reed, a one-armed peddler, of whose conduct several complaints had come in from the east end, was arraigned on a drunk charge and went to jail for eleven days. He was hawking writing paper and the like and was insolent and abusive to householders who would not purchase his wares. Officers George Galentine and Reginald Major were detailed to find Reed and he was picked up on McCulloch street.

William Parson, arrested at a Barr street rooming house where he was drunk and asleep in the kitchen, was continued until Friday morning to get sober. He was brought in by Detective Sergeant Joseph Brennan, after the mistress of the place had complained.

West Wasserkamp, a Romaninan, was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness. He was arrested at the Pennsylvania depot by Officer Charles Eisenhut.

FAKE METER TESTER ABROAD.

A search is being made by the police for a man who has been visiting households on the east side of the city, claiming to be an electric meter tester for the lighting department of the Fort Wayne Traction company. The man is an impostor and fraud and probably a sneak thief, who is posing as a meter tester to gain entrance to homes for the purpose of robbery. Inquiry by the police of the traction company and the city lighting departments discloses that no one answering the description of the man reported is employed by either. When asked to display his badge the man makes excuses.

S. M. FOSTER NAMED ON PURDUE COMMITTEE

Lafayette, Ind., March 29.—At a conference held here by the trustees of Purdue university it was decided to build an armory at Purdue university to cost $150,000. It is the intention to erect a building that will cover two acres of ground. Another meeting will be held at Indianapolis on April 27, at which time definite action will be taken. If the structural iron for the new armory can be secured at once the new armory will be given preference over all other buildings that are to be erected at the university this summer.

Samuel Foster, of Fort Wayne; Charles W. Downing, of Indianapolis; and William V. Stuart, of this city, were named as a committee to secure plans for the new building.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method. Advertisement.

SEEK TO BLOW UP ATTORNEY'S HOME

Fiendish Attempt at Muncie Believed Wet and Dry Fight Outcome.

Muncie, Ind., March 29.—Unknown persons early this morning attempted to blow up the home of Wilbur Ryman, a prominent attorney of this city, as the result of what is believed to be his efforts in working towards keeping saloons out of Muncie. The kitchen of the Ryman home was shattered and practically all the windows were broken. Glass in the surrounding homes was shattered. The explosion was heard over the entire city. Neither Mr. Ryman nor any of his family was injured.

Following the recent option election in which Muncie voted wet by 79 votes the drys have been circulating remonstrances which will be filed Friday. Ryman has been actively engaged in the remonstrance work. He was also named as assistant special prosecutor in the indictment cases against various city officials, the right of the court to appoint him together with the special prosecutor now being a question pending in the Indiana supreme court.

TOLEDO IS WALKING; NO RELIEF IS NEAR

Tie-Up of Street Railway Traffic There is Now Complete.

Toledo, March 29.—With every street car in the city idle and working men and women compelled to get to and from their labor the best way they can, indications today were that no relief in the situation would be had in the immediate future.

Eight hundred conductors and motormen quit work yesterday when told to remove union buttons from the lapels of their coats or quit. Some of the cars were left standing in the streets.

Henry L. Doherty, of New York, president of the Doherty interests which control the local line of telegraphed last night that the union under no circumstances would be recognized. He asked the men, however, to return to work pending his arrival here, which is set for Thursday. The request was refused unless permission to wear the buttons was granted.

The organization of the street car men's union was effected a few days ago. No demands of any kind had been made by the men. The trouble is now in the nature of a lockout, it was stated.

MORE DRESSED-UP PEOPLE ON STREETS

First Day of the Week That the Weather Has Been Fit.

"Dress Up" week means more than the casual reader imagines, and it is well to stop and think of the benefits derived to seller and buyer. This applies to the purchasing of dress just as it applies to eating and having a roof over the head. "Dress Up" week started Monday in Fort Wayne, as elsewhere, and it will be long remembered as something not only novel, but interesting.

Weather conditions were more favorable Wednesday for the celebration of "Dress Up" week, being conducted under the auspices of the Fort Wayne Mercantile association. More dressed-up people were on the streets today than on the two previous days of the week.

Fort Wayne merchants have become greatly interested in the idea of "Dress Up" week and have made every effort to engage the attention of all purchasers, so that when the people become even more used to the somewhat novel idea of having this special week wherein to purchase and arrange for becoming garb, there will be a general rejoicing.

INITIATES CLASS OF FORTY CANDIDATES

Moose Lodge Takes in Many Applicants; Events in Other Lodges.

A class of forty candidates was initiated Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Fort Wayne lodge, No. 200, Local Order of Moose, and many new applications for membership were also received. The ceremonies Tuesday evening took place at the new lodge rooms at Webster and Wayne streets. Several more large classes will be taken in before the dedication of the new building which takes place on June 6.

The Knights of Malta held a preliminary meeting Tuesday evening at the Aldine hall and the following officers of the commandery were elected: R. C. Morton, six knight commander; A. R. Dickey, six knight general; O. D. Edwards, prelate; S. L. Burson, recorder; C. S. Morton, assistant recorder; L. B. Webb, treasurer; H. R. Schrautz, senior warden; H. A. Burson, B. Young and P. H. Doty, trustees.

Sir Charles H. Howland, P. C., of Cuyahoga Falls, gave an address in which he traced in an interesting manner the founding of the Knights of Malta. The Loyalty Commandery No. 498, will be initiated Saturday, April 8.

Relief Bazar April 29 to May 1. Preparations for the bazar to be given for the benefit of the Fort Wayne Relief Bazar are being made by the bazar committee.

Ladies' of No. 436 Get in the Field Early With Social Event.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 436, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, have placed tickets for their annual ball on sale. In the sale of tickets and otherwise the older members of the B. R. T. have offered their assistance and the annual ball will undoubtedly be a greater event in a social and financial way than either of the two previous events, which were also regarded quite successful. The coming ball will be given at the Elks hall Thursday night, April 27.

WATCHMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE.

In Effort to Prevent Accident is Nearly Struck by Auto.

About 7:45 Wednesday morning, as the eastbound local on the Nickel Plate was nearing Clay street, an automobile containing four persons was seen coming from the north. The crossing watchman stood in the middle of the street and swung his flag, but the driver paid no attention whatever and it was necessary for the watchman to jump to one side or he would have been knocked down. The automobile barely cleared the crossing when the engine passed over it. There was four numbers on the machine, but bystanders could only discern the two first, which figures were "76." All the persons in the car were strangers.

RETURNS FROM THE SOUTH.

District Sales Manager E. J. Little, of the New York branch of S. F. Bower & Company, but who on account of poor health has been in the south two or three months, is here for a short visit. He will go to the Battle Creek sanitarium for several weeks' treatment before resuming his duties at New York. Mr. Little was district manager at Fort Wayne two or three years, retiring last December. His health was improved by the sojourn in the south.

ANOTHER WABASH CHANGE.

Bulletins issued by the Wabash officials announce some changes in the freight department, effective April 1. E. Spangler, contracting freight agent at Pittsburg, has been promoted to traveling freight agent, with headquarters at Decatur, Ill., succeeding P. L. Behmyer, who was compelled to resign on account of ill health. W. G. Kidd, chief clerk of the contractor's office, has been named as the successor to Mr. Spangler at Pittsburg.

SHORT ON BOILER MATERIAL.

Work at most of the industries of the city is more or less handicapped by a shortage of material. At the Bass boiler shop this shortage is particularly noticeable and because of it Foreman F. T. Bendy has temporarily suspended night operations and has placed the men in the day shift to hold them until some material now on the way reaches the plant.

ADDED FOUR TO LIST.

Foreman F. A. Opatz, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is increasing his working force gradually. This morning the following were given employment in the shop: R. E. Engelking, a hammer operator; H. J. Goeglein, C. McKinley and Ed Sperry, the latter formerly of the Bass boiler shop.

OPERATORS GET RAISE.

Notice of a 5 per cent increase in the wages of Nickel Plate dispatchers and operators, effective April 1, has been received here. It is said seventeen men in Fort Wayne will be affected by the order. The N. Y. C. operators received a similar notice a week ago.

MACHINIST HAS FOOT HURT.

George Miller, a machinist working on stokers at the Pennsylvania round house, will be off duty several days as a result of an accident last Monday. A jack fell upon one of his feet and painfully bruised the member, though no bones were broken.

OFF ON A PLEASURE TRIP.

Night Yardmaster John Miller and Switchman Jack Corrigan, of the Wabash, are off on a two weeks' pleasure trip. They left last night for Newport News and thence they will make a trip down the Atlantic coast, stopping at leading points of interest.

HURT BY FALLING IN PIT.

G. Taralito, a machinist's helper at the Pennsylvania round house, sustained injuries yesterday when he fell into an engine pit. One of his knees was sprained and bruised and he is scarcely able to walk. He is off duty.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Pennsylvania Boilermaker O. Groves is sick and off duty.

James Romas is a new laborer in the Pennsylvania machine shop.

Frank J. Ruch, Pennsylvania pipefitter, is off duty on account of sickness.

A. J. Sordet, a Pennsylvania cab builder, is off duty on account of sickness.

Pennsylvania Yard Engineer F. H. Rogers is off duty on account of sickness.

R. T. Fawcett, a lineman in the Pennsylvania power plant, is sick and off duty.

Machinist John Gochringer, of the Pennsylvania wire shop, is off duty on account of sickness.

Boilermaker C. C. Ober, of the Pennsy, has gone to Mansfield, O., to attend the funeral of a relative.

F. T. Henry, general agent of the Santa Fe, was in the city today looking up business for the company.

W. J. O'Connor, a Pennsylvania fitter, is off duty on account of the serious condition of his mother.

H. J. Bultr, a tender repairer, resigned at the Pennsy shops this morning to take employment elsewhere.

The meeting of the division storekeepers of the Pennsylvania closed last night and the men who attended it who live

AGED MAN WANTS NEW FRIEND NEAR ALWAYS

C. M. Rouzer Says He Wouldn't Be Without Tanlac in His House.

C. M. Rouzer, 72 years old, a well known Fort Wayne man who lives at 403 Perry avenue, is one of the many friends Tanlac, the Master Medicine, has made in Fort Wayne and vicinity. Mr. Rouzer, who is a retired employee of the Wayne Knitting Mills, recently said:

"For the last two years I have been bothered by rheumatism and kidney trouble. I had severe rheumatic pains in my legs and with severe pains in my back also I was hardly able to get around at all. I slept poorly and I had a very poor appetite.

"I saw in the papers that Tanlac had helped other people and I decided to try it. After taking one bottle of the medicine the rheumatic pains became less severe. I've taken two bottles of Tanlac now and the kidney trouble also has been greatly relieved. I sleep fine now and I have a ravenous appetite.

"Tanalac has helped me wonderfully. I wouldn't be without it in my house for a minute. I want my third bottle of the medicine now."

Tanalac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and the like and is a fine system purifier and general tonic required by many at springtime.

Tanalac is now being introduced in Fort Wayne at the Wayne and Calhoun streets store of the Meyer Drug Co., where the Tanlac Man is explaining the new remedy. It also may be obtained at the other Meyer stores, Calhoun and Columbia, 1420 Calhoun, and Broadway and Taylor.—Advertisement.

Boilermaker Henry Geerken, who was sick ten days, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

C. R. Aiken is back at his desk in the valuation department of the Pennsylvania, after being sick awhile.

Machinist J. E. Young, who had a foot hurt last week, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

Miss Muriel Pierce has taken the position of manager of the millinery department of the Tepper Brothers store.

Machinist W. C. Tegtmeyer, who was sick four weeks, resumed work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Assistant Master Mechanic F. T. Huston, of the Pennsylvania, left this morning for Chicago on business for the company.

Engineer R. E. Sherer, who had been off duty on account of the death of his uncle, resumed work on the Pennsylvania today.

Oscar Braungart, assistant ticket agent at the Wabash, in charge of the office at night, is off duty because of a fever on his finger.

O. O. Thwing, chief engineer and sales manager for the Western Gas Construction company, is in Chicago in the interest of the firm.

W. Schutt, for four months employed as a helper in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, resigned this morning and will go to Detroit to work.

B. McCloskey, a machine operator at the Pennsylvania power plant, resumed work this morning. He was hurt by falling off a car a week ago.

F. W. Morgan, of Argos, Ind., is here for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. T. C. Steger, wife of Foreman Steger, of the Wabash pipefitting department.

The railways announce rates to Cleveland May 12 to 16 on account of the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. This rate from Fort Wayne and return will be $7.50.

Mrs. A. J. Lepper, of Woodstock, Can., is here for a visit with relatives. Mr. Lepper is superintendent of the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump company's factory there.

Machinist Ed Ely, of the Pennsylvania toolroom, is sick and off duty. Machinist C. W. Miller, who was hurt in a fall from a bicycle, reported for work at the toolroom this morning.

Anthony Henry, clerk in the blacksmith shop at the Fort Wayne plant of the General Electric company, resigned yesterday and will move to his father's farm northeast of the city.

The Pennsylvania crew was sent to the northeastern part of the city yesterday to pick up a car loaded with railway steel which was derailed near the Tugley & Doan elevator.

Kekionga Aid society, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, will be entertained at Unity hall Thursday afternoon with Mesdames Myers, Snyder and Davis as hostesses.

Passenger brakeman George E. Cour, of the Pennsylvania, is improving from an illness which began December 12 and has kept him from work on the road since. He expects to be able to resume work about April 10.

An error in The Sentinel yesterday made it appear that M. J. Meldrum was general foreman of the Pennsylvania round house. It should have read Nickel Plate round house and shops. E. B. Hughes is general foreman of the Pennsylvania round house.

The boys in the valuation department of the Pennsylvania received a postcard from O. P. Snook, stating that he has reached Dunkirk and has settled down to business. Mr. Snook is there to inspect construction work at the American Locomotive works for the Pennsylvania.

GARBAGE PLANT TO RISE ON CITY DUMP

Council Approves and Work of Construction Will Begin at Once.

The new garbage plant will rear its classic lines on the city dump in the rear of the municipal barns on "made ground," between Clinton and Barr streets. This was decided by the city council Tuesday evening, after a painful session in which there was threat of turbulence and an ominous prospect for a time that the carefully laid plans for unanimous action and a harmonious solution of a long-voiced question would wind up a mass of wreckage.

But the program went through and the board of works will at once proceed to choose the precise site on lot 4, owned by the city, and the Edwards company will have its engineer here as soon as possible to stake out the ground for an excavation. The contract awarded the Edwards company for the construction of a DeCarie incinerator of fifty tons capacity per day, required that the new crematory be completed within 120 days from the approval of the agreement. This is expected to have the plant ready for operations by the middle of August, when the heavy demand on the crematory will begin.

Up in the Air for a Time.

It was supposed Tuesday afternoon that everything had been well set for prompt and unanimous action by the council to decree that selection of the dump as a site and the approval of the contract. When the members of the council gathered in the city clerk's office, a half-hour prior to the hour for opening the council, and the members of the committee on contracts and franchises and the special committee on a new garbage plant met in joint session to prepare a report embodying the program, trouble began to brew. By the time the council convened there was a pretty well defined opposition.

The council dined along with its routine schedule until the contract with the Edwards company was brought up by the report of the committee recommending the passage of the ordinance approving the contract. Councilman-at-Large Charles W. Welch wanted to know what assurance the council had that the board would execute its agreement with the council as to the site and the location should be specified in the ordinance.

Councilman Frank J. Schlebecker, of the Second ward, made open war on the proposal, declaring it would be expensive to deliver garbage at the point selected and that it was where it never could have railway track facilities. Councilman A. H. Keller, of the Eighth ward, thought the site of the old plant better than the one chosen for the new. Councilman Peter A. Offenloch, of the Seventh ward, demanded that the site be made clearly defined in the ordinance and took occasion to declare that the old site was good enough and should be chosen.

President Bayer Launches Hit.

"Gentlemen, this sudden opposition to the site agreed upon is a surprise. It was all understood and everybody was willing to settle this matter the way it is proposed. It was understood that every man would stand by this agreement. Now what do we find here tonight? I don't understand it. Here comes a show of prejudice and opposition that no one expected. I supposed the council was harmonious on this thing. I can account for this prejudice in only one way. Somebody higher up has been busy. I cannot account for this opposition any other way." This portion of the remarks by Councilman-at-Large William A. Bayer, president of the body, caused something of a sensation. President Bayer spoke with much feeling and at considerable length and was interrupted several times by a call for the eyes and nose. He pleaded for adoption of the dump as the site, declared the board of works would be forced to carry out its oral agreement without being bound by ordinance and pleaded for harmony.

Then Councilman Schlebecker arose to remark that President Bayer's finger had seemed to be pointing to him as the member under the influence of "somebody higher up" and he entered a solemn and emphatic disclaimer. "I have not talked about this matter to anybody whatever today," he declared.

Councilman Keller moved that the site be defined in the ordinance and was seconded by Councilman Offenloch. Then the president ruled the motion out of order, flashing the rule that no ordinance on its third reading could be amended in any manner except to strike out.

Agne Starts a Flurry.

Councilman Jacob Agne, of the First ward, then started something that threatened the program with disaster. "We've been at this thing since last August," said the member from the First.

"The council appointed a special committee to represent it in conference with the board. That committee decided unanimously on a central location for this new plant. Now, if we are to have a change of sites, if what the board finally decided on is to be passed up, let us stand by what we did in the first place and have a central location. Refer this whole matter back to the special committee. I am not for any compromise with the mayor and the board on this matter. The special committee has always been in favor of a central site and it is right now. You know it."

This brief bit of oratory "took" quite promptly and there was a buzz of approval. But nothing happened and a moment later the roll-call on the passage of the ordinance was in progress.

The ordinance got 14 votes, Councilman Schlebecker standing by his guns and casting a solitary vote against it. Clinton Street Parking Ordered.

After a brief debate, in which opposition was made by Councilman-at-Large Paul Kinder, the ordinance ordering the paving of Clinton street from First street to the city limits was passed by 13 to 2—Councilman Kinder and Councilman-at-Large Jacob Hartman voting against it on the ground that the improvement should not be ordered on the objection of property owners. The ordinance was passed on appeal by the board of works on a sufficient remonstrance filed against the resolution for the paving.

The council passed an ordinance fixing the bonds of members of the city police and fire forces and referred to the committee on finance an ordinance appropriating $250 from the Anthony Wayne monument fund to the park improvement and betterments account to meet expense incurred by the Wayne monument commission in choosing a model for the equestrian statue of Fort Wayne's founder. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the bill in congress to retire on pay of $600 a year supernumerary employees in the postal service and approved a contract for coal to be used by the city lighting plant.

For a Municipal Flag.

A resolution introduced by President William A. Bayer and adopted by unanimous vote provided for the appointment of a committee of citizens, of which the mayor and the president of the council should be members, to choose a design for a municipal flag that shall be the official oriflamme of the city of Fort Wayne. The flag will be chosen from designs submitted in competition for a prize of $50 offered by a morning newspaper. The committee appointed consisted of Mayor W. J. Hosey, Councilman-at-Large W. A. Bayer, Van B. Perrine, president of the Commercial club; B. J. Griswold, of the Progressive Advertising company; Judge S. M. Heeneh, representing the Grand Army of the Republic; Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. O. N. Gullin, representing the Federation of Women's Clubs, and an artist of recognized ability.

FORBIDS FILLING DELTA LAKE.

Mayor Hosey Refuses Request by Park Superintendent Gets.

When Park Superintendent Carl J. Gets submitted to the board of works, Wednesday, a request that the water connecting Delta lake and the Niagara be Lakeside park with the Maumee river be opened to permit the flood tide in the stream to fill the basin for the summer, the request was referred to Mayor W. J. Hosey for a decision. The result was logical to the last word. Nothing doing. "So long as I have anything to say or do with the drainage matters in Lakeside there will be no water from the rivers turned into the basins while the stage of water is high enough to require that the sewer valves be closed," said Mayor Hosey. The taking of the key to the Delta lake valve from the park department and making the board of works custodian of it has been one of the issues between Mayor Hosey and the Lakeside Civic Improvement association. There is revival of talk of a mass meeting of all the people of Lakeside to decide whether or not they want the river turned into the lake while there is still danger of floods.

TO IMPROVE LINCOLN WAY.

At a conference of the board of county commissioners with the board of public works late Tuesday afternoon an agreement was reached for joint action in the improvement of the Lincoln highway from Wells street to Hensch street, which part of the road is in deplorable condition. The county will furnish the broken stone and roller to put upon it and the city will haul the stone and place it and pay the cost of any necessary drainage. The part of the highway to be improved is on the line between the city and county outside.

HAVE PLANS FOR BUILDING

The board of works has in hand the plans prepared by Architect Bradley for a two-story brick building it is proposed to erect on the rear of the property east of the city hall and used by the lighting department. The building will be two stories high and is designed for store rooms and workshops for the waterworks and lighting departments. It probably will be erected this year.

WILL HAVE JOINT MEETING.

Secretary J. D. Byanski, of the board of trustees of the firemen's pension fund, has written to Lieut. Harry Grimme, secretary of the board of trustees of the police pension fund, asking that he make arrangements for the police board to meet the firemen's board in joint session to discuss matters of mutual interest.

MUNCIE SALOON SITUATION.

"Drys" May Make Remonstrances Effective With Exception of One Ward.

Muncie, Ind., March 29.—The indications were that remonstrances against the return of saloons to Muncie probably would be effective in every ward of the city except the Sixth, which is a residence district.

In the event that the business district remains "dry" and the Sixth ward becomes "wet," an attempt will be made by the "wets" it is said, to divide the city into two corporations, one to be known as "North Muncie," and the other as "South Muncie," the latter to be a "wet" corporation and the other to be "dry."

The opinion prevails that the county commissioners are not likely to grant liquor licenses during the April term. The whole affair is likely to be tied up in the courts for a considerable period.

INTRODUCING CALIFORNIA'S NEW WONDER, CHAMPION HIKER-DRESSES.

Colonel Marston starting his hike.

San Francisco, Cal., March 29.—California has a new wonder. It's Colonel Frank W. Marston, champion pedestrian and dresser of the Union League club here.

Dressed up in a brilliant hued walking costume of his own design, including a red silk tie, red silk socks and cork hula, a la Roosevelt, he covered the distance of 50 miles between here and San Jose recently in 25 hours and 42 minutes after he left his club. The actual walking time was 14 hours and 28 minutes. Scoffers had placed big wagers that he could not make it in 96 hours. By thus proving his ability as a hiker, the colonel won $750 for himself and about $6,000 for his friends.

A brass band, a cordon of police, an ambulance and a hearse, the last two features of the equipment provided by humorous friends, accompanied the daring athlete to the city limits while thousands looked on and cheered.

BISHOP CALLED BEST LOVED MAN IN ALASKA

He Was Trailing Across Northland Before Gold Was Discovered.

By Jack Jungmeyer
Seattle, Wash., March 29.—"The best loved man in Alaska!"

It's the Northland's tribute to one of its stalwarts—men whose vision and valor has at length forced the government to accord recognition some of the benefits merited by pioneers.

Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe of the

BISHOP PETER TRIMBLE ROWE

Protestant Episcopal church is "the best loved man" because he has made himself an inspiring factor in the life of every human being he's come in contact with during his long service in Alaska.

He's a big, two-fisted man of God. And he was on the job tending souls when there wasn't much law of either God or man north of '53.

Busted miners, needing courage; shy Indian children; abused, outlaw dogs; bullies of the camp and trail; sinners and near saints—all found a friend in Bishop Rowe.

Over thousands of miles of terrible trail he pulled his own sled or munched with the dogs. He has frozen and starved with the poor, been the honored guest of the rich, and has played host to every one who came within his reach, white, Indian and breed.

Before gold was discovered, Peter Trimble Rowe was trailing across all Alaska, visiting his mission outposts. Eating salmon belly and pemmican and moose steaks with trapper, fisherman and musher; with barbarian native and hardy adventurer of his own race. He wasn't bishop then. Just a sort of itinerant spiritual adviser and pal of humans who needed a hand and a word or cheer.

And although he can fly like an arctic storm, when his anger is roused, he has always been tolerant of the ordinary failings of red blooded men.

Once he helped a profane musher on a soggy trail untangle his dogs. The stranger had never met Bishop Rowe and didn't recognize him.

"How's the going ahead of me?" asked the bishop, as they were parting. The description was a torrent of damnation that would have keeled the ordinary pastor over.

"And how's the trail ahead of me?" concluded the stranger.

"Same kind," ironically rejoined Bishop Rowe. And now that soundough swears by the bishop as well as at his dogs.

His belief in a man's fists as well as his soul, has endeared this fed-blooded ambassador of God to the harder spirits of his vast parish.

Fights and perilous adventures he's had galore. His first consideration is always the worldly needs of his companions, and he has never favored the meanness of his own creed.

"If Alaska were to become a state tomorrow, Bishop Rowe would, if he'd consent, become the first governor elected by the people day after tomorrow," is the estimate of him by a man who knows Alaska and Alaskans like the bishop knows his Bible.

TRACES BOY TO FARM.
Mother Finds Adopted Son, 15, Gone Six Months, at Work.

Jamestown, Ind., March 29.—Frank Laffin, fifteen years old, adopted son of Mrs. Alexander, of Carlisle, Ky., who disappeared from his home October 15, 1915, was found yesterday working on a farm near Danville, after Mrs. Alexander had traced him through three towns from here. Mrs. Alexander will permit the boy to remain at his work as long as he chooses, she said. A neighbor in Carlisle recently told Mrs. Alexander, she said, that the boy, who had been sought in vain since his disappearance, had been heard of here, and Mrs. Alexander came here at once. Through former neighbors she traced him to Lebanon, then to Pittsboro, then to Danville and from there to the farm where he has been working for several months.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.—Advertisement.

CASH COMES BACK AT LAST Man Returns $35 Stolen in Holdup Twenty-two Years Ago.

Hagerstown, Ind., March 29.—Twenty-two years ago, as J. N. Baldwin, then a huckster, was driving to his home five miles north of here, he was held up by three masked men and robbed of $35, the robbery occurring just at dusk.

on the public highway, and in sight of his home. There was no clew and the matter was dropped without investigation.

Mr. Baldwin, who seven years ago moved to Cowan, near Muncie, and is traveling as an evangelist, a few days ago received a letter sent from this place, in which $35 was inclosed. The letter read: "Here is your money. I want to get this from my mind and get clear of this sin. All these years since I helped to rob you have been years of hell. I was but sixteen years old and had company got me into it. The gun I pointed at you while the other two highwaymen robbed you was a pocket knife. You said, 'O, my God.' Now I have said the same many a time since in my prayers for forgiveness. The other two that helped are still living, but neither helped me make this up to you."

MART CLEARY HEADS NEW BASEBALL CLUB, WILL PLAY SUNDAY AND HOLIDAY BALL

Fort Wayne will have high class holiday and Sunday ball as the result of a meeting of enthusiasts held Tuesday evening, and at which time an organization was formed, officers were elected and the old Central league ball park was leased for Sundays and holidays through the coming season.

The officers elected were: Mart J. Cleary, president and manager; Bert R. Dennis, secretary-treasurer; Fred J. Alberts, vice president; and William G. Hillinger, captain. All are old Shamrock men and three are former Central leaguers.

The company will be known as "The Fort Wayne Baseball Club," and a team of stars will be collected. The shop league will furnish most of the players, although it may be necessary to go outside for other men. Mart Cleary is whipping his team into shape already and it will not be more than ten days until the lineup shall be pretty well shaped up.

It is the intention to play the fastest independent teams in the country and to place Fort Wayne at the head of the list in the central states in the matter of independent ball. The shop league will be seen in action, too, against the Cleary aggregation.

However, should Wheeling or one of the other towns drop out of the Central league, the Fort Wayne club will withdraw from the lease and attempt to get the Central league back into the city. The fellows behind the organization are good sports, and are anxious to get the city back into the Central and to do so would gladly get out themselves.

ED HARKENRIDER GETS HIS HUNDRED

Fort Wayne Man Tied for Third Money in Big Pin Meet.

Toledo, O. March 29.—Three cities will battle for the supremacy of the American bowling congress tournament tonight when Cincinnati, Chicago and Toronto, Canada, will roll off the tie for the individual title at the terminal building. Two weeks ago Frank Shaw posted 685, being followed two days later by Ben Huesman, of Cincinnati, with the same mark. With the pair seemingly installed on the top row, Sam Schliman, a Toronto player, equalled their score. Should Shaw win, it will mean the nailing of all four of the championships of the meet to the Chicago mast.

Following are the twenty winning leaders in all events:

- No. 1—Frank Thoma, Chicago, 1912—125.
- No. 2—Oskallush, Rochester, 1896—117.
- No. 3—E. Harkenrider, Fort Wayne, 1874—110.
- No. 4—A. Wastehow, Omaha, 1871—110.
- No. 5—G. Bamberg, Detroit, 1858—89.
- No. 6—Charles Hildebrand, Chicago, 1852—88.
- No. 7—E. Harkne, Chicago, 1847—87.
- No. 8—W. Metcalf, Chicago, 1844—86.
- No. 9—R. Ray, Chicago, 1837—85.
- No. 10—H. Graf, Chicago, 1826—84.
- No. 11—W. Froeming, Chicago, 1812—83.
- No. 12—C. Cochran, Omaha, 1818—82.
- No. 13—E. Shepard, Kansas City, 1818—82.
- No. 14—H. Brunnett, Cleveland, 1818—82.

OLD HEAD STEADIES YOUNG ARMS.

Waxahachie, Tex., March 28.—Hugh Jennings and Tyrus Cobb have been sidetracked, temporarily, from the spotlight trained on the Tigers' southern camp. Samuel Crawford and Donie Bush are out of the picture. An elderly gent, Billy Sullivan, one-time team of catchers, and for nine years battery mate to "Big Ed" Walsh, is the man of the hour.

What the Tigers need most in the coming flag race is a strong pitching staff. Sullivan is totting to produce one.

Veterans will grace all the positions except the box, hence Jennings is not worried. All his regulars have been asked to do is to get into physical trim. In addition to the old familiar batting, fielding and base running practice the speckled Hughey has introduced the game of leap frog and after each rehearsal sends the squad vaulting about the outfield with a sprint to taper off the grind.

Daws and Covelesie are the only hurlers whose normal form has been approved by Jennings and Sullivan. Lowdermilk, Boehler, Dubuc, Boland, James and Marshall will profit by the veteran make-man's teachings. Boehler and Lowdermilk have displayed marked improvement. Each was wilder than a hawk when training started.

When Sullivan took charge of Boehler he found the latter used several deliveries. The coach contended this was the principal reason for the youngster's wildness and set out to teach him an easy, effective style. The result has been that the pitcher has gained control. Lowdermilk, possessed of tremendous speed, had trouble with his fast ball. He is rated an effective curve ball flinger. Dubuc, master of the slow ball, lost his curve last season. He then became ineffective and unable to work regularly. Sullivan has rectified this trouble.

training season of several Central league clubs will start, and in a few more weeks the pennant race will be under way.

A fighter died in Philadelphia of over-exertion the other day. You're wrong, his name wasn't Freddie Welsh.

Evansville, Ind., March 29.—Football coaches and some of the more prominent officials in the central states will gather here soon to discuss the new rules. Some differences of opinion as to effect of certain regulations have arisen and the conference is expected to act as a court in their interpretation. Officials will be appointed at the meeting for some of next fall's games.

Chicago, March 29.—The first athletic event between teams of women ever sanctioned by the Central A. A. U. will be the swimming meet between the Woman's Aquatic club of Detroit and a girls' team representing the Indianapolis Turners. The meet will be held April 1 in Detroit.

THE WELL-KNOWN PREPAREDNESS AGAIN: HARVARD CAPTAIN TRAINS WITH GLOVES

HOW CAPT. DADMUN APPEARS IN RING TOGS.

Cambridge, Mass., March 29.—Capt. Harry H. Dadmun, of the 1916 Harvard football eleven, believes in preparedness, though actual gridiron hostilities are six months distant, the crimson tactician has reported to Henry Allen, university boxing instructor, with whom he will work out every day learning the fine points of the game and conditioning himself for next season.

Dadmun's normal height is 195 pounds. He now weighs at 217. His first day's training consisted of bag punching, chest weight work and three fast rounds with Dave Deshier, veteran lightweight, and Trainer Allen. Dadmun expects to continue his exercising stunts until the football season opens. Several other Harvard captains have been good boxers, including Charles Brickley, Eddie Mahan and Bob Stone.

PURDUE COMING BACK FOR RETURN MATCH

And the Lyceum Feds Are Working Nights Getting Ready.

The Lyceum Feds are getting set for a regular battle on the south side floor next Friday night when the Purdue crowd comes for a return engagement. The collegians found the local Irishmen a way off step the last time they were here but the Feds have gotten back into the running again and will make the visitors battle some. The Purdue Specialists are a crowd of intelligibles from the big university who are putting up a rattling good game, probably a better game than the varsity squad. They have been dropped from the varsity team because of ineligibility either through professional standing or scholarship and are making the best of their opportunities.

SHOP LEAGUE NOTES.

Thirty-six players will report to Manager O'Brien, of the Fort Wayne Electric works shop league team Saturday, April 6, when the local industrial boys will begin their spring practice. New uniforms have been ordered by the electric workers crowd and will be here within a couple of weeks.

A meeting of the Fort Wayne shop league will be held at the office of President Mart Cleary Thursday night, and reports will be received on the score book advertising. Over half the space was sold in the first day out, and the boosters hope to sell the rest of it within another week. The book is the only method the boys have of making money, and as there are tens of thousands of them distributed the advertisers are grabbing for the publicity afforded and also to show their sympathy with the movement for good clean amateur ball in Fort Wayne.

The eight teams of the industrial league probably will have new uniforms for half of them already have ordered the new ones and the rest are planning to.

Secretary-Treasurer Ora Goff, of the industrial league, has looked up in his safe the entrance fees and forfeit money of all six of the shop league teams.

The Pennsylvania baseball team will take an active part in shop league and independent ball this season. The team has been reorganized with a good strong lineup. The club will be composed of a few veterans and some promising youngsters. Al Ringle, a charter member of the shop league, has been elected manager and Harry Hamm secretary. The team will play shop league ball on Saturdays and is open for engagements with the strongest independent teams on Sundays and holidays.

Manager Ringle has at least three good pitchers who are well known locally, and one who is not so well known now but he will be before the season is very far advanced.

Tod Solida, one of the best outfielders in the old shop league, has secured a position in the Pennsylvania shop and will make somebody step some to keep him off the team.

BUYS HOUSE FOR CLUB HOME.

Terre Haute Y. M. I. Closes Deal for $12,000 Property.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 29.—Good Will council No. 277, of the Young Men's Institute, has bought for use as a club house the former home of John P. Brinkman. The consideration was $12,000. The labor Temple association owns a lot in the same block and proposes to erect a building there, and the Masons will build a $90,000 temple in the same block. The Masons, I. O. O. F., Knights of Pythias, Elks, Eagles, Knights of Columbus and Y. M. I. all own property in the heart of the business district. The Brinkman residence is to be remodeled and ready for occupancy by the Y. M. I. by June 10.

Russia's population will be 600,000,000 by the end of this century if it maintains its present rate of increase.

BROTHER MANIACS WILL SOON BE OUT

Looie, Gason and Art Are the Foolish Gents.

(By Harold Johnson.)
Brotherly love will be eliminated when the Chevrolets, Louis, Arthur and Gaston, take the wheels of their high powered Frontenac racing automobiles this season. This trio will make their debut as a racing team at Indianapolis in the 300 mile speed derby on Memorial day. Louis, the oldest of the three, expects to complete at least one and possibly two cars in his factory in Flint in time for the opening of the speed campaign May 13 at New York.

Louis Chevrolet's name has been prominent in American motor racing for seven years, his principal driving having been done in Buick and Fiat cars. He retired temporarily after the "bloody" Vanderbilt cup event of 1910.

Arthur Chevrolet has teamed with Louis in many races, doing most of his work in Buick machines. Gaston is the youngest of the brothers now in the United States. A fourth, Alfred, the oldest of the family, is still in France.

The Chevrolets are Franco-Swiss, natives of Lathaux de Fonda, Switzerland. When Louis was eight years old his parents moved to Beaune, in the heart of Burgundy. Louis the first to turn to autos, working as a mechanic for American importers from the time he came to the United States in 1909 until 1906, when he joined the Fiat and started racing.

In 1905 Louis was mechanic to Henry in the grand prize at Savannah. Two years later he started making history with Rob Burman and George DeWitt on the Buick's big four.

Mattresses and pillows used in the United States now will in the future be filled with kapok, a vegetable fibre which is light and buoyant.

She Blames Moon for 21 Proposals

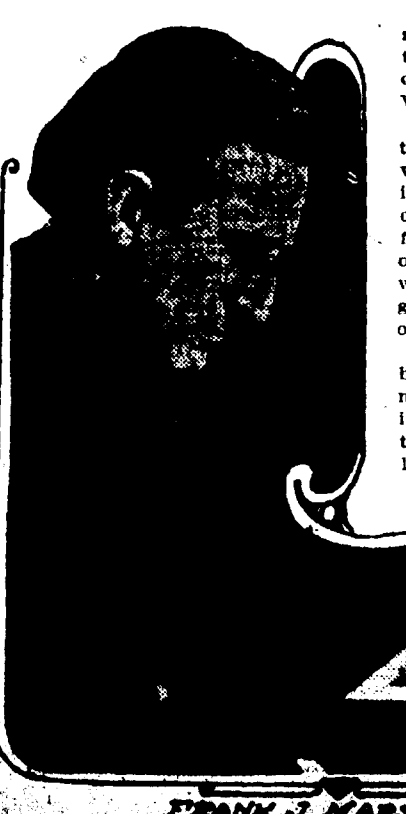

"Chicago will look good to me when I get back," sighed Miss Helen Dow, a fair daughter of the Windy City, after she had landed safely in San Francisco the other day from a trip to Hawaii and the South Seas.

"There's something wrong with the moon over there," she complained. "Tourists after a time become moon struck. Everybody falls in love. I had 21 different chances to get married, or rather that many proposals, and the thing rather got on my nerves. My trip was intended as a cure from the distractions of city life, but between the moon and the seashore, I didn't rest much."

THERE AINT NO SUCH ANIMAL; WINS 82 GAMES OF CHESS AT ONCE

Washington, March 29.—Frank J. Marshall, of New York, chess champion of the United States, broke four world records recently in competing with 105 of Washington's best chess players.

The match was staged in the rooms of the National press club where the tables were arranged in two long lines stretching the length of three of the communicating rooms. Marshall passed rapidly from one table to another, keeping track of the 105 games with apparent ease. He won 82, lost 8 and drew in 15 of the games. Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles was one of a number of prominent players.

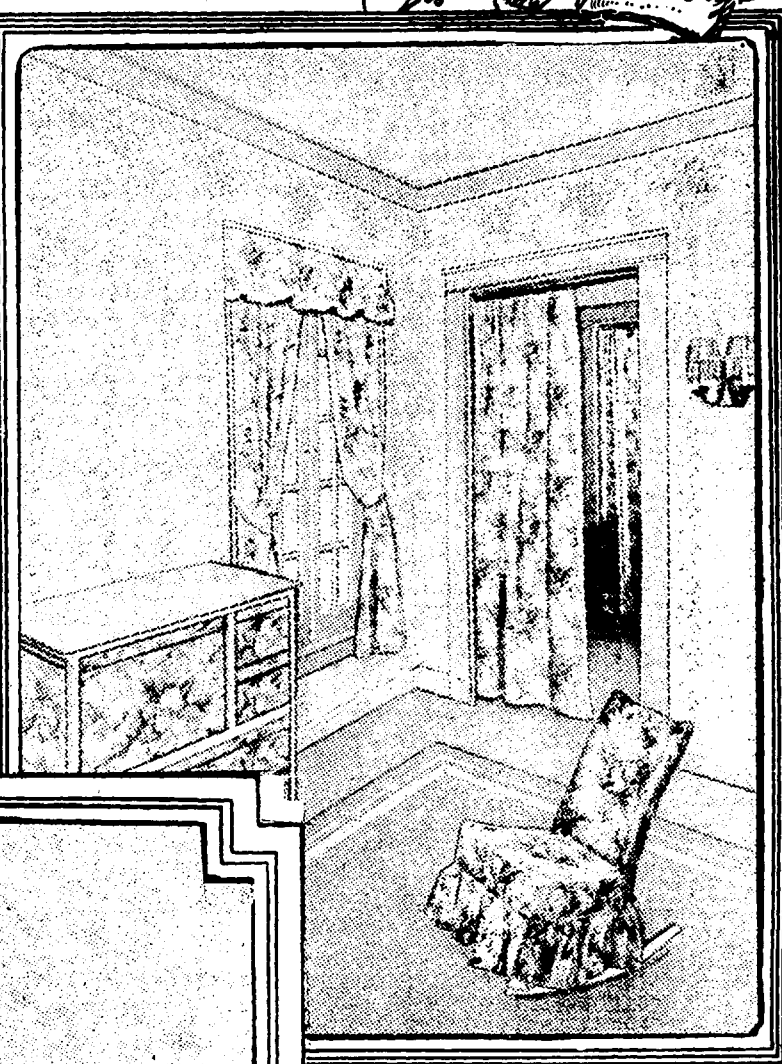

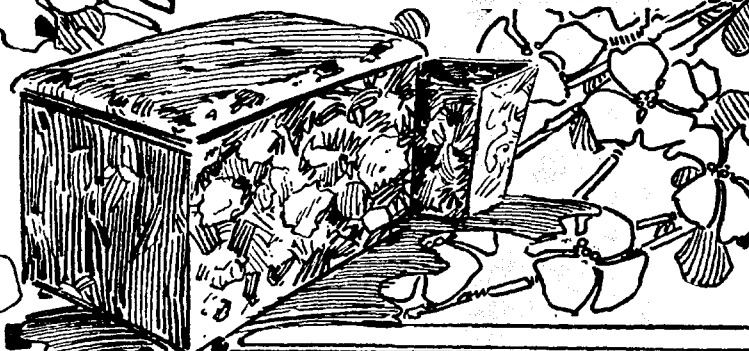

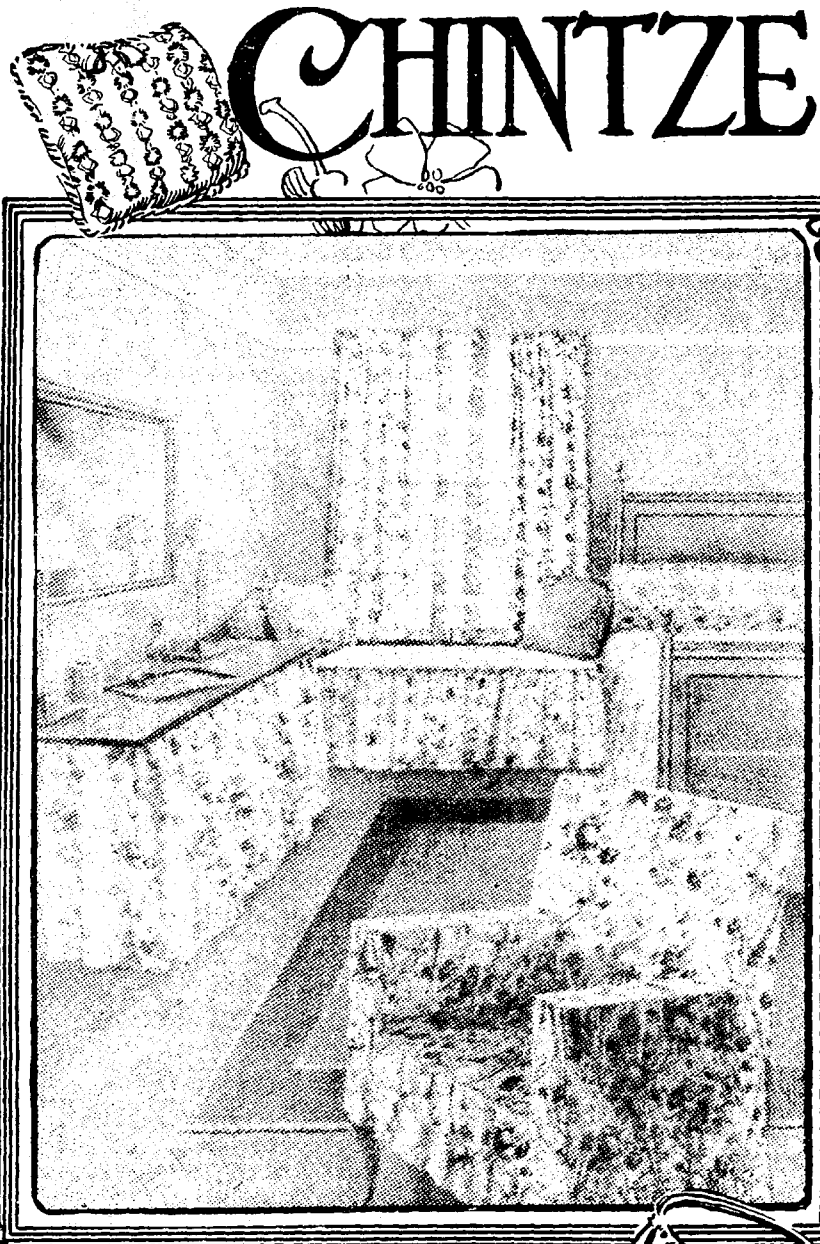

The former world's record in the number of simultaneous games played was made by H. Fahrni, a German, in Munich, in 1911, when he played 100 games simultaneously, winning 55, drawing 39 and losing six.

FOR A COLD

C AMPHOR for colds is taken in this manner: A drop or two is placed on a lump of sugar, dropped into a small wine glass of water and a teaspoonful taken every two hours. This is also taken for a cold. For a sore throat a flannel cloth is saturated in hot strong camphor water and applied to the neck; it is renewed as soon as it becomes dry. Gargling the throat at frequent intervals with salt and water allays the inflammation of a sore throat.

ODDS ENDS

SACHETS are now given as bridge prizes, so that the hostess who possesses more of the virtue of hospitality than money may entertain correctly if only she has a large number of fresh-looking silk pieces at hand. Such little bags are of all sizes, as they are used to drop among the handkerchiefs, the neckwear, the gloves and the lingerie. They are mounted over little, fine white linen sacks which hold the powder, and their ends may be fringed and tied together or shirred into a sort of rose effect. Sachets are especially acceptable these days, when only vague suggestions of perfume are permissible.

IF you are in a quandary as to which color to choose for your tailored suit, you will be safe in making it blue. This color is represented by the popular tones known as corbeau—raven's wing, soldat, Russian, Belgian, China, midnight, navy, marine and Nattier. All tones of gray, from the palest dove to the deepest tone of dreadnought, are to be very smart for street or house wear. Field mouse, metal, stone and mist will be familiar names before the season has advanced much further, and loam, chestnut and leather brown will also be used. Sage, cypress and moss are to be prominent among the greens, and sulphur yellow has also appeared again. There will be much purple worn, and many smart street suits of tete de negre or beige.

THIS little scrap box is decidedly clever and a child could make one. A small square box was lined with blue tissue paper ruffled around the top. The box is placed on a pretty lace ruffled handkerchief, corner to corner. Two long pieces of ribbon are crossed and tacked to the outside bottom of the handkerchief, a strip being brought up on each side of the box to form double handles to hang it to the dresser. This forms four lace cornucopias at the ends of the box. Between each cornucopia make a ribbon rosette, and a tiny one on the bottom of the box where the ribbon is tacked. This is a very pretty ornament.

NO housewife likes to feel that the blankets on her bed are so shabby that she would be mortified to have an outsider see them. It will, therefore, sound pleasing to anyone owning a blanket which shows wear to hear of a way in which to utilize the cover. A coverlet for the crib or for the couch can be very easily made from the discarded blanket. Cut the blanket to the proper size. Buy enough silkoline to cover both sides of the discarded blanket. Select a dainty pink and green flower spray on a blue ground and use solid blue for the border. Pink or blue sashy should be used for tufting the material together. If you want something more elaborate use real silk covered with a richly colored design. Lacking a child of your own, you can make the coverlet for some small relative or friend. The idea is too good to waste.

AT a recent pathological congress in Paris it was brought out that the best cure for a bad-tempered husband is to fill him with carrots, white cabbage and cauliflower make people vulgar and stupid, says a writer. Editors, judges and other superior persons should eat potatoes, as they develop the reasoning faculties, but overindulgence will produce laziness. Green peas produce flirting propensities in girls who eat them, and altogether the subject proved an interesting one.

SOFA cushions filled with a stuffing largely composed of dried herbs of various kinds are now being sold as a cure for nerves. It is claimed that the sweet scents induce pleasant thoughts and that the sufferer, being freed from worry, falls quickly asleep, sleeps soundly and peacefully and so soon regains a normal nerve tone.

GUMBOILS are most painful and result generally from a decayed root of a tooth, which causes the inflammation and that the sufferer, being freed from abscess that resolves itself into a gumboil. Foment the outside of the face with a hot camomile and poppy-head fomentation and apply a small whitebread and milk poultice to the gumboil. Renew frequently. So soon as the pain and swelling have disappeared, it is best to have the tooth removed. In cases where decayed and ulcerated roots have been allowed to remain, disease of the jawbone has resulted. Usually when the sufferer takes cold there will be a renewal of the inflammation, pain and annoyance.

THE many women who have objected to the daintily short skirt have finally adopted it, but only since the advent of the high boot, so that now they can comfortably wear skirts that are a good eight inches from the ground, and it must be confessed that not only are they most comfortable, but decidedly youthful looking, which is an advantage that is not to be lightly set aside. But what is milady of the modest mien to do for evening? She is so wedded now to the abbreviated skirt and its charms that for evening she will desire to wear lacy affairs that are quite as short, and what is bothering her more is that they appear so much shorter with the dainty evening slippers. She was really in despair until some ingenious person originated two lace ruffles that are to be attached to the skirt stockings. With a scalloped skirt and dark slippers there is a quaint appeal that takes one back to the pictures of grandmother when grandfather was courting her.

THE KITCHEN

Stuffed Potatoes With Cheese.

Bake until soft five or six medium-sized potatoes, and with a sharp knife cut directly in halves, carefully removing the cooked potato into a bowl. Mash until free from lumps, then add one small cup grated cheese and salt and pepper to taste. Beat with a fork until light and creamy and heap into the potato skins, dusting the top with grated cheese and return to the oven until crisp and brown on top.

Salad Dressing.

One tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon flour, one teaspoon of salt, small tablespoon of dry mustard, two tablespoons of best olive oil, three eggs, one cup milk, three-quarter cup (scant) of vinegar. Add the oil to the dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Add egg and beat well, add milk and vinegar very slowly. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thick and smooth.

Prune Pie.

Half pound prunes, half cup sugar (scant), one tablespoon lemon juice, one and a half tablespoons butter, one tablespoon flour. Wash prunes and soak in enough cold water to cover. Cook in same water until soft. Remove stones, cut prunes in quarters and mix with sugar and lemon juice. Reduce liquor to one and a half tablespoons. Line plate with paste, cover with prunes, pour over liquor, and over with butter, add dredge with flour. Put on an upper crust and bake in a moderate oven.

Ham Cakes.

Take pieces of boiled ham or smoked shoulder and chop fine. Boil potatoes and mash or use cold potatoes and chop. Take two-thirds of potatoes to one-third meat. Add one or two eggs (beaten), enough to make it the right consistency to shape into round, flat cakes. If too moist add a little flour. Fry in hot fat after dredging them with flour. Should be seasoned to suit taste with salt and pepper. Fish cakes made in the same way are very nice. This is a good way to use up pieces of meat or fish.

Egg Salad.

Two dozen hard-boiled eggs, pour over following dressing: Two eggs beaten very light, sugar to taste, one-half cup vinegar. Put all on stove, stir constantly from first putting on stove until cooked. Remove from stove, add one teaspoon prepared mustard and small lump butter; let cool and add half cup sweet cream. Do not stir constantly while on stove it will curdle.

Eggs With Onion Sauce.

Rub through a coarse sieve enough mild-flavored cooked onions to make one cup. Melt two tablespoons of butter, blend in one and a half tablespoons of flour, then add half a cup of cream and the prepared onion, and stir until perfectly smooth. Season with pepper and salt, cook over boiling water for five minutes, add the beaten yolks of two eggs, cook a minute longer, then add four hard-boiled eggs cut in slices, and sprinkle with one teaspoon of chopped parsley before serving.

Oyster Fritters.

Make a thin paste or batter. For half dozen oysters use their own liquor and an equal quantity of sweet milk, one well-beaten egg, one-quarter teaspoon table salt and about three tablespoons of flour. Chop the oysters, mix with the batter and fry by dropping the mixture, by the teaspoon, in hot pork fat, lard or butter (fried in mixed fat, half lard and half butter, will improve the oyster flavor), or the whole oysters may be dipped in the batter singly and fried whole—one oyster and enough batter to make a medium large spoonful. Turn so that each side will be a light-brown color, but they require comparatively little cooking.

"LOVE IN A COTTAGE"

BY EDNA EGAN.

THE great trouble with middle-class Americans," said the young matron, "is that we judge each other altogether too much by our outward show, and we try too hard to live up to a standard that somebody else sets for us. Now in the matter of houses one is judged by the size of one's house. The bigger the house the more respectable its owner, even if it breaks his poor wife's back."

"We had the same standard in our family. We lived in a great big draughty house in the home village—never could heat it in winter, and we had more rooms than we ever used—but they had to be kept in order, because one never knew when company would come or when one might be taken sick and the village gossips get a chance to snoop around."

"When we moved to the city we always managed to rent the biggest house we could find, within our means. Mother thought it necessary to keep up our social status. Poor mother—she's always been a slave to a big house."

"Well, this place means two maids and a man for the outdoor work. Even then it keeps me busy seeing to things. And somehow Bob and I never have seemed to get close together here. I did so want a homely home. "Mother thought it was just an eccentricity of mine. But we were so happy in the little cottage that Bob and I have decided to sell the big house and build a bit of a bungalow on a wide lot, where we can have plenty of outdoors to live in and not so much house to take care of. We'll have a woman come in to do the heavy work and send most of our washing

FASHIONDOM

BY MRS. KINGSLEY.

WHEN the tale of this spring's tailleur comes to be written one chapter will be headed "Taffeta." First editions of spring modes reveal taffeta as a prominent character in the style story. And there is ground for assuming that later editions may disclose this fabric as the character around which tailleur modes revolve.

The crispness of this material lends itself to achievement of the approved silhouette for spring. Dressy tailleurs, those frocks intended for afternoon wear, must follow a line of conduct that prescribes flaring skirts and flaring coats. Taffeta gathered or circular-cut, gives a skirt as bouffant an effect as any one might wish. As for coats—taffeta can be relied upon to put the desired measures of "pep" in any pelum.

Narrow tucks and stitching are two forms of embellishment favored in the fashioning of the spring tailleur of taffeta. Some very attractive models have skirts with lower edges finished, hem-deep, with tiny tucks placed in almost overlapping position. Stitching is employed to accentuate lines of modeling, but in this, fashion prescribes that only self color thread shall be used.

A Russian Tunic Blouse.

Among the new blouses is a most alluring model called "The tunic." Of course it is Russian in type and its important feature is an extension below the waist line, which gives the long, Russian tunic effect. This extension is either gathered or circular and falls from a trim belt to midway between hip and knee. Worn over a separate skirt of harmonizing material the new Russian blouse gives the effect of a complete costume. The idea is a practical one, for any woman can furnish the simple, well-cut skirt and purchase one of these smart blouses to complete a really stunning new frock.

In some of the smartest new waist models color is combined with white either in the fabric itself or by the use of different materials, such as sheer crepe and taffeta or crepe and wash satin.

MILADY'S BEAUTY

IF, when bathing, you will put half a teaspoon of vinegar in either cold or warm water, but not hot water, it is very cleansing and bracing and will keep the skin in an active, healthy state. It is also an excellent thing for a foot bath.

AN excellent hair wash is to take one ounce of borax and one ounce of powdered camphor and dissolve in a pint of boiling water, added to cold water in a bowl. The camphor will form into lumps, but a sufficient amount will dissolve. This will strengthen the hair and preserve the color.

TO make thin cheeks plump rub skin food in with the following movements: To treat the right cheek, place the thumb of the left hand just beyond the corner of the mouth on the left cheek as a brace. Make rotary movements upward and outward, beginning at the corner of the mouth and making three diverging lines of manipulation over the cheek. With the right hand treat the left cheek. About six times over each cheek is sufficient.

NATURE has made the eyes as bright as she intended them to be, and if we try to increase their brilliancy by an artificial method we may impair the sight, says a writer. Let them have all the rest they require. Do not strain them by reading when lying down or when sitting in a poor light. Bathe them frequently in cold water and once in a while give them an extra bath with a teaspoonful of boric acid dissolved in a teaspoonful of distilled water. An eye cup which you may purchase at a drug store for 10 or 15 cents is the best method of bathing the eyes. Cold water strengthens and brightens the eyes wonderfully and children should be taught the habit of bathing them once or twice daily.

THE little white crescents at the base of the finger nails can often be developed by daily soaking the fingers in warm, soapy water and gently pressing the soft cuticle with an orangewood stick. Trim off any rough particles of cuticle, but do not cut any oftener than is really necessary. By daily care as directed above the growth of the cuticle will be slow. A little grease rubbed on the nails at night will also help to keep the cuticle from splitting.

AN excellent lip salve for ordinary use is the old-fashioned camphor ice. Glycerin should not be used in any case. It has too great an affinity for water and is too drying, while the camphor ice to the laundry, and we won't have any rooms in that house except the ones we live in.

"Mother says we will lose all our social prestige and father says people will think Bob has lost his money. But, as I said, we aren't going to care much what people think. It's up to us to provide our own brand of comfort and happiness, and if I want to live in a little house it's my own concern—and Bob's. Besides, I want time to be a good mother. I want our child to feel that his home is a snug and dear place—not just a house over which his mother is more concerned than over her baby. Haven't you been in homes where the house is the first consideration? I have. So many people are slaves to things."

is cooling and healing. In aggravated cases, after applying the latter for two or three nights change to the vaseline treatment, and then, having reclaimed the lips, they may be assumed their original smoothness and firmness, keep them in good condition by drying them properly and by keeping the tongue away from them.

A GLASS of lemonade taken at bedtime with very little sugar in it improves a sallow skin, unless the acid disagrees with the digestion. Eating an apple before breakfast is another simple method of preserving health and improving the complexion, and if an apple is added to the breakfast menu and is eaten with a slice or two of crisp toast it will prove both appetizing and beneficial.

THE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

BY MRS. McCUNE.

FOR the benefit of guests who are invited to wedding anniversary parties a few suitable gifts are suggested. Cotton gifts for the first year are none too numerous. For instance, the dainty guest bags filled with small cotton pads for powdering the nose make pretty and appropriate gifts. Anything in cotton towels or cloths for the kitchen would be appropriate. A little stand to hold spools of thread can be fitted out with cotton spools and will make an acceptable gift.

The paper wedding is even more difficult to match in gifts. Pretty calendars come under the head of paper, as do attractive blotters. Sets of paper doilies for the cake or bread basket are acceptable gifts. The leather wedding, on the third anniversary, brings a load of useful things. Leather pillows, leather covered books, blotters; leather scarfs for table or mantelpiece. Or a handsome gift, a suitcase, a traveling bag or a good-looking purse would be beautiful and welcome presents.

The fourth year of marital bliss is called the fruit and flower year, and of course, lends itself easily to decoration and gifts.

The wooden wedding, coming on the fifth anniversary of the wedding ceremony, is perhaps more often celebrated than any other. Beginning with this anniversary, it is the custom for the bride to make some sort of a stipulation against very expensive gifts. As wood covers all sorts of furniture, it is only kind for the bride to state in her invitation that only presents brought by the guests themselves will be accepted. Attractive wooden gifts can be found in picture frames, book stands, carved wooden fans, etc.

The sixth wedding anniversary is sugar. The seventh, woolen, the eighth India rubber, the ninth willow, but these are seldom celebrated, the tenth, or tin, being next on the list. This needs no suggestions, as half the kitchen utensils come under the head of tin.

The eleventh anniversary is steel, the twelfth silk and fine linen, the thirteenth lace, the fourteenth ivory, the fifteenth crystal and the twentieth china.

With the silver wedding it is customary for the hostess to add to her invitations, "No gifts will be accepted." This seldom hinders the guests from bringing some present, but it makes it easy for those whose purses are limited.

WHEAT CROP WILL BE ONLY A THIRD NORMAL

Indications Are However That the Acreage Will Be as Usual.

From reliable sources comes the information that the wheat crop of Allen and surrounding counties will only be one-third normal since only about that portion of the usual amount was sowed last fall. Reports are to the effect that the wheat which was sowed in time last fall has withstood the weather this winter and the bushels per acre will be nearly normal. County Agent C. Henry states that some of the fields in the county are in excellent condition while others are fair.

The farmers experienced some very bad weather last fall so that they were unable to work the ground. The same trouble has come back to them this spring and unless the sun comes out strong this week nothing will be done in the way of preparing the oats ground until next week.

As soon as the condition of the ground is favorable, however, the farmers will be busy and in a week's time the greatest portion of the oats seed will be in the ground. Farmers have come to realize that by discing the ground instead of plowing it brings better results and also saves much time.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 29.—Wheat made a fresh advance today, owing to reports of heavy damage to the winter crop and because of unfavorable weather in the spring crop belt. At first however, the market underwent a temporary setback as a result of lower quotations from Liverpool, where supplies were said to be increasing despite Germany's submarine campaign. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4 to 1/2 cent down, with May at $1.12 1/2 to $1.13 1/2 and July at $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 3/4, were followed by a rise to more than one cent above yesterday's finish.

The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4 cent lower, with May at $1.12 1/2 and July at $1.10 1/2. Later receipts and the prospect of a further increase of visible supply took a depressing influence on corn. Realized in sympathy with wheat were not maintained. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower, the market scored slight gains but then relapsed. The close was nervous at 1/4 to 1/2 cent decline. Oats stayed with corn. Changes, though, were narrow. Lower prices on hogs carried down provisions. Not much power to recover was shown.

New York Market.
New York, March 29.—Coppers, Motors and some of the war issues were the features of today's early trading at gains ranging from fractions to a point. Initial dealings in Kenecott, Shattuck-Arizona, Reading and Erie comprised individual lots of 1,000 to 1,500 shares, the rail showing slight recessions. United States Steel was unchanged at the outset but substantially made slight headway, while Crucible Steel forfeited all of its rise. Specialties, with few exceptions, made further improvement later.

Activity increased in the first hour but trading was restricted to Marine preferred, Crucible, American Locomotive, Angloconda and Goodrich, while United States Steel and other car shares fell into comparative obscurity. Steel was strong, however, rising 1/4 to 3/8 before the partial reversal of the second hour. Reading was the only rail to manifest more than ordinary activity, but was under pressure, as were Union Pacific and Erie. Anglo-French 5s were active and strong. Other bonds were steady.

Rails and United States Steel fell to lowest prices in the final hour, with recessions in most other quarters. The closing was heavy.

FORT WAYNE TO COPY DAYTON WELFARE PLAN

Mrs. Nesbit Will Return in April to Supervise the Work.

Fort Wayne will have a welfare department patterned after Dayton's, if Mrs. Josephine L. Nesbitt, well known worker for beautification of home grounds, who delivered a series of lectures here recently, is a true prophet.

Mrs. Nesbitt will return to Fort Wayne about the middle of April to take charge of a city-wide movement for improving landscape and sanitary aspects of home grounds. Her belief is that success of the summer's work will mean a permanent welfare department in this city.

"When I accepted the work at Fort Wayne I said that I believed it would be the beginning of a permanent welfare department for the city," said Mrs. Nesbitt on a recent visit to Dayton.

"Later I addressed the chamber of commerce, the park board and the board of health. They were much interested in my first-hand account of Dayton's government, especially as to the welfare department. I believe they agreed with me that the work just begun in Fort Wayne may develop into a city department. They stated, however, that under Indiana laws it would probably be necessary to go to the legislature for authority to establish such work."

Plans in this city include a city-wide contest in beautification and sanitation of home grounds. Condition of alleys will be scored, and mosquito-breeding puddles will have to be eliminated by would-be-prize-winners. Special emphasis will be placed on the three principles of landscape gardening, with which President Patterson, of the National Cash

Register company, has familiarized Daytonians.

Four years ago Mrs. Nesbitt was a quiet country woman who did a little writing for the farm papers and who was inspired with a great idea by hearing the National Cash Register lecture on landscape gardening. She secured co-operation of the Dayton factory and of the people around the little village of North Hampton near Springfield, where she lives. Together they worked out a plan by which girls of the neighborhood were helped to improve their home surroundings. Later she did similar work for the state.

In coming to Fort Wayne, Mrs. Nesbitt believes that she has the opportunity to work out an efficient plan which may develop into a unique and permanent department. The summer's work is under auspices of the chamber of commerce, park board and board of health. It is owing to the board of health that sanitary conditions will be included in scoring for prizes. Whether to adopt sub-divisions of the city in establishing districts for the work or to draw new lines is a question which has not been decided in connection with the work at Fort Wayne.

PUTS BLAME ON HIS DUAL PERSONALITY

Dr. Waite's Confession is a New Edition of Jekyll-Hyde.

New York, March 29.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite confessed late yesterday afternoon that he killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hannah Peck, with disease germs and murdered his father-in-law, John E. Peck, with arsenic.

In making the confession he laid the groundwork for his defense on the plea of mental irresponsibility. He attributed two natures to himself—a good and an evil one—and said that the evil nature, a stranger to his real self, dominated him when he committed the crimes.

Interview is Related.

The essential part of the dentist's confession was made to District Attorney Swann and Assistant District Attorneys Mancuso and Brothers in the presence of former Assistant Attorney Walter R. Deuel, who has been engaged as counsel for Dr. Waite.

The lawyers walked into the private room of the alcoholic ward, to which Dr. Waite had been removed, and found the man lying on a bed rubbing his hand across his forehead, seemingly in a shaken and uncertain condition.

Cannot Remember Swann.

"Dr. Waite," said Mr. Deuel, "here is District Attorney Swann, to whom you talked last Friday. Do you want to make a statement to him?"

The dentist looked at Mr. Swann in a dazed manner, passed his hand over his eyes and showed no trace of remembering the district attorney, to whom he made a lengthy statement in which he admitted buying arsenic so that Mr. Peck might commit suicide.

"I don't remember," he murmured. "Don't you remember me?" asked Mr. Brothers.

"Did I?" asked Dr. Waite. There was a moment's pause before Dr. Waite spoke again.

Admits Two Murders.

"Oh, but that doesn't matter," he said, "it's all over now. I did it all. I killed Mrs. Peck and Mr. Peck. The man from Egypt made me do it. He was after me for a long time. I couldn't shake him off. I wasn't able to get rid of him until last night."

"He's gone now, but I couldn't get away from him for a long time. I don't know what his name was. I asked him and he didn't tell me. I was afraid of him. I told Clara about him."

By "Clara" Dr. Waite meant his wife, who now is in Grand Rapids.

30 DIE IN WRECK

FULLY FIFTY HURT IN CRASH OF TRAINS NEAR CLEVELAND

Second Section of New York Central Flyer Plunges Into First at Amherst, Ohio, and Twentieth Century Limited Crashes Into Wreckage a Few Minutes Later

Twenty-five Bodies Taken Out and More Known to Be in the Debris--Injured Rushed to Hospitals--Horror in Early Morning, Surpassing Even Mentor Wreck, Held Due to Dense Fog.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 29.—At least thirty persons were killed—the exact total may not be known until tonight—and more than forty injured in the wreck early today of three of the New York Central's crack passenger trains, a mile west of Amherst, thirty-seven miles west of Cleveland.

Twenty-five bodies had been taken out at noon and five more were known to be in the debris. When the total of dead and injured is finally ascertained, the wreck will surpass, in its cost of life and limb, even the wreck of the Twentieth century limited at Mentor, in 1904 when the famous train piled into a freight on its second trip on the New York Chicago Twenty hour run.

Fog Obscures Signal.
Dense fog obscured the signal set by the first section of the east-bound Pittsburg-Baltimore-Buffalo limited, causing another section of that train to crash into it. A short time later, before signal men could flag it the fast Twentieth Century limited, westbound, crashed into the wreckage which had piled upon the west-bound track.

Darkness Hampers Rescue.
Daylight had not yet appeared when the three trains piled up together. Farmers and villagers rushed to the assistance of the stricken passengers. The work of rescuing those pinned under the wreckage was hampered by the darkness, which was accentuated by the fog.

Ambulances, automobiles and all kinds of vehicles were rushed from Elyria and other points to the scene of the wreck. The little morgue at Amherst was soon filled with bodies of the dead. Most of the injured were conveyed to hospitals in Elyria.

The Twentieth Century proceeded on its way to Chicago. "None of the passengers on this train was injured. All of the dead and injured were on train No. 86."

First Identified Body.
The first body taken from the wreckage to be identified was that of Rev. Gustav Walvi, pastor of the First Hungarian Evangelical Lutheran church, Detroit. Rev. Walvi lived at 33 Adams street, Detroit. Other identified dead are:

Walter B. Easton, 1209 Kirdum street, Philadelphia.
Frank Gallagher, 40 Hart street, Brooklyn.
Dora Rosenberg, 51 Egnes street, Toronto.
A. R. Habeltai, Hungarian theatrical manager, Cleveland.
B. E. Ash, mail transfer clerk, Olmsted Falls, Ohio.
J. H. Hearn, Gallipolis, Ohio.
Malcolm Bennot, 3136 Beech street, Indiana Harbor, Ind.
Gyorgy Ojonek, Indianapolis.
Rosenbald, Indianapolis.
Injured in Hospital.

The following persons injured in the Amherst wreck, were at Memorial hospital, Elyria:
Louis Lefkowitz, Cleveland.
Jacob Joseph, 415 Eighth street, Detroit.
Wilbur Mahoney, 1830 Fifth street, Toledo.
Alfred Tarea, 837 Leland avenue, Detroit.
Albert Keller, 5000 Lincoln avenue, Chicago.
Adolph Lawrence, Gary, Ind.
S. H. Don, Haverhill, Mass., left leg and face hurt.
John Kosmosh, 33, Homestead, Pa., leg broken.
Robert Wright, Imperial, Pa., back and head hurt.
R. D. Turner, Clark street, Elyria, fireman on section two of train No. 86; arm hurt.
H. Grounce, 733 North Aborn street, Chicago, marine engineer, bruised and cut about the body and legs.
W. A. Mann, 701 Brighton avenue, Toledo, face burned, right arm hurt and back sprained.
G. Wessell, 1238 Jackson boulevard, Chicago, arms and legs hurt.
Abe Osman, Cleveland, bruised and hurt internally.
S. H. Bishop, 1537 West 63rd street, Chicago, fireman, legs hurt.
An unidentified woman, with her leg cut off, with initials "J. W. H." on her watch.

Two other unidentified women.
Four men, their first names not known. They are:
Pyrmmer.
Kubie.
Casmer.
Patterson.
Mrs. Jennie Haddas, Cleveland, died at Elyria Memorial hospital.
Charles Nelson, member of Machine Movers' union, died on train on way from Amherst to Elyria.

Ship First Shelled, Then Torpedoed, Say Affidavits

Washington, March 29.—The British horse ship Englishman was first shelled and then torpedoed by a German submarine according to affidavits made to representatives of the state department at Liverpool by three American survivors. Following the receipt of this information today officials said it seemed clear that the Englishman had tried to escape the submarine which was operating within the law in shelling and torpedoing the Englishman. If the vessel was fleeing to escape capture as is inferred by officials here from the dispatch.

The German government has been asked whether any of its submarines was concerned in the sinking of the Englishman or the damaging of the British channel steamer Sussex while that ship was carrying twenty-five American passengers. While it is indicated that the case of the Englishman may not lead to difficulties between the United States and Germany, if it is proved she was escaping, overnight dispatches to the state department from Dover seem, officials said, to bear out previous allegations that the Sussex was torpedoed. American consular representatives, it was said in the dispatches had secured from various survivors at Dover affidavits confirming those by survivors in France. The contents of the dispatches was not disclosed here but it was said that the affidavits were being forwarded by the officials who had gathered them.

The state department expects to receive from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin some time today or tonight the result of his inquiry at the German foreign office into the circumstances surrounding the sinking of the Englishman and the sinking of the Englishman. Upon the information contained in the ambassador's reply probably will depend the next step to be taken by the United States.

MEAGER WORD FROM PURSUIT

Pershing Gives Little Detail of the Chase for Bandit Villa.

TROOPERS MAY BE PRESSING CLOSELY

Carranza Forces Appear to Have Lost All Trace of Fleeing Brigand.

El Paso, Texas, March 29.—The hunt for Francisco Villa by the flying columns of the American cavalry continued relentlessly today, but from the meager reports of the official dispatches from Gen. Pershing's advanced base it was impossible to learn the position of the American troops and how far they were in the rear of the fleeing bandits.

Villa was last heard of heading southward toward the Tarahumara mountain country, his command driving their Mexican ponies at full speed and being closely pressed by the American troopers.

Carranza Men Lose Trace.
Commanders of the Carranza troops now in the Chihuahua region apparently have lost trace of Villa and his men for no report has been received by Mexican officials here for some time concerning the bandits' whereabouts.

Armed bands of Villa forces are reported in various parts of Chihuahua and in some numbers around Torreon, but they are operating independently of the main Villa command.

Plans Marauding Campaign.
Carranza officials in Juarez express their belief that Villa will try to establish a main base at some point after he has thrown the American cavalry off his trail and then recruit his command to one of large proportions from the bands moving about the southern Chihuahua district. Villa, the Carranza officials think, will then engage in a marauding campaign that would give the American and Carranza forces no end of trouble.

GERMANS MAKE FURTHER GAIN

Storms French Positions on More Than Mile Front at Malancourt.

GERMANS FAIL IN COUNTER ATTACK

Twenty Killed in German Aeroplane Raid at Saloniki.

Today's War News Given in Summary

The French at Verdun turned to the aggressive last night, launching a heavy attack on the German lines in the Avocourt woods northwest of the fortress from which the crown prince's troops had made vain attempt to advance.

There was force enough in the attack to drive the Germans from a part of their position in the woods, Paris reports today, the French carrying a portion of the works which the Teutons had constructed. The latter promptly made a counter attack but suffered a check, being driven back with heavy losses, the Paris bulletin declares.

There has been desperate fighting also on the Austro-Italian front and Rome reports the Italian victors in a forty-hour battle.

Sunday night the Austrians, after a furious bombardment of entrenchments at Grafenberg, on the heights northwest of Gorizia, advanced with important forces and although the Italian flanks held under the heavy pressure, one of the center battalions was pushed back some four hundred yards.

The Italians counter attacked the next evening, after the artillery had prepared the way during the day, and by repeated charges succeeded in recapturing the lost positions, taking some 300 prisoners and two machine guns, according to the Rome headquarters staff report.

London, March 29.—The Germans have made another notable gain in their drive against Verdun, according to today's official announcement from Berlin, storming the French positions north of Malancourt to the depth of several lines along a front of 2,000 metres, or more than a mile. Malancourt lies about ten and one-half miles northwest of Verdun and some two and one-half miles northeast of the southern tip of the Avocourt wood.

WILSON LAUDED BY MAINE DEMOCRATS

Foreign Policy and Record of Congress Praised by Chairman.

Bangor, Me., March 29.—Democrats of Maine met here today to choose delegates to the national convention, nominate presidential electors and adopt a platform.

The foreign policy of President Wilson and the record of congress under democratic control were praised by United States Senator Charles F. Johnson, in his address as chairman.

"The country will understand," said Senator Johnson, "that those who criticize the president's foreign policy do not do so so much because they feel the honor of this nation has been in any way tarnished, but because the president by his true Americanism and his staunch defense of international law has brought to his support the patriotic citizens of all parties."

"He inherited from a former administration a most difficult situation in Mexico."

"But now when a leader of a band of marauders has invaded our soil and murdered our citizens an occasion has arisen which justified in the eyes of all the sending of an armed force into Mexico to arrest and punish the perpetrators of this crime. Our flag is now in Mexico, where it will be carried with honor and the courage which have always distinguished the American soldier. Let us hope that when it returns law and order will have been established in our distressed sister republic."

"The president has accomplished without the shedding of a drop of American blood all that we could have hoped to have accomplished by war with either Germany or Austria."

BROKEN ANKLE MAY BE RESULT OF FALL

While alighting from a Broadway and South Wayne car at Taylor street and Broadway at 4:40 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. H. W. Harmon, of Huntington, who is here on a visit, stepped into a hole in the street pavement and was painfully injured. It is thought that she is suffering from a broken ankle and an X-ray picture was to be taken Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital where she was removed Wednesday morning.

The street car had stopped to take on and discharge passengers. Mrs. Harmon was one of the first to step off the car and while alighting she stepped in the hole. Her ankle turned and she fell on it with the entire weight of her body. She was carried to the home of her mother, Mrs. C. Franke, 1019 Taylor street, by the conductor on the car and a passenger. Medical aid was summoned at once.

This is the second accident of the same nature which has occurred at the same place. On the afternoon of January 30 Charles Reubenall alighted from the car, stepped in the same hole in the pavement and suffered a similar injury. According to officials of the traction company the hole is twenty-one inches from the company's tracks.

GARRETT PREPARES TO CELEBRATE ON MAY 5.

Garrett, Ind., March 29.—Garrett is on the map and is to demonstrate that fact by a centennial celebration on May 5 with a pageant, music and other things necessary to boom the city and make all participants enjoy a splendid day. This was decided at a meeting held in the city hall on Tuesday evening when a number of committees were appointed.

Dr. Clevenger, Richard Heiblin and Monte Green constitute the finance committee and they with Prof. Ronkenberger and Miss Mary Deane make up the executive committee. Harris Carroll was made chairman of the pageant and Capt. Dennison is to be marshal of the day.

A big attraction of the celebration will be the gathering of seven bands who are to play in a tournament. A committee of critics will pass judgment as to the fine qualities of each band and these opinions will be sent in sealed envelopes to those in charge of the music.

RIVER AT STANDSTILL; REGISTERS 18.2 FEET

With the river gauge registering 18.2 feet at noon Wednesday and the water practically at a standstill, there is no more flood danger unless there should be more rains within twenty-four hours. Although rain is expected Thursday afternoon there is little danger of it causing real flood conditions.

REPORTS SHOW BIG GROWTH

Increase in Membership of Methodist Church Has Been Remarkable.

OFFICERS ARE NAMED AT M. E. CONFERENCE

Holy Communion is Administered by Bishop Wm. F. McDowell.

On page 11 of The Sentinel today will be found a revised list of the conference delegates and the Fort Wayne homes to which they were assigned for entertainment.

The selection of officers, confirmation of committees, reports of three of the six district superintendents and the administering of holy communion by Bishop Wm. F. McDowell, D. D., were features of the opening session of the North Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday.

Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States and prominently mentioned for the republican presidential nomination, will be in attendance at the conference Thursday afternoon and will speak from 2 to 2:30 o'clock. Hon. W. T. Durbin, ex-governor of Indiana, and A. B. Cline, of Bluffton, were on the program for addresses late Wednesday afternoon.

The session Wednesday afternoon consisted of a meeting and organization of conference committees; anniversary of the Methodist hospital, with Rev. Sherman Powell, a former Fort Wayne pastor, presiding, and the anniversary of the Methodist Memorial Home for the Aged, with Rev. E. L. Jones presiding. Depauw President to Preside.

Dr. George R. Grose, president of Depauw university, will preside at the conference lecture hour at 4 o'clock, at which time Prof. Lynn Harold Hough, D. D., will speak on "Religious Leadership."

The session Wednesday evening includes the anniversary of the board of home missions and church extension, with Rev. J. C. White, presiding, and an address by Rev. Charles M. Boswell, D. D., on "An Awakened America."

Bishop Conducts Communion.
The most impressive ceremony in connection with the opening of probably the largest religious body in the state, was the administering of the holy communion by Bishop McDowell, assisted by the district superintendents. About six hundred ministers and their wives and others who desired participated in the communion services.

"It is a great thing to forget everything else in the world and fix our thoughts on Jesus Christ," Bishop McDowell said. "Remember Him daily for a moment for that will affect all of your lives. If I believe the Lord is coming again, and I do, I think I would want to try to get the world ready for Him."

The communion prayer was offered by the bishop. "We present to Thee, ourselves, our souls and our bodies. Though we be unworthy we beseech Thee to accept us, pardoning our offenses through the Lord, Jesus Christ. Thou who takest away the sins of the earth have mercy upon us."

Three of the district superintendents made their annual reports, showing

Robert Smith, 15, Fatally Shot When Old Revolver is Discharged by Companion at Silver Lake.

Warsaw, Ind., March 29.—A "wild west" frolic of three school boys at Silver Lake, this county, Tuesday afternoon, resulted in the death of Robert Smith, aged 13, by a bullet from a 38-caliber revolver in the hands of Clyde Budd, another lad. The boys named and Donald Thacker had gone after school to the barn on the premises of John Fitton and there were playing "Indian," using old revolvers to add realism to their sport. The boys had replaced the broken mainspring of the 38-caliber weapon with a rubber band. Robert Smith could not work it properly and passed it to Clyde Budd, who aimed the revolver at young Smith and pulled the trigger. There was a flash and a report and Smith fell to the ground. He arose, ran to the house and told Mrs. Fitton he had been shot. He fell to the floor and soon expired. The bullet had entered his left breast just below the heart and death ensued within half an hour after the accident. The dead lad was a son of Earl Smith, who resides in Wabash. His mother, who is separated from her husband, lives in Elkhart. Young Smith had been making his home with an aunt, Mrs. L. D. Underhill, in Silver Lake.

LITTLE GIRL KICKED BY HORSE.

Hartford City, Ind., March 29.—Miss Velta McFarren, little daughter of Alonzo McFarren, living two and one-half miles southeast of this city, is in a critical condition at the home of her parents as the result of injuries received when she was kicked several times in the head and abdomen, by a horse. The child had been playing about the barn lot when she walked into the stall behind one of the horses. The animal started to kick, the first several blows striking the child over the left eye, cutting two holes through both tables of the skull to the brain.

KOSCIUSKO LADIES PICKED ON.

Piercetown Girl Latest to Be Attacked by Tramps.

Warsaw, Ind., March 29.—Piercetown, in endeavoring to keep pace with the "wild-west" hold-ups, which are now being staged almost regularly in this vicinity, had a hold-up of her own when Miss May Mickey, aged 18, was stopped by a burly tramp and ordered to throw up her hands. With a demand to hand over her money. The young woman did not hesitate to comply with the orders given her, but immediately took to her heels and rushed into her home, terribly frightened. She stated that her assailant pursued her for a short distance but soon gave up the chase. Upon arriving at her home the girl was a nervous wreck and became hysterical. Her condition finally became such that it was necessary to summon a physician to the home. Miss Mickey is employed at the overall factory at that place and had left the factory shortly after 9 o'clock. Residents of Piercetown are inclined to believe that the deed was committed by the same person who entered the Stout home, east of this city, Monday afternoon, and after being refused money, forced Mrs. Stout to take a green powder.

Huntington Farmer, Sued by Wife, Has Married Lady Friend.

Huntington, Ind., March 29.—Burning love notes alleged to have been written by her husband to other women and "darling dummies" letters alleged to have been received by him are made the basis of a sensational divorce suit filed in circuit court by Mrs. Mary E. Johnson, of Union township, against James E. Johnson. They were married January 27, 1879 and lived together until January 16, 1916. In the second paragraph Mrs. Johnson accuses her husband of failing to support her and said she was obliged to keep him and to also manage the eighty-acre farm. In the third paragraph she asserts he obtained a loan on property to which he had no real title, and that he bought "finger rings, jewelry, clothing and wearing apparel for other women." She also states that he took poultry from their farm, dressed it and sent it to a woman in Cleveland, Ohio, and that this same woman sent him a pair of gloves belonging to her husband. The letters alleged to have been written by Mr. Johnson are filed with the complaint, and their warmth is such as to command the approval of the free-love cult. Some of the letters received by Johnson were equally torrid.

TO PLANT WHEAT FIELDS IN OATS

Huntington, Ind., March 29.—Reports from over Huntington county show a general tendency to doubt the strength of the winter wheat crop. According to the farmers, the warm weather opened the wheat up for growth, and the quickly succeeding frozes killed it, completely or partly. Noah Brumbaugh, the captain of a large threshing ring in Huntington and Lancaster townships, when asked about the effect of the weather conditions on the winter wheat said: "My wheat was completely ruined by freezing and I shall cultivate and re-plant in oats. I know of only one member in the ring who will not have to do the same, and his wheat is low and near the river."

BURGLAR CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Portland, Ind., March 29.—Otto Dummeyer, 24, of near Blaine, was sent to jail here in default of bond in the sum of $200. Dummeyer was "nabbed" by Policeman Ed Wingate at midnight as he swung out of a window at the rear of the Hotel Adair annex. He had entered the place through the window, but a few minutes before, bent on burglarizing the establishment.

WIFE LOVED ANOTHER; DIVORCED

Auburn, Ind., March 29.—James A. Donaldson, of Auburn, appeared before Judge Link Tuesday afternoon and was granted a divorce from his wife, Helen Donaldson. He was married to the defendant November 16, 1910. He was a baker at the time of his marriage and both of them were 19 years old when they became husband and wife. She went away with another man on January 17, this year, and was gone for four days, he testified. He said she told him that she loved the other man the best and when the plaintiff came home on January 21, he found a note on the table telling him she had left him for good and she never returned. He has learned that she is working in the knitting mills in Fort Wayne and he has a letter from her saying that she had made a great mistake, but said nothing about wanting to return.

VAN WERT BUSINESS MAN DIES.

Van Wert, Ind., March 29.—W. G. Edwards, one of the best known business men of Van Wert, died suddenly of heart trouble this morning at the family home on West Jackson street. Mr. Edwards was indisposed since Saturday, but his condition gave no sign of the approach of the dissolution. He arose this morning, dressed and shortly afterward sought repose on a couch, where he expired unexpectedly. Mr. Edwards was born in Upper Canada, February 13, 1843, and came here in 1869. He was a member of the board of trustees of Pleasant township. He was a member of the different Masonic bodies of Van Wert, and Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He retired from active business a few years ago.

AGED LADY OF MONROE DIES.

Decoratur, Ind., March 29.—Mrs. Mary Badders, one of the old and well known ladies of Monroe, passed away Tuesday, after a two-months' illness from organic heart trouble.

Mrs. Badders was a widow, her husband having passed away at Monroe several years ago. Mrs. Badders, formerly Miss Mary Kohn, was born in Ohio, on January 1, 1847, and at death was 69 years, 2 months and 27 days old. She is survived by two sons, John and William Badders. Funeral services will be held at Monroe Thursday at 10 o'clock but the place of the services has not been determined upon as yet. Interment will be in the Ray cemetery, one and one-half miles west of Monroe.

BLUFFTON'S STREET FAIR.

Bluffton, Ind., March 29.—Bluffton will have a street fair again next fall, and the motto, as in years past, will be "Bigger and Better Than Ever Before." It has been tentatively understood that there would be a fair again this year, but the positive announcement was not authorized until after a meeting of business men held Monday evening, voted unanimously for a 1916 fair. The exact date was not adopted at the meeting Monday evening, but it was the general opinion that probably the best dates would be the last week in September, which would be September 26th to 30th.

TRYING TO SAVE AN EYE.

Columbia City, Ind., March 29.—Asa Riddle, who was taken to a hospital in Fort Wayne last Friday to have his eye treated with the hope of preventing the removal of it is not improving to any great extent, although the doctors still have hope that the irritation can be eliminated and the eye saved. Mr. Riddle, as will be recalled, came near losing his life about six weeks ago when a buzz saw burst and a segment of it struck him in the forehead and cut a gash across it, exposing the brain. The left eye was hurt but the sight of it was not destroyed.

BLUFFTON WOMAN A BRIDE.

Bluffton, Ind., March 29.—Much surprise has just been created here by the announcement that Mrs. Daisy Nelting, of this city, was married last week at Columbus, Ohio, to Hans Widler, who has been an acquaintance and friend of his new bride and her family for some time. Mrs. Nelting went to Columbus a week ago to visit her brother, Howard Stout, and her friends here had no knowledge that she intended to be married. Mrs. Widler is a daughter of Lemuel Stout, chief of the Bluffton fire department.

WILL TEST SUNDAY CLOSING.

Hartford City, Ind., March 29.—"My place of business will be open every Sunday from now on, at least during the pendency of this case against me," declared William Badt, proprietor of the Badt cigar store, Tuesday afternoon, following a charge brought against him in the circuit court for desecration of the Sabbath. Mr. Badt had his cigar store open for a time Sunday afternoon, contrary to the edict issued some time ago by Prosecutor Sprague. The outcome of this suit will, it is believed, determine the future of the Sunday closing movement here.

ASKS PEOPLE TO PROTECT ROADS

Huntington, Ind., March 29.—An appeal to the people to desist from using the roads while the bad weather lasts was made last night by William Skinner, superintendent of several roads leading out of Huntington. "If the public will remain off the roads now it will save a lot of money," he said. "It will cost a great deal to repair the roads anyway, but if they are cut more the cost will be far greater. Heavy vehicles, automobiles and wagons should remain off the roads until the rain and thawing ceases. I would advise everyone to read section 419 of the Indiana highway laws."

WILL QUIT SALE OF LIQUOR

Goshen, Ind., March 29.—After two agents of the Indiana state board of pharmacy came here and gathered what they declare was ample evidence to prosecute Cyril L. E. Wilson, a Goshen druggist, on a charge of liquor law violation, a compromise was reached between Wilson and a committee of the Civic league, a local organization for law enforcement. Under the contract Wilson agrees not to keep intoxicants of any description in his store.

OLD WILL CASE IS SETTLED.

Bluffton, Ind., March 29.—Filed July 19, 1902, the celebrated Catherine Taylor will contest suit, has been settled in the Jay circuit court at Portland, where it was taken on a change of venue. The objections to the probate of the will dismissed their objections and Judge Denny ordered the will admitted to probate. Thomas Taylor, now deceased, and other heirs now mentioned in the will, began the contest.

WILL ESCAPE OPERATION

Montreal, Ind., March 29.—"Mary is improving, will not operate today," was the telegram received by Mrs. L. W. Hoy from her husband, who with Dr. Taylor, of this city, left Saturday in response to a summons from Grosse.

THESE WOMEN KEEP BUSY WHILE THEY'RE LOOKING FOR WORK.

Scene in women's employment office in the Spokane city hall. The women keep busy at sewing, knitting and various jobs while waiting for work.

Spokane, Wash., March 29.—Women looking for work in Spokane see no reason for being idle while in pursuit of the elusive job. When the new city hall was built here a few years ago, the wise city fathers established a women's employment agency in one room.

The scenes in this agency, over which Miss Alice Travers has jurisdiction, are vastly different from the men's employment agency in another room. The women looking for jobs keep busy at a variety of useful work while waiting for remunerative employment. They crochet, they embroider, they darn socks. There is a sewing machine in the room for their benefit. Miss Travers is now trying to induce city officials to install a free day nursery for women who have to leave their children somewhere while they look for work.

Explains Why Coffee Hurts Many

Dr. W. A. Evans, prominent Chicago physician, who edits the "How to Keep Well" columns of the Chicago Tribune, said in that publication, under date of March 7, 1915:—

"Coffee is a drug. Those who are addicted to its use are drug addicts." "From the standpoint of public hygiene the coffee question is worth while. It is the most widespread form of drug addiction."

Some coffee drinkers go on for years without seeming harm, but with others the telltale effects of the drug, caffeine, in coffee, show in various ills and discomforts, such as headache, biliousness, indigestion nervousness, sleeplessness and heart disturbance.

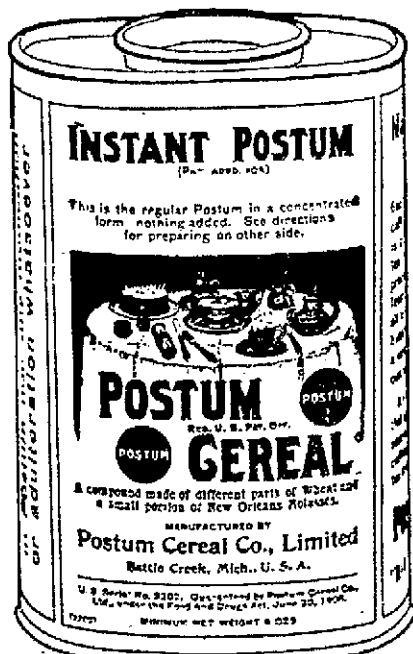

When the health of a coffee-drinker begins to suffer it's high time to quit the coffee. The change to

is easy and pleasant. Better health usually follows, and a ten days' trial proves.

Postum comes in two forms. The original Postum Cereal—must be well boiled—15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—a soluble powder—is made in the cup. No boiling required. 30c and 50c tins.

The two forms of Postum are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING

Revelation 22:1-12.

1 And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.
2 In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.
3 And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him:
4 And they shall see his face: and his name shall be in their foreheads.
5 And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun: for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.
6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.
7 Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.
8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.
9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.
10 And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.
11 He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

Taking Orders from the Chief.

Whether the president "bosses" congress or whether congress "bosses" the president, it is essential to have a pretty fair degree of unified action between the legislative and the executive branches of the government if any sort of progress is to be made in the despatch of public business. The occasional experience of the country with a deadlock between the white house and the capitol by reason of opposed political or personal views has made that fact very clear. Along this line it is interesting to note some things in the recent trend of events at Washington that leave no doubt that congress is disposed to take—a bit complainingly, sometimes, but to take nevertheless—orders from President Wilson.

The one late instance in which this stands out most strongly is in the test vote in the two houses on the resolution which warned Americans to stay off the ships of belligerent countries. It met a decisive defeat in both houses, and it is worthy of note that not only the democratic members, but a number of republicans as well are inclined to line up behind the president. Within the past week or two there has been a manifest attempt to "speed up" congress in order to make possible an early adjournment. Strange to say, too, it promises definite results. Congress is ordinarily so self-satisfied that it will not permit itself to be hurried. It can invent endless pretexts for delay and perfectly plausible explanations for its deliberateness, and do it so impressively that to question the soundness of its course seems to smack of less majesty. No disposition of that sort is now manifest. Instead there is plainly a disposition to allow the president to direct and to give him the legislation for which he is asking.

Some of the big things yet to be disposed of include the preparedness program, the problem of additional revenues, the tariff commission idea and the ship purchase legislation. All these, of course, are quite apart from the problems forced upon us by the Mexican trouble and the European war. It is difficult to define the precise length to which a president may go without unduly encroaching upon the province of the law-makers. Overdone, this is invariably provocative of bitter resentment, but we do not think there is ever serious objection to any working arrangement under which it is possible to get the business of the country done efficiently and expeditiously. To that end the persuasive powers of the president may be safely exercised with congress, for it is the president, after all, who must assume responsibility for what is done and for what has failed of the doing.

Complaints continue to reach the police of the operation of fake meter testers and meter readers who attempt to make their way into homes about the city with the undoubted purpose of thievery or to pave the way for subsequent visits with that end in view. Public service concerns have provided their accredited readers and testers with badges attesting their authority to act for the company. Householders should invariably insist on inspecting the badges when unfamiliar faces appear on missions of this character. A little precaution will save later losses.

The general public has been watching with no inconsiderable interest the fight which has been made by certain distinguished members of the legal profession against the confirmation of Louis D. Brandeis as a member of the United States supreme court, and it now reads with more or less shock the astounding charge that Mr. Brandeis has "violated the canons of professional ethics of the American Bar association." But somehow the aforesaid general public has not been able to gather exactly what Mr. Brandeis has done to stir up the storm of indignation amid his professional brethren.

With fine chivalric impulse, Vice President Marshall has asked that his name be withdrawn as a candidate for the vice presidency in the Nebraska primaries because Nebraska has a candidate for the place and he does not desire to make a contest in states having aspirants for the preferential vote. But then, you know, the vice president can be renominated without the vote of Nebraska.

There has been no declaration of a car strike at Toledo, but with the street railway lines all tied up and the cars housed in the barns as the result of a disagreement between the company and its employees, the Toledo population which is forced to walk is having some difficulty in distinguishing between the distinction and the difference.

Well, it has been certain from the outset that some section of Fort Wayne was going to be called upon to accept with such grace as it could summon for the occasion the priceless boon of the location of the new garbage incinerator in its midst.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

(From the St. Louis Times.)

The President of the United States:—Dear Sir:—Appreciating the sincere ring in your letter to Senator Stone regarding the rights and duties of our country, we, the undersigned, nevertheless believe that in reality you are violating American rights and disowning American duties.

In allowing and defending the sale of munitions you have forever surrendered the American right and duty of protest and action, when in a future war the world will be supplying our enemies with death-dealing weapons against our own sons and daughters.

When in the Lusitania case you demanded unlimited freedom for American citizens to travel in the war zones on vessels of the allies, laden with war material to be used against the central powers, you have disclaimed forever the American right and duty of protecting our own people against a cargo which, though meaning death to thousands of our citizens, is made immune by a neutral passenger.

And when you insist, as you have done in your letter to Senator Stone, that in the present war Americans shall enjoy the privilege of traveling also on armed vessels of commerce, in reality you are also in this case, not defending but disowning the sacred American right and duty of properly safeguarding ourselves and our submarines against merchantmen, armed but made immune by neutral passengers.

Thus in upholding privileges, in claiming which you may appear to be technically in the right, you in reality are yielding undeniable American rights and disowning duties which must remain forever sacred to every patriotic American.

In submitting these sentiments to Your Excellency we do not wish to appear as critics; but as discharging what we consider a patriotic duty.

(Indianapolis News.)

Bankers, in both state and national institutions, are awaiting with some impatience further action on the Kern amendment to the Clayton act, which affects interlocking directorates. This amendment would permit interlocking directors in two or more banks which are not "substantially" in competition, provided the consent of the federal reserve board is first obtained. Mr. Kern's bill, introduced the middle of February, at last report was still before the senate committee on banking and currency. Section 8 of the Clayton law, which is the part affected, does not go into effect until October 15 next, seven months hence. Banks generally have protested against this provision, and it is to meet this objection that the Kern bill is being pressed.

The Clayton law contains some features which are objected to. One covering interlocking directorates, it is feared, would deprive many national banks of some of their ablest men. The national banks have insisted that non-competing banks should have a right to utilize the services of men who are also officials in other institutions.

Senator Owen, who was one of the framers of the existing banking legislation, not long ago requested the federal reserve board to consider an amendment in regard to interlocking directorates. His idea was that a person might be a director in more than one bank, provided that it be shown that the institutions were not in "strict" competition. Bankers are inclined to favor the Owen plan. The word "strict," they point out, probably means active competition, whereas "substantial" includes banks with which competition is a possibility. However, it seems that they will accept the Kern amendment. Another amendment, similar to Mr. Kern's, with the exception that it confers freedom on banks without the formality of approval from the reserve board, is before the house. The latter is extremely doubtful. For the reserve board, if it is to be a board of any authority, surely ought to have the power to act in determining the wisdom of interlocking directorates.

MINER INVENTS "WAR GAS"

Charles Royse, of Danville, Ill., Sells Method of Firm in Chicago.

Danville, Ill., March 29.—Charles Royse, a Danville miner, has invented a "war gas" that he asserts to be far superior to any of the gases used in the European war. Mr. Royse has sold the invention to a Chicago firm, which will try to dispose of it to the United States government. The inventor says his gas will overcome, but will not kill, thus being more humane than the gases now in use by European armies.

Rid of the Torment of Rheumatism

"Send me Foley Kidney Pills. I am badly done up with rheumatism and they are the only thing that help me." A. J. Walsh, Seattle, Colo.
Rheumatism is stubborn as a mule. It hangs on like a leech—wears out your strength—worries you with pain—drags on your vitality—depresses your mind—affects your health.
Don't let it hang on! Don't give up to it! Don't overlook Foley Kidney Pills! For they work directly on the kidneys—tone up and strengthen them to the perfect action that keeps them free of the blood, and clears away the cause of rheumatism, lumbago and stiff, swollen, aching joints. Begin now, today, and soon you will again be active and free from pain.
3c. Walsh writes his letter to us by saying: "I consider Foley Kidney Pills the best I have ever used, and I have tried several different remedies." Your druggist sells them.

GIRL MAKES CONFESSION.
Bessie Reimers Admits She Started Fatal Fire at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., March 29.—As a result of the confession of Bessie Reimers, 19, waitress, that driven by fear she would be forced into white slavery she set fire to the Foster apartments yesterday causing the death of two persons and injury to eighteen, the girl stands justly in the charge of manslaughter and arson.
George Hanson, waiter, 23, and George Bauman, 26, were also arrested on the charge of being suspicious persons, pending a further investigation by the police.
In her signed confession to Chief of Detectives Rabshaw the girl said she

"CASCARETS" FOR HEADACHE, COLDS, LIVER, BOWELS

Enjoy life! Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy and constipated.

Get rid of bad breath, sour stomach, coated tongue, indigestion.

Get a 10-cent box now.
They're fine! Cascarets have your liver, clean your thirty feet of bowels and sweeten your stomach. You can eat two, like candy, before going to bed and in the morning your head is clear, tongue is clean, stomach sweet, breath right and cold gone. Get a box from your druggist and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Cascarets stop sick headache, biliousness, indigestion, bad breath and constipation.
Mothers should give a whole Cascaret to cross, bilious, sick, feverish children any time. They are harmless and never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

FINED FOR HAULING A LOAD TOO HEAVY

The first prosecution in Allen county
under the Indiana statute making it
an offense punishable by a fine to haul
on the highways, during soft weather,
loads of greater weight than those the
law prescribes for tires of certain width,
was completed in the court of Justice
M. J. Tancey, Wednesday, when Henry
Wiehe, of Lake township, was fined $5
and costs for violating this law. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Worley Waters, deputy road superintendent,
acting under instructions from County
Highway Superintendent William
Tonkel. Wiehe brought a load of
hay that weighed at the city scales 4, 180 pounds above the weight of the wagon and driver, to Fort Wayne Tuesday. He was seen on the Leeburg road
by Deputy Waters, who warned him.
Wiehe spoke defiantly and drove on into the city. His tires were only three inches wide, whereas his load was heavier than that prescribed for five-inch tires. Wiehe's father appeared for him
entered a plea of guilty and paid the
fine. Similar offenses will be prosecuted
by Superintendent Tonkel if the evidence can be obtained.

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than
to cure, states a well-known authority.
We are advised to dress warmly; keep
the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less
meat, but drink plenty of good water.
Rheumatism is a direct result of
eating too much meat and other rich
foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in
the urine; the pores of the skin are
also a means of freeing the blood of
this impurity. In damp and chilly
cold weather the skin pores are closed
thus forcing the kidneys to do double
work, they become weak and sluggish
and fail to eliminate the uric acid
which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first tringe of rheumatism get out any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before
breakfast each morning for a week.
This is said to eliminate uric acid by
stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and
is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

SHE MERELY A WIFE; OTHER SWEETHEART

Mrs. Wilhelm Says Husband Took Babe and Fled
to Other Woman.

Complaining that her husband deserted her a month ago and fled to Flint, Mich., taking with him their infant, born January 3, this year, and is now living in Flint, "where he is married to, or at least living with a woman who has recently had a child by him," and that he calls the plaintiff his
wife, while he calls the other lady
sweetheart, Sophie Wilhelm has begun
action in the superior court against John Wilhelm for divorce and custody
of her babe. She says they were married April 17, last year, that their child
was born January 3, this year, and that
on February 27, last, her husband deserted her, fleeing with the tender infant and leaving her no means of support. It is charged that the defendant
said he would no longer live with her
or give her support and called her vile names. Emrick & Emrick are the wife's attorneys.

Went Back Home; Took Him Along.
Hersell Coby says that his wife,
Henrietta Coby, refused to live in the
home he provided for her, compelled him
to dispose of their household effects and
took him with her to reside with her parents. He says she goes out nights,
leaving her baby with neighbors and
and did not want to marry him. He wants custody of the child. Emrick & Emrick appear for the plaintiff in the superior court. The couple were married last June and but recently separated.

Robbers Are Sentenced.
Curtis Spryer, John and Jesse Smith
and Howard Criswell, the four young men
who robbed August Roussey, a Jefferson
township farmer, of a considerable sum of money in New Haven the night of January 24, were found guilty in the circuit court, Wednesday, under the second
count of an affidavit for grand larceny,
and were sentenced to from one to fourteen years in the Jeffersonville reforma-
tory, fined $10 and costs and disfran-
chised for three years. The sentences
were suspended during good behavior in
the cases of Jesse Smith and Criswell,
who were shown to have no hand in the actual hold-up, but had shared in the spoils.

The circuit court on Wednesday disposed of other criminal cases as follows:
William Johnson, colored, petit larceny,
trial April 7; Walter Weillaw, colored,
selling liquor without license, trial April 10; Francis Plummer, indecent exposure, trial April 7; Gustave Eisenstautz, assault and battery, trial April 7; Morris
Martin, surety of peace, trial April 8;
Frank Demmick, carrying concealed weapons, trial April 8; Obadiah Lang-
ford, obstructing highway, trial April 8;
Mary Obeska, provoke, dismissed on motion of the prosecutor.

Forrest Steele has begun suit in the superior court against Jacob Funk for $500 for breach of contract. The plaintiff alleges he contracted with the defendant for the brick in an old house
that was to be razed and that before
he got to the work the house was sold to a man who took it down with dynamite. The plaintiff says he had paid
$10 to bind the bargain. Glenn A.
Smiley appears for the plaintiff.

Says He Was Cruel.
Sophie Hoppe has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from Henry Hoppe, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, whereof no details are given in the complaint. They were married in 1889 and separated a few days ago. The plaintiff asks the custody of a daughter 19 years old. O'Rourke & Lucke appear
for the plaintiff.

Notes of the Courts.
The will of the late Charles Homig, just filed for probate, leaves his entire estate to his wife, Mary Homig, who is also named executrix.
The will of the late John M. Fleischmann, filed for probate, leaves his estate to his wife, Mary Fleischmann, and
names her executrix.
In the superior court in the suit of Ora O. Snider vs. Ella D. Jicks, the plaintiff represents that the motion of
the defendant for a change of venue
from the county is for delay only and
files a counter motion that the application for a change be stricken from the docket.

Lady Macabees, Review 6, will have a pedro party at the home of Mrs.
Vantz, 750 Barr street, at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. A luncheon will be served.

WEALTHY LUMBERMAN ACQUITTED BY COURT

Maan Act Case Against St.
Paul Man Ends by Judge
Anderson's Order.

Chicago, March 29.—The case against William Rufus Edwards, a wealthy lum-
berman of St. Paul, Minn., on trial charged with violation of the Maan act,
was taken from the jury today. At the court's direction the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and Judge Anderson
entered an order discharging the defend-
ant. Edwards was charged with transporting Miss Ada Cox from Chicago to Minneapolis, Milwaukee and other cities.
The sudden end of the case came after several days' sensational testimony in
which Miss Cox described in detail several alleged meetings with the defendant.
One of these, which was alleged to have occurred in St. Paul, Miss Cox referred to as her first escapade. The defense placed on the stand witnesses who testified to previous intimacy with Miss Cox.

SCHOOL CHILDREN CONTRIBUTE TO POOR

Most liberal donations have been made
by a number of schools in the city to the Relief union for distribution among the poor. The contributions were as follows:
South Wayne school, 25 cents; Highland
school, room 12, 25 cents, and room 2, 25
cents; Hamilton school, 5 cents; Miner school, $1.10, 174 cans of canned fruit and vegetables, 32 glasses of jelly, 10 packages of beans, 14 packages of cereals, 4
bushels of potatoes, one bushel of apples,
53 bundles of clothes, 7 packages of rice,
3 loaves of bread, one-half package of
onions, 4 bags of meal, 3 bags of pancake
flour, 2 packages of macaroni, one package of dried apples, 3 packages of sugar
and other useful articles. The Brown Trucking company donated one of its
large trucks to deliver the various articles
contributed to the home of Mrs. L. E.
Parrett, 1115 Hanna street, president of
the Relief union.

GERMANS MAKE FURTHER GAIN

into which the Germans pushed on their recent great drive west of the Meuse.
Apparently the German assault, was on the westerly side of the salient, where Paris last night reported a heavy attack
by the Germans, declaring, however, that
it had been repulsed.

FRENCH HURL ATTACK.

Paris, March 29.—(1:20 p. m.)—French troops made an attack last night on Avocourt wood, west of the Meuse,
where the German assault was made
yesterday. The official statement today
says the French carried part of the works which the Germans had constructed. The Germans made a fierce counter-attack, but were driven back with heavy losses. They made no other effort to recover the lost ground.

The recent German attack upon Malancourt was made with a fresh division,
which was thrown back with large losses.
Twenty persons were killed, between thirty and forty wounded and two German aeroplanes were destroyed in the aerial raid over Saloniki on Monday, says an official statement issued here
this afternoon.

The statement follows:
"A squadron of seven German aeroplanes attempted to make a raid on Saloniki Monday. Their purpose was to reach the warships anchored in the harbor, but they were obliged to give this
up by the fire of the French artillery."
Pursued by French aviators two of
the German aeroplanes were destroyed.
"Bombs thrown down by the German aviators caused the deaths of twenty persons and brought wounds to thirty or forty others."

STORM FRENCH POSITIONS.

Berlin, March 29.—French positions
north of Malancourt, several lines deep along a front of 2,000 meters, have been stormed by German troops, the German
headquarters staff announced today.

DUTCH STEAMSHIP SUNK.

London, March 29.—Another Dutch
steamship, the Duivdual, has been sunk.
All the crew were saved.

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN OUT.

Rome, March 29.—(Via London, 12:12
p. m.)—Italian infantry has ejected the Austrians from positions on the heights
northwest of Gorizia, which were lost to the Austrians on Sunday, the war office
announced today.

The Italians captured 302 Austrians,
including eleven officers.

RUNAWAY DOES DAMAGE.

When Arthur Swops, driver for the Central grocery, went into the house at 523 East Wayne street, early Tuesday evening to deliver an order, the horse became frightened and started to run west on Wayne street. After covering six squares at a lively clip it turned the corner at Harrison street and then attempted to get back into the alley to get to the grocery stable. On this last turn the wagon upset and was somewhat damaged. Although it was full of groceries the only thing in the wagon that was injured was a sack of eggs which was crushed under a box.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Rhin from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Advertisement.

Master George Niezer, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Niezer, of Washington boulevard west, was five years old on Tuesday and celebrated the afternoon with a few of his small neighborhood playmates. There were games and good things to eat, including a birthday cake. The boys who spent this happy time with Master George were Billy Hunting, Billy Crane, Jack Olds, Jack Kitch, George Crane Bond, Robert Gilmarlin, Junior Kelker and Clark Leips.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Allendorph, of Greenville, Ill., are visiting their son, L. H. Allendorph, and family, 825 Walnut street. The visitors are of unusual interest because of their age and the length of time they have been married, fifty-nine years. Mr. Allendorph is 81 years of age and his wife has passed her 79th birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Allendorph are planning a much longer trip than the one they made to come to Fort Wayne, as they have a daughter in Pittsburgh they are going to visit and they also expect to go to Troy, N. Y., as their home was formerly near that city. The matter of years is apparently of no concern to this bright and interesting couple.

Brown—Estelene.

Mrs. Bessie I. Estelene and Mr. Harry E. Brown were married by Rev. J. B. Bair at his residence, corner of Oliver and Pontiac streets, at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. SPECIAL LADIES' SHOW.

Lingerie and Corset Display Thursday Afternoon.

The management of the Temple theater announces a novel matinee for ladies at the popular playhouse Thursday afternoon of this week. A large and beautiful exhibit of corsets and lingerie will be displayed by a model and the latest styles in these lines will be explained in detail. This will be a part of the style show, which is being held throughout this week at the Temple theater and the Thursday matinee will positively be for ladies only.

The fashion show at the Temple theater is held in connection with every regular performance at this playhouse as a part of the dress-up week observance and it is attracting unusual attention. The very latest and most beautiful offerings of the various merchants of the city are displayed by models. The fashion show follows each performance.

"Cost of Living" Next.

Tonight's show closes the run of "The Alien" and "The Cost of Living" opens Thursday afternoon and will continue throughout the remainder of the week.

MR. KERR PLEASES AUDIENCE.

Gives Unusual Program in St. Paul's Auditorium.

Several hundreds of people interested in good singing and also desirous of hearing some assistance to the Walter league of St. Paul's Lutheran church, under whose auspices the concert was given, heard with very apparent delight and approval a song recital by Ulysses S. Kerr, formerly of Minneapolis, and a basso-cantante who was recognized at once as deserving of much of the fine praise that had been given to him in other cities. At the piano was A. W. Burmeister. Mr. Kerr has a voice of very lovely quality, good range and evident cultivation. During the first part of his program Mr. Kerr displayed a tendency to the use of the tremolo, though never with any variation in pitch, and later in his program that disappeared entirely. In his opening number Mr. Kerr displayed his liquid and musical tones in three languages. He sang the Italian, "La Calluna" from Rossini's "Il Barbiere di Sordani" to excellent advantage, while the two following selections of the group, the Massenet elegiac and a Norwegian composition, "Kamrat" by Karing, were equally pleasing and satisfactory. Better examples of Mr. Kerr's dramatic ability of expression were displayed in "Pogner's Anrede" from "Die Meistersinger" and the "Tosca" song from "Tosca", both of which were finely sung. Tender songs of appealing quality that were delightful were a Scotch air of Mendelssohn's "O Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast" and the Irish air, "Believe Me if All These Endearing Young Charms." "The Rosary" was sung as a final encore. For some of the audience the accompaniments to many of Mr. Kerr's songs were too intrusive because of their loudness, or a certain hardness of tone, as if the inspiration of the music led the performer to forget that his part was not the solo work. The fault may have been more apparent in some parts of the hall than it was in others. As a soloist Mr. Burmeister displayed a mastery of technical difficulties and a brilliancy in performance. He played the Liszt rhapsodie No. 12 and responded to an encore with a Grieg selection.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Who's Who in "Daddy Long Legs"—Here Friday and Saturday.

Henry Miller brought together a cast for "Daddy Long Legs" which includes many well known players. Three hundred or more applicants applied for each of the twenty odd parts after the success of the fascinating comedy at the New York Gaiety theater made it evident that more than one company would play it. In the organization to be seen at the Majestic for two nights when "Daddy Long Legs" comes for its engagement on Friday, will be Frances Carson, who plays "Judy," and George Allison, who will be "Jervis Pendleton." Both are players of wide experience. Bessie Lee Loshin and Nina Saville have been with Mr. Miller's various organizations for many seasons. Gertrude Rivers, Kate Blanche, Marion Cagle and Vida Cain have appeared in the companies of many prominent producing managers. Frank J. Kirk, Donald Foster, G. Harrison Carter and Frank L. Davis are equally well-known while the children in the cast include: Grace Dorr, Helen Shedy, Anette Stein, Mary Cook and Billie Robinson. The engagement includes a matinee on Saturday.

"Nobody Home" Coming Next Week With Big Cast and Chorus.

After all there is nothing new under the sun and we are not half as original as we think we are—even if our slang is quoted as quite the bizarre and original thing all over the world. The latest to disturb us is the fact that the expression "Nobody Home" does not belong to us, is not our own creation, but was originally foisted upon an unsuspecting public no less than two hundred years ago. In fact from its association it is a classic. Probably nothing, however, has done so much to familiarize the use in America as its application to the title of John P. Slocum's new musical comedy, "Nobody Home," which is to be seen at the Majestic Wednesday matinee and night, April 5th. In this instance it refers to an Englishman of the "silly ass" type who blunders into an awkward situation and gets a lady in a very embarrassing position and who eventually turns out—but then that would be telling another story which is much better seen and heard, than read.

MUSICAL COMEDY CLOSING TONIGHT

Five Volin Beauties and Others at Palace Tomorrow.

The musical comedy gem, the Cabaret Girl, with Harry Anger, Clarence Marks, Madelon Lear, the King Sisters, Jura Nilov and others, closing this evening at the New Palace, as will Roubie Sims, the nut cartoonist, in his lightning caricatures and laughable banter. The Cabaret Girl is a charming little diversion with an unusual wealth of liting, happy music and a group of clever comedy specialties.

New Bill Tomorrow.

Back to straight vaudeville for three days, the New Palace tomorrow afternoon will present an entirely new bill headlined by the fetching little musical conception, The Five Volin Beauties. On this same program are Princeton and Yale, the fun makers, in their bit of railway, Sixty Miles From Nowhere; Parks, Rome and Francis, the trio of songs, smiles and stuff; the Three Lightnings in the skit, "Party of the Second Part"; The Gaudsmiths, the acrobatic clown and the Spanish poodle, and the Guzman trio in their globe rolling and head balancing novelty notion. This bill will run the remainder of the week.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

FORT WAYNE LIKES 'EM.

New Singers at Orpheum Score Hit—Petrova in Films.

That Fort Wayne has unequivocally taken the newly organized Orpheum quartet to its heart is a fact that is being substantiated at this playhouse ever since this peppery bunch of vocalists made their initial appearance three days ago. Barring several big concert singers, no artists who have been seen here this season have gained so much applause as this quartet following the rendition of their program, which included several dynamic ragtime numbers and a vocaling specialty by Mr. Saxton, one of the new members.

The films have a very attractive offering in "The Soul Market," a five act Metro play, starring the ravishingly beautiful Olga Petrova, and featuring Arthur Hoops, Winifred Mervyl and Fritz De Lint. This fascinating drama of stage life gives us some delightfully intimate peeps behind the scenes in a playhouse where a big musical comedy is running. The story abounds in tense situations, and a distinct surprise is afforded the audience in the startling denouement which comes just before the end of the story.

WOLF & DESSAUER'S SPRING OPENING A FEATURE OF DRESS-UP WEEK.

Springtime and gladness summer were everywhere manifest last night at Wolf & Dessauer's opening and fashion show. Dress Up week had a big boost, for everyone was there in their best bits and tucks to see what the styles for the coming season are. The big store was crowded to the doors, during the opening hours, from 7:30 to 10. Every floor was in gala dress, gay with decorations of flowers and palms, but the first and second floors were particularly points of interest, for here the living models posed in the hand-made costumes and millinery and Miss Larimore and several of her pupils gave a number of fancy dances. A score of young women of the store acted as models, showing the coats, suits, dresses and hats to splendid advantage. Little girls, ten were there, for juveniles' clothes nowadays are of as much importance as their mothers, and the little tots were cunning in dainty spring things. A June bride, with her attendants, flower girls, bridesmaids and maid of honor, was a fitting climax to the fashion parade and was a delightful feature of the evening. As usual with events of this kind, it was a wonderful success. The Elks band gave a concert of popular airs throughout the evening. The entire program will be repeated this evening.

MADAME CATHERINE'S CHATS

"I see by the papers that this Dress Up week is to be a pretty big affair," said one of Madame Catherine's customers, as she stepped into the corset shop at 113 West Wayne street yesterday.

"Well, to begin with," stated the customer, "I really need a good corset and I'll have to buy one this spring, so it might as well be now. But aren't you rather crowded for display space to show all of the latest models for Dress Up week?"

"Yes, but we have very nicely gotten around that. You see, there will be a display of our latest spring arrivals in corsets and accessories at the Temple theater next Thursday afternoon. It will be a display for ladies only and I'm sure it will be quite a good thing for all of the ladies who are at all interested in the new spring corset styles and who can afford the short time needed to see the exhibition."

"Well, that really is a fine thing. Madame, and I'm sure that it will at last be interesting enough for me to attend the display."

Centennial Hustlers Could Not Finish Their Work Yesterday.

The finance committee of the Centennial association made splendid headway yesterday in securing signatures to the agreement to guarantee a fund to put on the big show, but the work was not finished, and will go forward until all who wish to help in the big project have been visited.

Louis F. Curdes, chairman of the committee, states that while $20,000 and over were subscribed yesterday, the work went slowly for the reason that many who were visited had gained the impression that they were subscribing to furnish a certain amount to pay the centennial expenses. It was found necessary to go into details to explain that the subscriber is simply putting his name to an agreement to help make up a guarantee fund to meet any possible deficiency.

Mr. Curdes makes the plan perfectly clear in the following explanation which he hopes will be read by all who have not been visited by the committee so that the work of the solicitors may go along more rapidly than can be possible when it is necessary to explain this plan in detail to the prospects:

Mr. Curdes' Statement.

The finance committee of the Centennial celebration is meeting with very creditable success in its undertaking, but owing to the fact that some of the citizens of Fort Wayne are not fully acquainted with the plan to assure the credit of the general committee, a great deal of time must necessarily be spent in explaining the plan to the prospective subscribers.

Not Asking for Money.

"The committee is especially desirous of impressing upon those who would subscribe that no present payment of money or absolute promise of future payment is required. The situation is this: The maximum probable cost of the pageant and celebration, according to the careful estimates of the committee, substantiated by experts, is placed at $22,000. The committee has every reason to believe that $20,000 will be subscribed. Should the expense of producing the show exceed the estimate of the committee by $2,000, an expenditure of $25,000 would be necessary. Further, should the committee fail to take in one cent of the revenue from the sale of seats and concessions, the persons who obligated themselves by signing the subscriptions would be called upon to pay 50 per cent, or one-half of the amount to which they subscribed.

"Such a state of affairs could hardly come to pass, for the following reasons: There will be at least three performances at Reservoir park. There will be 11,000 seats available at each performance. The seats will average one dollar each and if only two-thirds of the seats were disposed of the receipts would be at least $3,000 in excess of the cost. It should be borne in mind that the sale of seats will commence at once. Mr. Sam Wolf, who is in charge of the seat sale, is confident that every seat will be sold by the 15th of May, and that at least $10,000 will be in hand at that time.

"In addition to this the association will sell many concessions, from which an income of at least $10,000 is expected.

"The promoters, instead of anticipating a deficit, are confident that the receipts will far exceed the expenses and leave a neat fund as a starter toward a great convention hall.

Weather Cannot Interfere.

"Should weather conditions prove unfavorable on the dates selected for the celebration, the delayed performance will be announced for a future date without regard to weather conditions.

In other words, the pageant will be presented on at least three evenings, and the indications now point to a fourth performance to care for the crowds which will come to see it.

"It is hoped, therefore, that those who have not already signed will not delay the committee in their visits, but take prompt action so the work may go forward with rapidity."

The Centennial association has engaged Robert B. Garmire as the office secretary of the association. With the assistance of a stenographer, Mr. Garmire will take up his office in the Centennial headquarters at the Commercial club next Monday, April 3.

E. W. Puckett's committee on arrangements has about completed the task of "lining up" the big events of the four days' celebration, and their plans will be ready for announcement in a few days.

At a meeting of the cabinet held last evening, P. A. McHugh, of Chicago, presented a plan whereby he assumes entire charge of the seating of the amphitheater for the pageant.

Judging the Posters.

General Chairman E. C. Miller has selected a special committee which is today giving careful study to the vast number of suggestions for an official poster design. The designed ideas decorate the walls of headquarters, which are made to resemble an amateur art exhibit.

IN THE CHURCHES

BEGIN WORK THURSDAY.

New Parsonage of St. John Reformed to Be Finished by Fall.

Work on the wrecking of the old parsonage of St. John Reformed church, Webster and Washington streets, will be begun Thursday. It is expected that the new parsonage, which is to be erected at a cost of approximately $10,000 will be completed by fall. Adolph Grotholtman is the contractor, who received the contract for the tearing down of the old house and building of the new one.

Immanuel Baptist Revival.

The Immanuel Baptist church, Oliver and McKee streets, began an evangelistic meeting last Sunday evening and sessions have been held each evening this week beginning at 7:45 o'clock. Interest has been running high and the attendance has been gratifying. Cottage prayer meetings are being held immediately after the dismissal of school in the afternoon for the children. Special music has been arranged for the meeting, Wednesday evening. A large delegation from the First church will be present Friday evening.

Emmaus Lenten Services.

Mid-week Lenten service will be held this evening at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Fred Wambaus will preach. The Ladies' Sewing society of the church will meet tomorrow afternoon in Emmaus hall.

Next Sunday evening Rev. Fred Wambaus will deliver the third of a series of lectures on the passion story. Subject of this lecture will be "The Cross of Christ." The lecture will be illustrated by 60 stereopticon views, picturing the death and burial of Christ.

Rev. Tomes Speaks Tonight.

Rev. O. E. Tomes, of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ, will speak at the West Creighton Avenue church Wednesday evening at the revival meeting.

ings now in progress at that place. Mrs. Riggs will sing. The audiences thus far have been very large.

Will Meet Mrs. Chandler.

The Women of Fort Wayne Methodist Episcopal District of Women's Missionary societies are invited to meet Mrs. Chandler, district president at the Y. W. C. A., Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Social Side of Churches.

The Ladies' society of Plymouth Congregational church will hold its quarterly meeting Thursday afternoon at the parsonage, 1215 Harmer street. Supper will be served from five to eight o'clock. The Spy Run Ladies' society will give an old fashioned quilting bee in the Baptist mission, Thursday afternoon. The hostesses will be Mesdames Johnson, Hire and Baulker.

The Women of the First Baptist church will meet in the church parlors Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to sew. All women are asked to come and help.

Three Days Only THURSDAY—FRIDAY—SATURDAY March 30, 31 and April 1st

What Is a One-Cent Sale?

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustration: The standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You buy a tube at this price and by paying 1c more, or 26c, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices, and have sold you for years.

A New Way of Advertising

This sale is an advertising plan which enables you to purchase a full sized package of high class merchandise for 1c and convince yourself of the merit of the goods.

Unless otherwise advertised, we will take orders for goods that run out and fill just as soon as new merchandise arrives. We want to get these goods in your home. Check this list carefully and if two items are too many, have your friend or neighbor buy with you.

SEEK TO BLOW UP ATTORNEY'S HOME

Fiendish Attempt at Muncie Believed Wet and Dry Fight Outcome.

Muncie, Ind., March 29.—Unknown persons early this morning attempted to blow up the home of Wilbur Ryman, a prominent attorney of this city, as the result of what is believed to be his efforts in working towards keeping saloons out of Muncie. The kitchen of the Ryman home was shattered and practically all the windows were broken. Glass in surrounding homes was shattered. The explosion was heard over the entire city. Neither Mr. Ryman nor any of his family was injured.

Following the recent option election in which Muncie voted wet by 79 votes the drys have been circulating remonstrances which will be filed Friday. Ryman has been actively engaged in the remonstrance work. He was also named as assistant special prosecutor in the indictment cases against various city officials, the right of the court to appoint him together with the special prosecutor now being a question pending in the Indiana supreme court.

TOLEDO IS WALKING; NO RELIEF IS NEAR

Tie-Up of Street Railway Traffic There is Now Complete.

Toledo, March 29.—With every street car in the city idle and working men and women compelled to get to and from their labor the best way they can, indications today were that no relief in the situation would be had in the immediate future.

Eight hundred conductors and motormen quit work yesterday when told to remove union buttons from the lapsels of their coats or quit. Some of the cars were left standing in the streets.

Henry L. Doherty, of New York, president of the Doherty interests which control the local lines telegraphed last night that the union under no circumstances would be recognized. He asked the men, however, to return to work pending his arrival here, which is set for Thursday. The request was refused unless permission to wear the buttons was granted.

The organization of the street car men's union was effected a few days ago. No demands of any kind had been made by the men. The trouble is more in the nature of a lockout, it was stated.

MORE DRESSED-UP PEOPLE ON STREETS

First Day of the Week That the Weather Has Been Fit.

"Dress Up" week means more than the casual reader imagines, and it is well to stop and think of the benefits derived to seller and buyer. This applies to the purchasing of dress just as it applies to eating and having a roof over the head. "Dress Up" week started Monday in Fort Wayne, as elsewhere, and it will be long remembered as something not only novel, but interesting.

Weather conditions were more favorable Wednesday for the celebration of "Dress Up" week, being conducted under the auspices of the Fort Wayne Merchants' association. More dressed-up people were on the streets today than on the two previous days of the week.

Fort Wayne merchants have become greatly interested in the idea of "Dress Up" week and have made every effort to engage the attention of all purchasers, so that when the people become even more used to the somewhat novel idea of having this special week wherein to purchase and arrange for becoming garb, there will be a general rejoicing.

INITIATES CLASS OF FORTY CANDIDATES

Moose Lodge Takes in Many Applicants; Events in Other Lodges.

A class of forty candidates was initiated Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Fort Wayne lodge, No. 200, Loyal Order of Moose, and many new applications for membership were also received. The ceremonies Tuesday evening took place at the new lodge rooms at Webster and Wayne streets. Several more large classes will be taken in before the dedication of the new building which takes place on June 6. Knights of Malta Elect.

The Knights of Malta held a preliminary meeting Tuesday evening at the Aldine hall and the following officers of the commandery were elected: R. C. Morton, sir knight commander; A. R. Dickey, captain general; O. D. Edward, prelate; S. L. Burton, recorder; G. S. Morton, assistant recorder; L. B. Webb, treasurer; H. R. Schrautz, senior warden; H. A. Burton, B. Young and P. H. Doty, trustees.

Sir Charles H. Howland, P. C., of Cuyahoga Falls, gave an address in which he traced in an interesting manner the founding of the Knights of Malta. The Loyal Commandery, No. 498, will be instituted Saturday, April 8.

BRICK SUSPENDED ON TROLLEY WIRE

Another Attempt Made to Interfere With Car Traffic.

Patrolman Walter Pattee reported to police headquarters late Tuesday night that a brick had been found suspended from the trolley wire of the city street car lines on Pontiac street, between Barr and Lafayette streets. It was hanging just low enough to fairly strike the plate glass in the front end of the car, where the motorman stands. The destruction was discovered by a motorman in time to prevent an accident. The officer spent an hour in the vicinity in the hope that the perpetrator of the deed might be found lurking about to observe the result of his attempt, but no one was seen who aroused suspicion.

IN THE CITY COURT.

Couple Charged With Adulterous Relations Continued for Trial.

Charles Thacker and Ada Holm, arrested at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning in a residence at Michigan avenue and Nelson street, were in the city court a few hours later charged with living in adultery. The hearing was continued until Thursday morning because the attorney for the couple was unable to be in court. Their bonds were fixed at $100 each. Thacker says he has been in Fort Wayne only since Saturday, having then arrived here from Michigan. Both man and woman are middle-aged.

Edward Reed, a one-armed peddler, of whose conduct several complaints had come in from the east end, was arraigned on a drunk charge and went to jail for eleven days. He was hawking writing paper and the like and was insolent and abusive to householders who would not purchase his wares. Officers George Galentine and Reginald Major were detailed to find Reed and he was picked up on McCulloch street.

William Parson, arrested at a Barr street rooming house where he was drunk and asleep in the kitchen, was continued until Friday morning to get sober. He was brought in by Detective Sergeant Joseph Brennan, after the mistress of the place had complained.

West Wasserkamp, a Roumanian, was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness. He was arrested at the Pennsylvania depot by Officer Charles Eisenhut.

FAKE METER TESTER ABROAD.

A search is being made by the police for a man who has been visiting households on the east side of the city, claiming to be an electric meter tester for the lighting department of the Fort Wayne Traction company. The man is an impostor and fraud and probably a sneak thief, who is posing as a meter tester to gain entrance to homes for the purpose of robbery. Inquiry by the police of the traction company and the city lighting departments discloses that no one answering the description of the man reported is employed by either. When asked to display his badge the man makes excuses.

S. M. FOSTER NAMED ON PURDUE COMMITTEE

Lafayette, Ind., March 29.—At a conference held here by the trustees of Purdue university it was decided to build an armory at Purdue university to cost $150,000. It is the intention to erect a building that will cover two acres of ground. Another meeting will be held at Indianapolis on April 27, at which time definite action will be taken. If the structural iron for the new armory can be secured at once the new armory will be given preference over all other buildings that are to be erected at the university this summer.

Samuel M. Foster, of Fort Wayne, Charles W. Downing, of Indianapolis, and William V. Stuart, of this city, were named as a committee to secure plans for the new building.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—Advertisement

PARDON BOARD'S REPORT THURSDAY

Division is Expected on Re- quest for Parole of A. B. Trentman.

Indianapolis, March 29.—When the report of the board of pardons goes to Governor Ralston Thursday it is regarded as practically certain that a divided report from the board is to be forthcoming in the case in which friends of Anthony B. Trentman, of Fort Wayne, are seeking clemency for him. Before the pardon board, at its March session, just closed, an appeal was made for Trentman on the ground that he was insane at the time he killed the head waiter in the Hotel Anthony at Fort Wayne.

Trentman, sixty-one years old, now is too feeble to do much work at the prison and is engaged principally in small jobs of cleaning up about the corridors of the hospital for the criminal insane.

It is understood that physicians who have recently examined Mr. Trentman declare his mental condition is now normal.

BOWERY TO KEEP OLD NAME.

New York Board Denies Petition of Business Men for Change.

New York, March 29.—The Bowery will keep its famous old name for a while longer, at least notwithstanding efforts of local business men who think their trade is injured by the reputation of the street. The board of aldermen yesterday decided unanimously against action upon a petition of the Bowery Realty and Business Men's association to change the name of the thoroughfare. The petition did not suggest any other name as a substitute.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS URGED TO AID CAUSE

Immediate Action Conven- tion of Navy League In- vites Ft. Wayne Body.

Washington, March 29.—The "immediate action" convention of the Navy league, which is to be held April 10-13, at the New Willard hotel, in Washington, has today extended to the Commercial club, of Fort Wayne, an invitation to participate in its deliberations and to send an official representation of three delegates. Credentials were enclosed for that purpose.

In outlining its plan for the coming convention, the Navy league insists that there are three matters which require immediate attention in a position to meet an emergency at the earliest possible moment. The first of these needs is a national defense commission that will co-ordinate all the branches of the government that have to do with preparedness that the whole nation may act upon the basis of a logical understanding of every element that enters into the situation.

FINAL REVENUE STATEMENTS.

Total Receipts at San Francisco Exposition Above $12,000,000.

San Francisco, March 29.—Final certified statements of the revenues of the Panama-Pacific exposition submitted today to the board of directors gave the grand total of receipts for admissions and concessions as $12,524,000.

Paid admissions amounted to $4,715,523 and the gross receipts from concessions was $7,809,583. The net revenues from concessions was $1,830,331.

The statements show that concessions offering food, rest and shelter brought in greater revenue than the amusement concessions.

If you want a $25 outfit for a Bedroom or if you want a $300.00 one, you find the best at both prices, and all prices between, at Foster's.

ROANOKE NEWS.

Roanoke, Ind., March 29.—After hearing sensational evidence last week in the suit of Mrs. Ida Hoffman for a divorce from her husband, Jacob E. Hoffman, of Jackson township, Special Judge C. K. Lucas granted the plea and gave Mrs. Hoffman $1,500 alimony and allowed her $300 for attorney fees. Costs of the suit are to be paid by the defendant also. The contention of the defense was that actions of which Mrs. Hoffman complained, and on which she based her divorce suit, had been settled once and they had again lived together.

Many high school students have been absent due to the scarlet fever scare. Miss Clover Goff returned Saturday from a week's visit with her grandparents, Joseph Striggle, of South Whitley.

Gus Wasmuth, of Huntington, spent Saturday and Sunday with his cousin, Douglas Wasmuth.

Miss Agnes Smith was a Fort Wayne shopper Saturday.

Wallace Beck, of Andrews, was a Roanoke caller Saturday night.

Miss Grace Kemp left Friday for Terre Haute, where she will enter college for a normal course.

C. O. Smith is now employed by Zent Bros.

Miss Mable Palmer is spending a few weeks in Fort Wayne visiting relatives. The condition of John Hackett, who has been confined to his bed for some time, remains about the same.

The C. C. K. girls were entertained

Friday evening by Miss Lydia Johnson and Mrs. James Hughes, at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, south of town. The evening was spent in games very appropriate for April fool. In the course of the evening Miss Lydia announced her engagement to Clyde Wilson, of Detroit, April 9th.

B. R. T. AUXILIARY ANNUAL DANCE

Ladies' of No. 436 Get in the Field Early With Social Event.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 436, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, have placed tickets for their annual ball on sale. In the sale of tickets and otherwise the older members of the B. R. T. have offered their assistance and the annual ball will undoubtedly be a greater event in a social and financial way than either of the two previous events, which were also regarded quite successful. The coming ball will be given at the Elks hall Thursday night, April 27.

WATCHMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE.

In Effort to Prevent Accident is Nearly Struck by Auto.

About 7:45 Wednesday morning, as the eastbound local on the Nickel Plate was nearing Clay street, an automobile containing four persons was seen coming from the north. The crossing watchman stood in the middle of the street and swung his flag, but the driver paid no attention whatever and it was necessary for the watchman to jump to one side or he would have been knocked down. The automobile barely cleared the crossing when the engine passed over it. There was four numbers on the machine, but bystanders could only discern the two first, which figures were "76." All the persons in the car were strangers.

RETURNS FROM THE SOUTH.

District Sales Manager E. J. Little, of the New York branch of S. F. Bower & Company, but who on account of poor health has been in the south two or three months, is here for a short visit. He will go to the Battle Creek sanitarium for several weeks' treatment before resuming his duties at New York. Mr. Little was district manager at Fort Wayne two or three years, retiring last December. His health was improved by the sojourn in the south.

ANOTHER WABASH CHANGE.

Bulletins issued by the Wabash officials announce some changes in the freight department, effective April 1. F. E. Spangler, contracting freight agent at Pittsburg, has been promoted to traveling freight agent, with headquarters at Decatur, Ill., succeeding P. L. Behymer, who was compelled to resign on account of ill health. W. G. Kidd, chief clerk of the contractor's office, has been named as the successor to Mr. Spangler at Pittsburg.

SHORT ON BOILER MATERIAL.

Work at most of the industries of the city is more or less handicapped by a shortage of material. At the Bass boiler shop this shortage is particularly noticeable and because of it Foreman F. T. Bandy has temporarily suspended night operations and has placed the men in the day shift to hold them until some material now on the way reaches the plant.

ADDED FOUR TO LIST.

Foreman F. A. Opatz, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is increasing his working force gradually. This morning the following were given employment in the shop: R. E. Engelking, a hammer operator; H. J. Goeglein, C. McKinley and Ed Sperry, the latter formerly of the Bass boiler shop.

OPERATORS GET RAISE.

Notice of a 5 per cent increase in the wages of Nickel Plate dispatchers and operators, effective April 1, has been received here. It is said seventeen men in Fort Wayne will be affected by the order. The N. Y. C. operators received a similar notice a week ago.

MACHINIST HAS FOOT HURT.

George Miller, a machinist working on stockers at the Pennsylvania round house, will be off duty several days as a result of an accident last Monday. A jack fell upon one of his feet and painfully bruised the member, though no bones were broken.

OFF ON A PLEASURE TRIP.

Night Yardmaster John Miller and Switchman Jack Corrigan, of the Wabash, are off on a two weeks' pleasure trip. They left last night for Newport News and thence they will make a trip down the Atlantic coast, stopping at leading points of interest.

HURT BY FALLING IN PIT.

G. Taralito, a machinist's helper at the Pennsylvania round house, sustained injuries yesterday when he fell into an engine pit. One of his knees was sprained and bruised and he is scarcely able to walk. He is off duty.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Pennsylvania Boilermaker O. Groves is sick and off duty.

James Romas is a new laborer in the Pennsylvania machine shop.

Frank J. Kuch, Pennsylvania pipefitter, is off duty on account of sickness.

A. J. Sordlet, a Pennsylvania cabb builder, is off duty on account of sickness.

Pennsylvania Yard Engineer F. H. Rogers is off duty on account of sickness.

C. M. Rouzer Says He Wouldn't Be Without Tanlac in His House.

C. M. Rouzer, 72 years old, a well known Fort Wayne man who lives at 403 Perry avenue, is one of the many friends Tanlac, the Master Medicine, has made in Fort Wayne and vicinity. Mr. Rouzer, who is a retired employe of the Wayne Knitting Mills, recently said:

"For the last two years I have been bothered by rheumatism and kidney trouble. I had severe rheumatic pains in my legs and with severe pains in my back also I was hardly able to get around at all. I slept poorly and I had a very poor appetite.

"I saw in the papers that Tanlac had helped other people and I decided to try it. After taking one bottle of the medicine the rheumatic pains became less severe. I've taken two bottles of Tanlac now and the kidney trouble also has been greatly relieved. I sleep fine now and I have a ravenous appetite.

"Tanlac has helped me wonderfully. I wouldn't be without it in my house for a minute. I want my third bottle of the medicine now."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and the like and is a fine system purifier and general tonic required by many at springtime.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Fort Wayne at the Wayne and Calhoun streets store of the Meyer Drug Co., where the Tanlac Man is explaining the new remedy. It also may be obtained at the other Meyer stores, Calhoun and Columbia, 1420 Calhoun, and Broadway and Taylor.—Advertisement.

Boilermaker Henry Geerken, who was sick ten days, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

C. R. Aiken is back at his desk in the valuation department of the Pennsylvania, after being sick awhile.

Machinist J. E. Young, who had a foot hurt last week, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

Miss Muriel Pierce has taken the position of manager of the millinery department of the Tepper Brothers store.

Machinist W. C. Tegtmeyer, who was sick four weeks, resumed work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Assistant Master Mechanic F. T. Huston, of the Pennsylvania, left this morning for Chicago on business for the company.

Engineer R. E. Shuler, who had been off duty on account of the death of his uncle, resumed work on the Pennsylvania today.

Oscar Braungart, assistant ticket agent at the Wabash, in charge of the office at night, is off duty because of a felon on his finger.

O. O. Thwing, chief engineer and sales manager for the Western Gas Construction company, is in Chicago in the interest of the firm.

W. Schutt, for four months employed as a helper in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, resigned this morning and will go to Detroit to work.

B. McCloskey, a machine operator at the Pennsylvania power plant, resumed work this morning. He was hurt by falling off a car a week ago.

F. W. Morgan, of Argos, Ind., is here for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. T. C. Stoger, wife of Foreman Stoger, of the Wabash pipefitting department.

The railways announce rates to Cleveland May 12 to 16 on account of the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. This rate from Fort Wayne and return will be $7.50.

Mrs. A. J. Lepper, of Woodstock, Can., is here for a visit with relatives. Mr. Lepper is superintendent of the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump company's factory there.

Machinist Ed Ely, of the Pennsylvania toolroom, is sick and off duty. Machinist C. W. Miller, who was hurt in a fall from a bicycle, reported for work at the toolroom this morning.

Anthony Henry, clerk in the blacksmith shop at the Fort Wayne plant of the General Electric company, resigned yesterday and will move to his father's farm northeast of the city.

The Pennsylvania wreck crew was sent to the northeastern part of the city yesterday to pick up a car loaded with railway steel which was derailed near the Egley & Dean elevator.

Kekionga Aid society. Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, will be entertained at Unity hall Thursday afternoon with Mesdames Myers, Snyder and Davis as hostesses.

Passenger Brakeman George E. Cour, of the Pennsylvania, is improving from an illness which began December 12 and has kept him from work on the road since. He expects to be able to resume work about April 10.

An error in The Sentinel yesterday made it appear that M. J. Meldrum was general foreman of the Pennsylvania round house. It should have read Nickel Plate round house and shops. E. B. Hughes is general foreman of the Pennsylvania round house.

The boys in the valuation department of the Pennsylvania received a postcard from O. P. Snook stating that he has reached Dunkirk and has settled down to business. Mr. Snook is there to inspect construction work at the American Locomotive works for the Pennsylvania.

GARBAGE PLANT TO RISE ON CITY DUMP

Council Approves and Work of Construction Will Begin at Once.

The new garbage plant will rear its classic lines on the city dump in the rear of the municipal barns on "made ground," between Clinton and Barr streets. This was decided by the city council Tuesday evening, after a painful session in which there was threat of turbulence and an ominous prospect for a time that the carefully laid plans for unanimous action and a harmonious solution of a long vexed question would wind up in a mass of wreckage.

But the program went through and the board of works will at once proceed to choose the precise site on lot 4, owned by the city, and the Edwards company will have its engineer here as soon as possible to stake out the ground for an excavation. The contract awarded the Edwards company for the construction of a DeCarie incinerator of fifty tons' capacity per day, required that the new crematory be completed within 120 days from the approval of the agreement. This is expected to have the plant ready for operations by the middle of August, when the heavy demand on the crematory will begin.

It was supposed Tuesday afternoon that everything had been well set for prompt and unanimous action by the council to decree that selection of the dump as a site and the approval of the contract. When the members of the council gathered in the city clerk's office, a half-hour prior to the hour for opening the council, and the members of the committee on contracts and franchises and the special committee on a new garbage plant met in joint session to prepare a report embodying the program, trouble began to brew. By the time the council convened there was a pretty well defined opposition.

The council dined along with its routine schedule until the contract with the Edwards company was brought up by the report of the committee recommending the passage of the ordinance approving the contract. Councilman-at-Large Charles W. Welch wanted to know what assurance the council had that the board would execute its agreement with the council as to the site and declared the location should be specified in the ordinance.

Councilman Frank J. Schlebecker, of the Second ward, made open war on the proposal, declaring it would be expensive to deliver garbage at the point selected and that it was where it never could have railway track facilities. Councilman A. H. Keller, of the Eighth ward, thought the site of the old plant better than the one chosen for the new. Councilman Peter A. Olenchuk, of the Seventh ward, demanded that the site be made clearly defined in the ordinance and took occasion to declare that the old site was good enough and should be chosen.

President Bayer Launches Hint.

"Gentlemen, this sudden opposition to the site agreed upon is a surprise. It was all understood and everybody was willing to settle this matter the way it is proposed. It was understood that every man would stand by this agreement. Now what do we find here tonight? I don't understand it. Here comes a show of prejudice and opposition that no one expected. I supposed the council was harmonious on this thing. I can account for this prejudice in only one way: Somebody higher up has been busy. I cannot account for this opposition any other way." This portion of the remarks by Councilman-at-Large William A. Bayer, president of the body, caused something of a sensation. President Bayer spoke with much feeling and at considerable length and was interrupted several times by a call for the yeas and nays. He pleaded for adoption of the dump as the site, declared the board of works could be trusted to carry out its

oral agreement without being bound by ordinance and pleaded for harmony.

Then Councilman Schlebecker arose to remark that President Bayer's finger had seemed to be pointing to him as the member under the influence of "somebody higher up," and he entered a solemn and emphatic disclaimer. "I have not talked about this matter to anybody whatever today," he declared.

Councilman Keller moved that the site be defined in the ordinance and was seconded by Councilman Olenchuk. Then the president ruled the motion out of order, flashing the rule that no ordinance on its third reading could be amended in any manner except to strike out.

Agne Starts a Flurry.

Councilman Jacob Agne, of the First ward, then started something that threatened the program with disaster. "We've been at this thing since last August," said the member from the First. "The council appointed a special committee to represent it in conference with the board. That committee decided unanimously on a central location for this new plant. Now, if we are to have a change of sites, if what the board finally decided on is to be passed up, let us stand by what we did in the first place and have a central location. Refer this whole matter back to the special committee. I am not for any compromise with this matter. The special committee has always been in favor of a central site and it is right now. You know it."

This brief bit of oratory "took" quite promptly and there was a buzz of approval. But nothing happened and a moment later the roll-call on the passage of the ordinance was in progress. The ordinance got 14 votes, Councilman Schlebecker standing by his guns and casting a solitary vote against it.

Clinton Street Paving Ordered.

After a brief debate, in which opposition was made by Councilman-at-Large Paul Kinder, the ordinance ordering the paving of Clinton street from First street to the city limits was passed by 13 to 2—Councilman Kinder and Councilman-at-Large Job Hartman voting against it on the ground that the improvement should not be forced on the objecting property owners. The ordinance was passed on appeal by the board of works from a sufficient remonstrance filed against the resolution for the paving.

The council passed an ordinance fixing the bonds of members of the city police and fire forces and referred to the committee on finance an ordinance appropriating $250 from the Anthony Wayne monument fund to the park board improvement and betterments account to meet expense incurred by the Wayne Monument commission in choosing a model for the equestrian statue of Fort Wayne's founder. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the bill in congress to retire on pay of $500 a year superannuated employees in the postal service and approved a contract for coal to be used by the city lighting plant.

For a Municipal Flag.

A resolution introduced by President William A. Bayer and adopted by unanimous vote provided for the appointment of a committee of citizens, of which the mayor and the president of the council should be members, to choose a design for a municipal flag that shall be the official emblem of the city of Fort Wayne. The flag will be chosen from designs submitted in competition for a prize of $50 offered by a morning newspaper. The committee appointed consists of Mayor W. J. Hosey, Council President W. A. Bayer, Van B. Perrine, president of the Commercial club; B. J. Griswold, of the Progressive Advertising company; Judge S. M. Heenrich, representing the Grand Army of the Republic; Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. O. N. Gullin, representing the Federation of Women's Clubs, and an artist of recognized ability.

FORBIDS FILLING DELTA LAKE.

Mayor Hosey Refuses Request by Park Superintendent Getz.

When Park Superintendent Carl J. Getz submitted to the board of works, Wednesday, a request that the valve connecting Delta lake and the lagoons in Lakeside park with the blaucue river be opened to permit the flood tide in the stream to fill the basin for the summer, the request was referred to Mayor W. J. Hosey for a decision. The result was logical to the last word. Nothing doing. "So long as I have anything to say or do with the drainage matters of the city, there will be no water from the rivers turned into the basins while the stage of water is high enough to require that the sewer valves be closed," said Mayor Hosey. The taking of the key to the Delta lake valve from the park department and making the board of works custodian of it has been one of the issues between Mayor Hosey and the Lakeside Civic Improvement association. There is revival of talk of a mass meeting of all the people of Lakeside to decide whether or not they want the river turned into the lake while there is still danger of floods.

TO IMPROVE LINCOLN WAY.

At a conference of the board of county commissioners with the board of public works late Tuesday afternoon an agreement was reached for joint action in the improvement of the Lincoln highway from Wells street to Hensch street, which part of the road is in deplorable condition. The county will furnish the broken stone and roller to put upon it and the city will haul the stone and place it and pay the cost of any necessary drainage. The part of the highway to be improved is on the line between the city and county outside.

HAVE PLANS FOR BUILDING

The board of works has in hand the plans prepared by Architect Bradley for a two-story brick building it is proposed to erect on the rear of the property east of the city hall and used by the lighting department. The building will be two stories high and is designed for store rooms and workshops for the waterworks and lighting departments. It probably will be erected this year.

WILL HAVE JOINT MEETING.

Secretary J. D. Bryanskis, of the board of trustees of the firemen's pension fund, has written to Lieut. Harry Grimme, secretary of the board of trustees of the police pension fund, asking that he make arrangements for the police board to meet the firemen's board in joint session to discuss matters of mutual interest.

MUNCIE SALOON SITUATION.

"Drys" May Make Remonstrances Effective With Exception of One Ward.

Muncie, Ind., March 29.—The indications were that remonstrances against the return of saloons to Muncie probably would be effective in every ward of the city except the Sixth, which is a residence district.

In the event that the business district remains "dry" and the Sixth ward becomes "wet," an attempt will be made by the "wets," it is said, to divide the city into two corporations, one to be known as "North Muncie," and the other as "South Muncie," the latter to be a "wet" corporation and the other to be "dry."

The opinion prevails that the county commissioners are not likely to grant liquor licenses during the April term. The whole affair is likely to be tied up in the courts for a considerable period.

HOAGLAND NEWS.

Hoagland, Ind., March 29.—The Loyal Workers or young people's class of the Lutheran Sunday school will give an entertainment at Koenigman hall Saturday evening, April 1. A good program will be rendered and everybody is cordially invited to attend. Admission, 25 and 15 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wade left for their new home at Kenedyville Tuesday morning. Their many friends here regret their removal from the community.

The following officers were elected at the M. E. Sunday school Sunday, March 26, for the ensuing year: Superintendent, John Clayton; secretary, Vivian Chapman; treasurer, Minnie Chapman; pianist, Esther Evans; missionary superintendent, Mrs. Foster.

Russ Wilson, of Oshkosh, was the guest of Miss Esther Evans Saturday evening.

Glen Venice, of Decatur, spent Sunday with Clarence Robinson.

Mrs. Sarah Barkley received word from Mr. and Mrs. James Stephenson, of Bippus, that a little son had been born to them Sunday morning.

Miss Gertrude Russell has as her guest Mr. Knight, of Michigan.

Mrs. Mary Hollinger and Mrs. Inez Smithler spent Saturday in Fort Wayne. Rev. E. M. Foster is attending the M. E. conference at Fort Wayne.

The young people's class of the Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. Ned Noecker Wednesday evening. The time was spent in music and games, after which refreshments were served. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

Mr. Ulrich, of Monroe, who has been employed as manager of the railroad section, will move here this week in the Havice property.

Nathan Gressley, accompanied by Mr. Sellmeyer, of Decatur, will attend the lumber association meeting held at Fort Wayne Wednesday.

Monday evening at the M. E. church the Epworth League elected officers for the year as follows: President, Nathan Gressley; first vice-president, Nellie Grimsley; second vice-president, Gertrude Gressley; third vice-president, Vivian Chapman; fourth vice-president, Paul Smithley; treasurer, Georgia Crawford; pianist, Esther Evans.

Mrs. May E. Havice spent several days last week in Fort Wayne, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Reed.

Lawrence Hartzel and family are moving in the Hittman property this week.

J. F. Lindenberg is at Mudlavie, for a stay of some days.

An Easy Way To Get Fat And Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Meyer Bros. Drug Co., Droger Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, The Family Drug Store and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advertisement.

INTRODUCING CALIFORNIA'S NEW WONDER, CHAMPION HIKER-DRESSES.

Colonel Marston starting his hike.

San Francisco, Cal., March 29.—California has a new wonder. It's Colonel Frank W. Marston, champion pedestrian and dresser of the Union League club here.

Dolled up in a brilliant hued walking costume of his own design, including a red silk tie, red silk sash and cork helmet, a la Roosevelt, he covered the distance of 50 miles between here and San Jose recently in 25 hours and 42 minutes after he left his club. The actual walking time was 14 hours and 28 minutes. Scoffers had placed big wagers that he could not make it in 96 hours. By thus proving his ability as a hiker, the colonel won $750 for himself and about $8,000 for his friends.

A brass band, a cordon of police, an ambulance and a hearse, the last two features of the equipment provided by humorous friends, accompanied the daring athlete to the city limits while thousands looked on and cheered.

BISHOP CALLED BEST LOVED MAN IN ALASKA

He Was Trailing Across Northland Before Gold Was Discovered.

By Jack Jungmeyer

Seattle, Wash., March 29.—"The best loved man in Alaska!" It's the Northland's tribute to one of its stalwarts—men whose vision and valor has at length forced the government to accord soundness some of the benefits merited by pioneers.

Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe of the

BISHOP PETER TRIMBLE ROWE

Protestant Episcopal church is "the best loved man" because he has made himself an inspiring factor in the life of every human being he's come in contact with during his long service in Alaska.

He's a big, two-fisted man of God. And he was on the job tending souls when there wasn't much law of either God or man north of '53.

Busted miners, needing courage; shy Indian children; abused, outlaw dogs; bullies of the camp and trail; sinners; and near saints—all found a friend in Bishop Rowe.

Over thousands of miles of terrible trail he's pulled his own sled or mushed with the dogs. He has frozen and starved with the poor, been the honored guest of the rich, and has played host to every one who came within his reach, white, Indian and breed.

Before gold was discovered, Peter Trimble Rowe was trailing across all Alaska, visiting his mission outposts. Eating salmon belly and pemmican and moose steaks with trapper, fisherman and musher; with barbarian native and hardy adventurer of his own race. He wasn't bishop then. Just a sort of itinerant spiritual adviser and pal of humans who needed a hand and a word of cheer.

And although he can flay like an arctic storm, when his anger is roused, he has always been tolerant of the ordinary failings of red blooded men.

Once he helped a profane musher on a soggy trail untangle his dogs. The stranger had never met Bishop Rowe and didn't recognize him.

"How's the going ahead of me?" asked the bishop, as they were parting.

The description was a torrent of damnation that would have keeled the ordinary pastor over.

"And how's the trail ahead of me?" concluded the stranger.

"Same kind," laconically rejoined Bishop Rowe. And now that sound dough sweats by the bishop as well as at his dogs.

His belief in a man's fists as well as his soul, has endeared this red-blooded ambassador of God to the hardier spirits of his vast parish.

Fights and perilous adventures he's had galore. His first consideration is always the worldly needs of his companions, and he has never favored the members of his own creed.

"If Alaska were to become a state tomorrow, Bishop Rowe would, if he'd consent, become the first governor elected by the people day after tomorrow," is the estimate of him by a man who knows Alaska and Alaskans like the bishop knows his Bible.

TRACES BOY TO FARM.

Mother Finds Adopted Son, 15, Gone Six Months, at Work.

Jamestown, Ind., March 29.—Frank Ladin, fifteen years old, adopted son of Mrs. Alexander, of Carlisle, Ky., who disappeared from his home October 15, 1915, was found yesterday working on a farm near Danville, after Mrs. Alexander had traced him through three towns from here. Mrs. Alexander will permit the boy to remain at his work as long as he chooses, she said. A neighbor in Carlisle recently told Mrs. Alexander, she said, that the boy, who had been sought in vain since his disappearance, had been heard of here, and Mrs. Alexander came here at once. Through former neighbors she traced him to Lebanon, then to Pittsboro, then to Danville and from there to the farm where he has been working for several months.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing.

Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.—Advertisement.

Mr. L. D. Rohr, of Markle, made a business trip to this place Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Taylor had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hartup, of Crooked Lake.

CASH COMES BACK AT LAST Man Returns $35 Stolen in Holdup Twenty-two Years Ago.

Hagerstown, Ind., March 29.—Twenty-two years ago, as J. N. Baldwin, then a bookster, was driving to his home five miles north of here, he was held up by three masked men and robbed of $35, the robbery occurring just at dusk.

on the public highway, and in sight of his home. There was no clue and the matter was dropped without investigation.

Mr. Baldwin, who seven years ago moved to Cowan, near Muncie, and is traveling as an evangelist, a few days ago received a letter sent from this place, in which $35 was inclosed. The letter read: "Here is your money. I want to get this from my mind and get clear of this sin. All these years since I helped to rob you have been years of hell. I was but sixteen years old and had company got me into it. The gun I pointed at you while the other two highwaymen robbed you was a pocket knife. You said, 'O my God.' Now I have said the same many a time since in my prayers for forgiveness. The other two that helped are still living, but neither helped me make this up to you."

MART CLEARY HEADS NEW BASEBALL CLUB, WILL PLAY SUNDAY AND HOLIDAY BALL

Fort Wayne will have high class holiday and Sunday ball as the result of a meeting of enthusiasts held Tuesday evening, and at which time an organization was formed, officers were elected and the old Central league ball park was leased for Sundays and holidays through the coming season.

The officers elected were Mart J. Cleary, president and manager, Bert R. Dennis, secretary-treasurer, Fred J. Alberts vice president and William G. Hillinger captain. All are old Shamrock men and three are former Central leaguers.

The company will be known as "The Fort Wayne Baseball Club," and a team of stars will be collected. The shop league will furnish most of the players, although it may be necessary to go outside for other men. Mart Cleary is whipping his team into shape already and it will not be more than ten days until the lineup shall be pretty well shaped up.

It is the intention to play the fastest independent teams in the country and to place Fort Wayne at the head of the list in the central states in the matter of independent ball. The shop league will be seen in action, too, against the Cleary aggregation.

However, should Wheeling or one of the other towns drop out of the Central league, the Fort Wayne club will withdraw from the lease and attempt to get the Central league back into the city. The fellows behind the organization are good sports, and are anxious to get the city back into the Central and to do so would gladly get out themselves.

ED HARKENRIDER GETS HIS HUNDRED

Fort Wayne Man Tied for Third Money in Big Pin Meet.

Toledo, O. March 28.—Three cities will battle for the supremacy of the American bowling congress tournament tonight when Cincinnati, Chicago and Toronto, Canada, will roll off the tie for the individual title at the terminal building. Two weeks ago Frank Shaw posted 655, being followed two days later by Ben Hucman, of Cincinnati, with the same mark. With the pair seemingly installed on the top row, Sam Schillman, a Toronto player, equalled their score. Should Shaw win, it will mean the rolling of all four of the championships of the meet to the Chicago mast.

Following are the twenty winning leaders in all events:

No. 1—Frank Thoma, Chicago, 1919—$125.

No. 2—Okallusch, Rochester, 1938—$117.

No. 3—E. Harkenrider, Fort Wayne, 1974—$100.

No. 4—A. Wartchow, Omaha, 1874—$100.

No. 5—G. Bamberg, Detroit, 1888—$90.

No. 6—Charles Himebrand, Chicago, 1882—$80.

No. 7—E. Hucuke, Chicago, 1847—$70.

No. 8—W. Metcalf, Chicago, 1844—$60.

No. 9—R. Raydi, Chicago, 1837—$50.

No. 10—H. Graf, Chicago, 1826—$40.

No. 11—W. Froeming, Chicago, 1819—$34.

No. 12—C. Cochran, Omaha, 1818—$32.

No. 13—E. Shepard, Kansas City, 1818—$32.

No. 14—J. Brunett, Cleveland, 1818—$32.

Waxahatchie, Tex., March 28.—Hugh Jennings and Tyrus Cobb have been side-tracked, temporarily, from the spotlight trained on the Tigers' southern camp. Samuel Crawford and Donie Bush are out of the picture. An elderly gent, Billy Sullivan, one-time team of catchers, and for nine years' battery mate to "Big Ed" Walsh, is the man of the hour.

What the Tigers need most in the coming flag race is a strong pitching staff. Sullivan is tolling to produce one.

Veterans will grace all the positions except the box, hence Jennings is not worried. All his regulars have been asked to do is to get into physical trim. In addition to the old familiar batting, fielding and base running practice the speckled Hughes has introduced the game of leap frog and after each rehearsal sends the squad vaulting about the outfield with a sprint to taper off the grind.

Dass and Coveleskie are the only hurlers whose normal form has been approved by Jennings and Sullivan. Lowdermilk, Boehler, Dubuc, Boland, James and Marshall will profit by the veteran mask-man's teachings. Boehler and Lowdermilk have displayed marked improvement. Each was wilder than a hawk when training started.

When Sullivan took charge of Boehler he found the latter used several deliveries. The coach contended this was the principal reason for the youngster's wildness and set out to teach him an easy, effective style. The result has been that the pitcher has gained control.

Lowdermilk, possessed of tremendous speed, had trouble with his fast ball. He is rated an effective curve ball flinger. Dubuc, master of the slow ball flinger, has had trouble with his curve last season. He then became ineffective and unable to work regularly. Sullivan has rectified this trouble.

Boland has found himself and will, Sullivan says, be a star this year. The coach has devoted much time to teaching Marshall to field his position. He recently had the Southern league graduate working at 7 o'clock in the morning.

"If Lowdermilk gets control of his fast ball he won't lose six games in twenty," said Sullivan. "And, if he can master his splitter he won't drop three in thirty."

"BRING 'EM ALL ON" SAY TOLEDO PAINTS

Have Defeated Dayton Cadets, Buffalo Germans and Many Others.

Should you have your doubts as to the standing of the Toledo Paints, who will do battle here against the St. Mary's next Saturday night, here you have the list of teams the Paints have defeated: Michigan Aggies, Northwestern university, Ohio State, Dayton Cadets, Detroit Itals and the Buffalo Germans. Three years ago Teppie, the big Paint center, was the all-conference center and Fox, the lightning forward, is uncanny in the way he shoots from the center of the floor.

The Paints have written asking that the Saints get a referee, and saying that any impartial floor boss will be acceptable.

Jess Pfeffer, one-time Fort Wayne star hurler, is in great form, according to word from the Brooklyn training camp, and this promises to be the best season of his career.

Detroit, Mich., March 28.—It is understood from dispatches from the training camp of the Detroit Americans at Waxahatchie, Tex., that Manager Jennings will ask Coveleskie to pitch the opening game of the season in Chicago.

Lawrence Kan., March 28.—An official at the dual indoor meet between Missouri and Kansas at Kansas City, by mistake added an extra lap to the mile run and probably took away from Herriott, the Jayhawker miller, a new record for the event. As it was the time was announced as 4:55 and it is believed here that without the extra lap Herriott would have broken the old mark of 4:34 which he made last year by a full second.

Just a week from today the official training season of several Central league clubs will start, and in a few more weeks the pennant race will be under way.

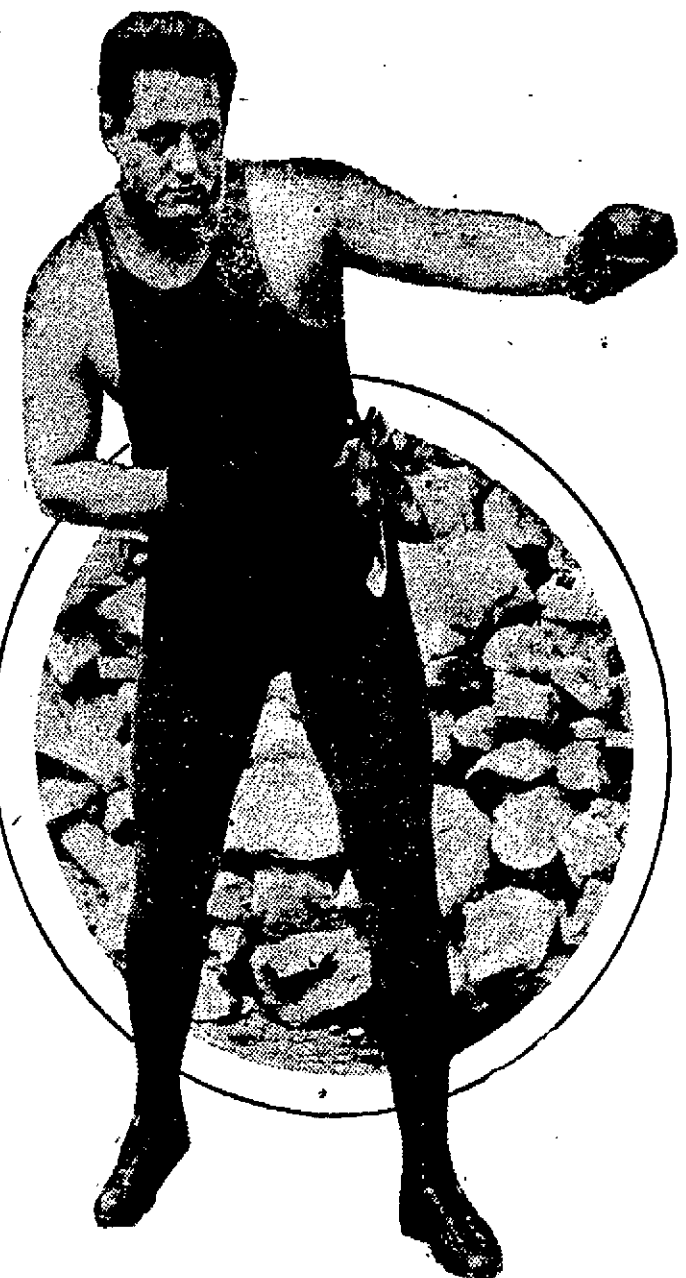

A fighter died in Philadelphia of over-exhaustion the other day. You're wrong, his name wasn't Freddie Welsh.

Evanston, Ill., March 28.—Football coaches and some of the more prominent officials in the central states will gather here soon to discuss the new rules. Some differences of opinion as to effect of certain regulations have arisen and the conference is expected to act as a court in their interpretation. Officials will be appointed at the meeting for some of next fall's games.

Chicago, March 28.—The first athletic event between teams of women ever sanctioned by the Central A. A. C. will be the swimming meet between the Woman's Aquatic club of Detroit and a girls' team representing the Indianapolis Turners. The meet will be held April 1 in Detroit.

HOW CAPT. DADMON APPEARS IN RING TOGS.

Cambridge, Mass., March 28.—Capt. Harry H. Dadmun, of the 1916 Harvard football eleven, believes in preparedness, though actual gridiron hostilities are six months distant, the crimson tactician has reported to Henry Allen, university boxing instructor, with whom he will work out every day learning the fine points of the game and conditioning himself for next season.

Dadmun's normal height is 195 pounds. He now strips at 217. His first day's training consisted of bag punching, chest weight work and three fast rounds with Dave Desher, veteran lightweight, and Trainer Allen. Dadmun expects to continue his exercising stunts until the football season opens.

Several other Harvard captains have been good boxers, including Charles Erickley, Eddie Mahan and Bob Store.

PURDUE COMING BACK FOR RETURN MATCH

And the Lyceum Feds Are Working Nights Getting Ready.

The Lyceum Feds are getting set for a regular battle on the south side floor next Friday night when the Purdue crowd comes for a return engagement. The collegians found the local Irishmen a way off step the last time they were here but the Feds have gotten back into the running again and will make the visitors battle some. The Purdue Specials are a crowd of ineligible from the big university who are putting up a rattling good game, probably a better game than the varsity squad. They have been dropped from the varsity team because of ineligibility either through professional standing or scholarship and are making the best of their opportunities.

SHOP LEAGUE NOTES.

Thirty-six players will report to Manager O'Brien, of the Fort Wayne Electric works shop league team Saturday, April 6, when the local industrial boys will begin their spring practice. New uniforms have been ordered by the electric works crowd and will be here within a couple of weeks.

A meeting of the Fort Wayne shop league will be held at the office of President Mart Cleary Thursday night, and reports will be received on the score book advertising. Over half the space was sold in the first day out, and the boosters hope to sell the rest of it within another week. The book is the only method the boys have of making money, and as there are tens of thousands of them distributed the advertisers are grabbing for the publicity afforded and also to show their sympathy with the movement for good clean amateur ball in Fort Wayne.

The eight teams of the Industrial league probably will have new uniforms, for half of them already have ordered the new ones and the rest are planning to.

Secretary-Treasurer Ora Goff, of the Industrial league, has looked up in his safe the entrance fees and forfeit money of all six of the shop league teams.

The Pennsylvania baseball team will take an active part in shop league and independent ball this season. The team has been reorganized with a good strong lineup. The club will be composed of a few veterans and some promising youngsters. Al Ringle, a charter member of the shop league, has been elected manager and Harry Hamm secretary. The team will play shop league ball on Saturdays and is open for engagements with the strongest independent teams on Sundays and holidays.

Manager Ringle has at least three good pitchers who are well known locally, and one who is not so well known now but he will be before the season is very far advanced.

Tod Soliday, one of the best outfielders in the old shop league, has secured a position in the Pennsylvania shop and will make somebody step some to keep him off the team.

BUYS HOUSE FOR CLUB HOME. Terre Haute Y. M. I. Closes Deal for $12,000 Property.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 28.—Good Will council No. 277, of the Young Men's Institute, has bought for use as a club house the former home of John F. Brinkman. The consideration was $12,000. The Labor Temple association owns a lot in the same block and proposes to erect a building there, and the Masons will build a $80,000 temple in the same block. The Masons, I. O. O. F., Knights of Columbus and Y. M. I. all own property in the heart of the business district. The Brinkman residence is to be remodeled and ready for occupancy by the Y. M. I. by June 10.

BROTHER MANIACS WILL SOON BE OUT

Loonie, Gason and Art Are the Foolish Gents.

(By Harold Johnson.)

Brotherly love will be eliminated when the Chevrolet, Louis, Arthur and Gaston, take the wheels of their high powered Frontenac racing automobiles this season. This trio will make their debut as a racing team at Indianapolis in the 399 mile speed derby on Memorial day. Louis, the oldest of the three, expects to complete at least one and possibly two cars in his factory in Flint in time for the opening of the speed campaign May 13 at New York.

Louis Chevrolet's name has been prominent in American motor racing for seven years, his principal driving having been done in Buick and Fiat cars. He retired temporarily after the "bloody" Vanderbilt cup event of 1910.

Arthur Chevrolet has teamed with Louis in many races, doing most of his work in Buick machines. Gaston is the youngest of the brothers now in the United States. A fourth, Alfred, the oldest of the family, is still in France.

The Chevrolets are Franco-Swiss, natives of LaChaux de Fonds, Switzerland. When Louis was eight years old his parents moved to Berne, in the heart of Burgundy. Louis the first to turn to autos, working as a mechanic for American importers from the time he came to the United States in 1909 until 1903, when he joined the Fiat and started racing.

In 1905 Louis was mechanic to Henry in the grand prize at Savannah. Two years later he started making history with Bob Burman and George DeWitt on the Buick's big four.

Mattresses and pillows used in the United States navy will in the future be filled with kapok, a vegetable fibre which is light and buoyant.

She Blames Moon for 21 Proposals

"Chicago will look good to me when I get back," sighed Miss Helen Dow, a fair daughter of the Windy City, after she had landed safely in San Francisco the other day from a trip to Hawaii and the South Seas.

"There's something wrong with the moon over there," she complained. "Tourists after a time become moon struck. Everybody falls in love. I had 21 different chances to get married, or rather that many proposals, and the thing rather got on my nerves. My trip was intended as a cure from the distractions of city life, but between the moon and the seashore, I didn't rest much."

Washington, March 28.—Frank J. Marshall, of New York, chess champion of the United States, broke four world records recently in competing with 105 of Washington's best chess players.

The match was staged in the rooms of the National press club where the tables were arranged in two long lines stretching the length of three of the communicating rooms. Marshall passed rapidly from one table to another, keeping track of the 155 games with apparent ease. He won 82, lost 8 and drew 15 of the games. Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles was one of a number of prominent players.

The former world's record in the number of simultaneous games played was made by H. Fuhrn, a German, in Munich, in 1911, when he played 100 games simultaneously, winning 55, drawing 29 and losing six.

UTILIZED

FOR A COLD

CAMPFOR for colds is taken in this manner: A drop or two is placed on a lump of sugar, dropped into a small wine glass of water and a teaspoonful taken every two hours. This is also taken for a cold: For a sore throat a flannel cloth is saturated in hot strong camphor water and applied to the neck; it is renewed as soon as it becomes dry. Gargling the throat at frequent intervals with salt and water allays the inflammation of a sore throat.

ODDS ENDS

SACHETS are now given as bridge prizes, so that the hostess who possesses more of the virtue of hospitality than money may entertain correctly if only she has a large number of fresh-looking silk pieces at hand. Such little bags are of all sizes, as they are used to drop among the handkerchiefs, the neckwear, the gloves and the lingerie. They are mounted over little, fine white linen sacks which hold the powder, and their ends may be fringed and tied together or shirred into a sort of rose effect. Sachets are especially acceptable these days, when only vague suggestions of perfume are permissible.

IF you are in a quandary as to which color to choose for your tailored suit, you will be safe in making it blue. This color is represented by the popular tones known as corbeau—raven's wing—goldat, Russian, Belgian, China, midnight, navy, marine and Nattier. All tones of gray, from the palest dove to the deepest tone of dreadnought, are to be very smart for street or house wear. Field mouse, metal, stone and mist will be familiar names before the season has advanced much further, and also be used. Sage, cypress and moss are to be prominent among the greens, and sulphur yellow has also appeared again. There will be much purple worn, and many smart street suits of tete de negre or beige.

THIS little scrap box is decidedly clever, and a child could make one. A small square box was lined with blue tissue paper ruffled around the top. The box is placed on a pretty lace ruffled handkerchief, corner to corner. Two long pieces of ribbon are crossed and tacked to the outside bottom of the handkerchief, a strip being brought up on each side of the box to form double handles to hang it to the dresser. This forms four lace cornucopias at the ends of the box. Between each cornucopia make a ribbon rosette, and a tiny one on the bottom of the box where the ribbon is tacked. This is a very pretty ornament.

NO housewife likes to feel that the blankets on her bed are so shabby that she would be mortified to have an outsider see them. It will, therefore, sound pleasing to anyone owning a blanket which shows wear to hear of a way in which to utilize the cover. A coverlet for the crib or for the couch can be very easily made from the discarded blanket. Cut the blanket to the proper size. Buy enough silkoline to cover both sides of the decreased blanket. Select a dainty pink and green flower spray on a blue ground and use solid blue for the border. Pink or blue zephyr should be used for tufting the material together. If you want something more elaborate use real silk covered with a richly colored design. Lacking a child of your own, you can make the coverlet for some small relative or friend. The idea is too good to waste.

AT recent pathological congress in Paris it was brought out that the best cure for a bad-tempered husband is to fill him with carrots, while cabbage and cauliflower make people vulgar and stupid, says a writer. Editors, judges and other superior persons should eat potatoes, as they develop the reasoning faculties, but overindulgence will produce laziness. Green peas produce flirting propensities in girls who eat them, and altogether the subject proved an interesting one.

SOFA cushions filled with a stuffing largely composed of dried herbs of various kinds are now being sold as a cure for nerves. It is claimed that the sweet scents induce pleasant thoughts and that the sufferer, being freed from worry, falls quickly asleep, sleeps soundly and peacefully and so soon regains a normal nerve tone.

GUMBOILS are most painful and result generally from a decayed root of a tooth, which causes the inflammation and abscess that resolves itself into a gumboil. Foment the outside of the face with a hot camomile and poppy-head fomentation and apply a small white-bread and milk poultice to the gumboil. Renew frequently. So soon as the pain and swelling have disappeared, it is best to have the tooth removed. In cases where decayed and ulcerated roots have been allowed to remain, disease of the jawbone has resulted. Usually when the sufferer takes cold there will be a renewal of the inflammation, pain and annoyance.

THE many women who have objected to the daintily short skirt, but only since the advent of the high boot, so that now they complainly wear skirts that are a good eight inches from the ground, and it must be confessed that not only are they most comfortable, but decidedly youthful looking, which is an advantage that is not to be lightly set aside. But what is milady of the modest mien to do for evening? She is so wedded now to the abbreviated skirt and its charms that for evening she will desire to wear lacy affairs that are quite as short, and what is bothering her more is that they appear so much shorter with the dainty evening slippers. She was really in despair until some ingenious person originated two lace ruffles that are to be attached to the silken stockings. With a scalloped skirt and dark slippers there is a quaint appeal that takes one back to the pictures of grandmother when grandfather was courting her.

THE KITCHEN

Stuffed Potatoes With Cheese.

Bake until soft five or six medium-sized potatoes, and with a sharp knife cut directly in halves, carefully removing the cooked potato into a bowl. Mash until free from lumps, then add one small cup grated cheese and salt and pepper to taste. Beat with a fork until light and creamy and heap into the potato skins, dusting the top with grated cheese and return to the oven until crisp and brown on top.

Salad Dressing.

One tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon flour, one teaspoon of salt, small tablespoon of dry mustard, two tablespoons of best olive oil, three eggs, one cup milk, three-quarter cup (scant) of vinegar. Add the oil to the dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Add egg and beat well, add milk and vinegar very slowly. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thick and smooth.

Prune Pie.

Half pound prunes, half cup sugar (scant), one tablespoon lemon juice, one and a half teaspoons butter, one tablespoon flour. Wash prunes and cook in enough cold water to cover. Cook in same water until soft. Remove stones, cut prunes in quarters and mix with sugar and lemon juice. Reduce liquor to one and a half tablespoons. Line plate with paste, cover with prunes, pour over liquor, dot over with butter, and dredge with flour. Put on an upper crust and bake in a moderate oven.

Ham Cakes.

Take pieces of boiled ham or smoked shoulder and chop fine. Boil potatoes and mash or use cold potatoes and chop. Take two-thirds of potatoes to one-third meat. Add one or two eggs (beaten), enough to make it the right consistency to shape into round, flat cakes. If too moist add a little flour. Fry in hot fat after dredging them with flour. Should be seasoned to suit taste with salt and pepper. Fish cakes made in the same way are very nice. This is a good way to use up pieces of meat or fish.

Egg Salad.

Two dozen hard-boiled eggs, pour over following dressing: Two eggs beaten very light, sugar to taste, one-half cup vinegar. Put all on stove, stir constantly from first putting on stove until cooked. Remove from stove, add one teaspoon prepared mustard and small lump butter; let cool and add half cup sweet cream. Do not stir constantly while on stove it will curdle.

Eggs With Onion Sauce.

Rub through a coarse sieve enough mild-flavored cooked onions to make one cup. Melt two tablespoons of butter, blend in one and a half tablespoons of flour, then add half a cup of cream and the prepared onion, and stir until perfectly smooth. Season with pepper and salt, cook over boiling water for five minutes, add the beaten yolks of two eggs, cook a minute longer, then add four hard-boiled eggs cut in slices, and sprinkle with one teaspoon of chopped parsley before serving.

Oyster Fritters.

Make a thin paste or batter. For half dozen oysters use their own liquor and an equal quantity of sweet milk, one well-beaten egg, one-quarter teaspoon table salt and about three tablespoons of flour.

Chop the oysters, mix with the batter and fry by dropping the mixture, by the teaspoon, in hot pork fat, lard or butter (fried in mixed fat, half lard and half butter, will improve the oyster flavor), or the whole oysters may be dipped in the batter singly and batter to make a medium large spoonful. Turn so that each side will be a light-brown color, but they require comparatively little cooking.

"LOVE IN A COTTAGE"

BY EDNA EGAN.

THE great trouble with middle-class Americans," said the young matron, is that we judge each other altogether too much by our outward show, and we try too hard to live up to a standard that somebody else sets for us. Now in the matter of houses one is judged by the size of one's house. The bigger the house the more respectable its owner, even if it breaks his poor wife's back.

"We had the same standard in our family. We lived in a great big draughty house in the home village—never could heat it in winter, and we had more rooms than we ever used—but they had to be kept in order, because one never knew when company would come or when one might be taken sick and the village gossips get a chance to swoop around.

"When we moved to the city we always managed to rent the biggest house we could find, within our means. Mother thought it necessary to keep up our social status. Poor mother—she's always been a slave to a big house.

"When Bob and I were engaged and Bob began talking about building our home, mother got busy right away. I wanted just a little bungalow, but mother and Bob got their heads together, with the result that we had this mansion on our hands when we came home from our wedding journey.

Mamma fussed herself sick getting it in apple-pie order for our home-coming, and the way she has bragged about this house to everybody she knows and we know is something awful. She likes Bob, but I honestly believe it's the house that she loves.

"Well, this place means two maids and a man for the outdoor work. Even then it keeps me busy seeing to things. And somehow Bob and I never have seemed to get close together here. I did so want a homey home.

"Mother thought it was just an eccentricity of mine. But we were so happy in the little cottage that Bob and I have decided to sell the big house and build a bit of a bungalow on a wide lot, where we can have plenty of outdoors to live in and not so much house to take care of. We'll have a woman come in to do the heavy work and send most of our washing is cooling and healing. In aggravated cases, after applying the latter for two or three nights change to the vaseline treatment, and then, having reclaimed the lips so they have assumed their original smoothness and firmness, keep them in good condition by drying them properly and by keeping the tongue away from them.

AN excellent hair wash is to take one ounce of borax and one ounce of powdered camphor and dissolve in a pint of boiling water, added to cold water in a bowl. The camphor will form into lumps, but a sufficient amount will dissolve. This will strengthen the hair and preserve the color.

TO make thin cheeks plump rub skin food in with the following movements: To treat the right cheek place the thumb of the left hand just beyond the corner of the mouth on the left cheek as a brace. Make rotary movements upward and outward, beginning at the corner of the mouth and making three diverging lines of manipulation over the cheek. With the right hand treat the left cheek. About six times over each cheek is sufficient.

NATURE has made the eyes as bright as she intended them to be, and if we try to increase their brilliancy by an artificial method we may impair the sight, says a writer. Let them have all the rest they require. Do not strain them by reading when lying down or when sitting in a poor light. Bathe them frequently in cold water and once in a while give them an extra bath with a teaspoonful of boracic acid dissolved in a teaspoonful of distilled water. An eye cup which you may purchase at a drug store for 10 or 15 cents is the best method of bathing the eyes. Cold water strengthens and brightens the eyes wonderfully and children should be taught the habit of bathing them once or twice daily.

THE little white crescents at the base of the finger nails can often be developed by daily soaking the fingers in warm, soapy water and gently pressing the soft cuticle with an orangewood stick. Trim off any rough particles of cuticle but do not cut any oftener than is really necessary. By daily care as directed above the growth of the cuticle will be slow. A little grease rubbed on the nails at night will also help to keep the cuticle from splitting.

AN excellent lip salve for ordinary use is the old-fashioned camphor ice. Glycerin should not be used in any case. It has too great an affinity for water and is too drying, while the camphor ice to the laundry, and we won't have any rooms in that house except the ones we live in.

FASHIONDOM

BY MRS. KINGSLEY.

WHEN the tale of this spring's tailleur comes to be written one chapter will be headed "Taffeta." First editions of spring modes reveal taffeta as a prominent character in the style story. And there is ground for assuming that later editions may disclose this fabric as the character around which tailleur modes revolve.

The crispness of this material lends itself to achievement of the approved silhouette for spring. Dressy tailleurs, those frocks intended for afternoon wear, must follow a line of conduct that prescribes flaring skirts and flaring coats. Taffeta gathered or circular-cut, gives a skirt as bouffant an effect as any one might wish. As for coats—taffeta can be relied upon to put the desired measures of "pep" in any pelum.

Narrow tucks and stitching are two forms of embellishment favored in the fashioning of the spring tailleur of taffeta. Some very attractive models have skirts with lower edges finished, hem-deep, with tiny tucks placed in almost overlapping position. Stitching is employed to accentuate lines of modeling, but in this, fashion prescribes that only self color thread shall be used.

A Russian Tunic Blouse. Among the new blouses is a most alluring model called "The tunic." Of course it is Russian in type and its important feature is an extension below the waist line, which gives the long, Russian tunic effect. This extension is either gathered or circular and falls from a trim belt to midway between hip and knee. Worn over a separate skirt of harmonizing material the new Russian blouse gives the effect of a complete costume. The idea is a practical one, for any woman can furnish the simple, well-cut skirt and purchase one of these smart blouses to complete a really stunning new frock.

In some of the smartest new waist models color is combined with white either in the fabric itself or by the use of different materials, such as sheer crepe and taffeta or crepe and wash satin.

MILADY'S BEAUTY

BY MRS. McCUNE.

FOR the benefit of guests who are invited to wedding anniversaries a few suitable gifts are suggested. Cotton gifts for the first year are none too numerous. For instance, the dainty guest bags filled with small cotton pads for powdering the nose make pretty and appropriate gifts. Anything in cotton taweling or cloths for the kitchen would be appropriate. A little stand to hold spools of thread can be fitted out with cotton spools and will make an acceptable gift.

The paper wedding is even more difficult to match in gifts. Pretty calendars come under the head of paper, as do attractive blotters. Sets of paper dollies for the cake or bread basket are acceptable gifts.

The leather wedding, on the third anniversary, brings a load of useful things. Leather pillows, leather covered books, blotters; leather scarfs for table or mantlepiece. Or a handsome gift, a suitcase, a traveling bag or a good-looking purse would be beautiful and welcome presents.

The fourth year of marital bliss is called the fruit and flower year, and of course, lends itself easily to decoration and gifts.

The wooden wedding, coming on the fifth anniversary of the wedding ceremony, is perhaps more often celebrated than any other. Beginning with this anniversary, it is the custom for the bride to make some sort of a stipulation against very expensive gifts. As wood covers all sorts of furniture, it is only kind for the bride to state in her invitation that only presents brought by the guests themselves will be accepted. Attractive wooden gifts can be found in picture frames, book stands, carved wooden fans, etc.

The sixth wedding anniversary is sugar. The seventh, woolen, the eighth India rubber, the ninth willow, but these are seldom celebrated, the tenth, or tin, being next on the list. This needs no suggestions, as half the kitchen utensils come under the head of tin.

The eleventh anniversary is steel, the twelfth silk and fine linen, the thirteenth lace, the fourteenth ivory, the fifteenth crystal and the twentieth china.

With the silver wedding it is customary for the hostess to add to her invitations, "No gifts will be accepted." This seldom hinders the guests from bringing some present, but it makes it easy for those whose purses are limited.

Indications Are However That the Acreage Will Be as Usual.

From reliable sources comes the information that the wheat crop of Allen and surrounding counties will only be one-third normal since only about that portion of the usual amount was sowed last fall. Reports are to the effect that the wheat which was sowed in time last fall has withstood the weather this winter and the bushels per acre will be nearly normal. County Agent C. Henry states that some of the fields in the county are in excellent condition while others are fair.

The farmers experienced some very bad weather last fall so that they were unable to work the ground. The same trouble has come back to them this spring and unless the sun comes out strong this week nothing will be done in the way of preparing the oats ground until next week.

As soon as the condition of the ground is favorable, however, the farmers will be busy and in a week's time the greatest portion of the oats seed will be in the ground. Farmers have come to realize that by discing the ground instead of plowing it brings better results and also saves much time.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 29—Wheat made a fresh advance today, owing to reports of heavy damage to the winter crop and because of unfavorable weather in the spring crop belt. At first however, the market underwent a temporary setback as a result of lower quotations from Liverpool, where supplies were said to be increasing despite Germany's submarine campaign. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4c to 3/4c down, with May at $1.12 1/2 to $1.12 3/4 and July at $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 3/4, were followed by a rise to more than one cent above yesterday's finish.
The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4c lower, with May at $1.12 1/2 and July at $1.10 1/4.
Liberal receipts and the prospect of a further increase of visible supply total had a depressing influence on corn. Rallies in sympathy with wheat were not maintained. After opening 1/4c to 3/4c lower, the market scored slight gains but then relapsed.
The close was nervous at 1/4c to 3/4c decline.
Oats swayed with corn. Changes, though, were narrow.
Lower prices on hogs carried down provisions. Not much power to recover was shown.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 29—Coppers, Motors and some of the war issues were the features of today's early trading at gains ranging from fractions to a point. Initial dealings in Kennecott, Shattuck-Arizona, Reading and Erie comprised individual lots of 1,000 to 1,500 shares, the rails showing slight recessions. United States Steel was unchanged at the outset but substantially made slight headway, while Crucible Steel forfeited all of its rise. Speculation, with few exceptions, made further improvement later.
Activity increased in the first hour but trading was restricted to Marine preferred, Crucible, American Locomotive, Anaconda and Goodrich, while United States Steel and other car shares fell into comparative obscurity. Steel was strong, however, rising 1/4c to 8 1/2¢ before the partial reversal of the second hour. Reading was the only rail to manifest more than ordinary activity, but was under pressure, as were Union Pacific and Erie. Anglo-French was active and strong. Other bonds were steady.
Rails and United States Steel fell to lowest prices in the final hour, with recessions in most other quarters. The closing was heavy.

FORT WAYNE TO COPY DAYTON WELFARE PLAN

Mrs. Nesbit Will Return in April to Supervise the Work.

Fort Wayne will have a welfare department patterned after Dayton's, if Mrs. Josephine L. Nesbitt, well known worker for beautification of home grounds, who delivered a series of lectures here recently, is a true prophet.

Mrs. Nesbitt will return to Fort Wayne about the middle of April to take charge of a city-wide movement for improving landscape and sanitary aspects of home grounds. Her belief is that success of the summer's work will mean a permanent welfare department in this city.

"When I accepted the work at Fort Wayne I said that I believed it would be the beginning of a permanent welfare department for the city," said Mrs. Nesbitt on a recent visit to Dayton. "Later I addressed the chamber of commerce, the park board and the board of health. They were much interested in my first-hand account of Dayton's government, especially as to the welfare department. I believe they agreed with me that the work just begun in Fort Wayne may develop into a city department. They stated, however, that under Indiana laws it would probably be necessary to go to the legislature for authority to establish such work."

Plans in this city include a city-wide contest in beautification and sanitation of home grounds. Condition of alleys will be covered, and mosquito-breeding puddles will have to be eliminated by would-be prize-winners. Special emphasis will be placed on the three principles of landscape gardening, with which President Patterson, of the National Cash

Register company, has familiarized Daytonians.

Four years ago Mrs. Nesbitt was a quiet country woman who did a little writing for the farm papers and who was inspired with a great idea by hearing the National Cash Register lecture on landscape gardening. She secured co-operation of the Dayton factory and of the people around the little village of North Hampton near Springfield, where she lives. Together they worked out a plan by which girls of the neighborhood were helped to improve their home surroundings. Later she did similar work for the state.

In coming to Fort Wayne, Mrs. Nesbitt believes that she has the opportunity to work out an efficient plan which may develop into a unique and permanent department. The summer's work is under auspices of the chamber of commerce, park board and board of health. It is owing to the board of health that sanitary conditions will be included in scoring for prizes. Whether to adopt subdivisions of the city in establishing districts for the work or to draw new lines is a question which has not been decided in connection with the work at Fort Wayne.

PUTS BLAME ON HIS DUAL PERSONALITY

Dr. Waite's Confession is a New Edition of Jekyll-Hyde.

New York, March 29.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite confessed late yesterday afternoon that he killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hannah Peck, with disease germs and murdered his father-in-law, John E. Peck, with arsenic.

In making the confession he laid the groundwork for his defense on the plea of mental irresponsibility. He attributed two natures to himself—a good and an evil one—and said that the evil nature, a stranger to his real self, dominated him when he committed the crimes.

Interview is Related.

The essential part of the dentist's confession was made to District Attorney Swann and Assistant District Attorneys Mancuso and Brothers in the presence of former Assistant Attorney Walter R. Deuel, who has been engaged as counsel for Dr. Waite.

The lawyers walked into the private room of the alcoholic ward, to which Dr. Waite had been removed, and found the man lying on a bed rubbing his hand across his forehead, seemingly in a shaken and uncertain condition.

Cannot Remember Swann.

"Dr. Waite," said Mr. Deuel, "here is District Attorney Swann, to whom you talked last Friday. Do you want to make a statement to him?"

The dentist looked at Mr. Swann in a dazed manner, passed his hand over his eyes and showed no trace of remembering the district attorney, to whom he made a lengthy statement in which he admitted buying arsenic so that Mr. Peck might commit suicide.

"I don't remember," he murmured. "Don't you remember me?" asked Mr. Brothers. "You talked to me last Friday."

"Did I?" asked Dr. Waite. There was a moment's pause before Dr. Waite spoke again.

Admits Two Murders.

"Oh, but that doesn't matter," he said; "it's all over now. I did it all. I killed Mrs. Peck and Mr. Peck. The man from Egypt made me do it. He was after me for a long time. I couldn't shake him off. I wasn't able to get rid of him until last night."

"He's gone now, but I couldn't get away from him for a long time. I don't know what his name was. I asked him and he didn't tell me. I was afraid of him. I told Clara about him."

By "Clara" Dr. Waite meant his wife, who now is in Grand Rapids.
